Poly Pays Tribute To American Legion

Assembly on November 9
Very Appropriate for Armistice Day.

The assembly on November 9 was in reverence to Armistice Day. The period was turned over to Mr. McFarland, who is chief commander of American Legion Post No. 67, San Luis Obispo. Mr. McFarland then called all the family members who are conspicuous men on up in the city, where they were seated at the front of the hall. Those who served in war were, Messrs. J. H. Hall, W. Q. Smith, J. J. Hyer, A. P. Aguilar, C. E. Scott, and L. K. McFarland. Eleanor Warren, Capt. J. E. Jones, who is-height, and Charles Pink.

Julia Hanna, told the student body the proper way to salute the flag, how to fold it properly. The flag, which touching its rim to the face of the earth. The Poly Orchestra then played the National Hymn.

Mr. McFarland then introduced Hon. Assemblyman, Chris N. Jesperson, who gave a very Interesting and entertaining talk on "What Does Armistice Day Mean to Us Today?"

In the course of his speech, Mr. Jesperson stated there were three main factors to be considered—American Ideals, American Institution, and American Ideals.

The forces traveling under the Russian Revolution, there was no mention of them in its path, and bring misery to thousands. Women, as mothers, will be important to American society. They will strive on Ignorance, as disease thrives on ignorance of its cause. The many selections they played, and the Poly students were prominent in the line of march.

Mr. L. K. McFarland, commander of the American Legion Post No. 67, expressed the opinion of the assembly. He said they all knew the great work done by those who attended the celebration.

The parade showed many beautiful floats and marching units. It was well attended by the people of tomorrow, and if the peace treaty is to be kept.

The many thrilling airplane exhibitions with parachute drops from swiftly moving planes, controlled by Mr. Wilson and daughter of San Luis Obispo, was especially interesting. The color guard and the Poly Band paraded in Santa Maria.

Poly Band Parades On Armistice Day

Poly's 42 Piece Band First In Line of March at Santa Maria.

Poly's representative at the Armistice Parade in Santa Maria was its 42 piece band and color guard.

"The many selections they played under the able leadership of Harry L. Smith were widely praised by those who attended the celebration.

There were fifty-two entries in the line of march. Poly had the third position in the first division, being the first band in the line of march.

At thePoly Band played for the football game between Poly and the Stock Improvement.

Poly Alumni Praise President Crandall

At the Homemaking banquet held at the Hotel Andrews, Saturday evening, November 9, the following resolution, presented by Geo. W. Wilson and Herbert Cox, both of Los Angeles, in behalf of the Southern California Alumni members, who are performing an organization of former Poly students there, was read by Chester Davies, master of the banquet:

WHEREAS, we, the former students of California Polytechnic, in meeting assembled, and South California, realizing that Dr. Ben R. Crandall has labored unselfishly for the upbuilding and development of this University:

WHEREAS: As California Polytechnic has grown and prospered to a greater degree than ever before under his guidance and has taken its proper place in the public school system of our state:

NOW THEREFORE be it resolved that we take this means of expressing our appreciation of the work he has done in the upbuilding of California Polytechnic, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED these resolutions be placed upon permanent records and that a copy be properly signed and presented to Dr. Crandall at the next Annual Homecoming banquet.

Dated Los Angeles, Nov. 9.

Many interesting talks on the past, present, and future of the school were given by students, alumni, and members of the faculty.

Following the banquet, a dance and reception was given at the Civic Auditorium by the Poly Student Body. On the receiving line at the reception were Dr. Ben R. Crandall, Coach and Mrs. A. P. Agnew; Fred Thayer, both of the college division; Paul Williams, senior president; Morey, president; and the Poly Band represented the school publications.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Brave and high-souled Pilgrims, you who knew no fears.
How your words of thankfulness go ringing down the years.
And with hearts of thankfulness keep Thanksgiving Day.

U. C. Helps Dalry Class In Stock Improvement

A good example of the fact that the University of California has an interest in The California Polytechnic is the fact that they have leased a farm to our agriculture department. This is part of the work in the dairy stock improvement. Each herder must be raised and milked for one year by the students who take dairy stock. This has to be done before the cow can be sold in order to see if she is an improvement over her mother.

Mr. A. J. Hathorne, head of the Department of Agriculture explained that "The California Polytechnic was given the privilege of borrowing the bull from the University of California because they know of the fine treatment which we are giving to the last bull."

Lest We Forget

NINE years ago, on November 11, 1918 at 11 o'clock, firing on the front line trenches in France and Germany ceased, an armistice was signed which meant the ending of a four years' war. Then do you remember how proud we were of our big brothers and friends as they paraded the streets and that secret joy we had whenever we were lucky enough to have the honor of walking beside one of the overseas soldiers? Also do you remember those cold chills that ran up and down your spine as you sat and listened to the music and exciting experience our heroes went through it in their way?

We will never forget; and never will we forget to honor them on the anniversary of that memorable day.

Armistice Day is set aside to honor those boys who fought and died for our United States. Just one question is asked: Did you do your duty last Friday and show due reverence to our American Legion?

A Turkey Disaster

When we speak of Thanksgiving it brings to the minds of some people pictures of our Patriarch ancestors; how they mingled with the friendly Indians, shot wild turkeys, huskied their pumpkins, corn, cranberries and other niceties together for their big friend, getting away before the hoard of Indians and White Man after all the crops had been gathered and preparations made for the winter. It was as the name implies, a time of giving thanks to our Lord.

To the minds of the Poly dormitory students, when he is speaking of Thanksgiving, flashes the scene of his long anticipated trip home and that big Turkey dinner with his feet shoved once more under his Mother's table while he eats his Mother's cooking. There is just one thing to bear in mind though, fellow students, and it also applies to the faculty, school repeaters again on Monday morning at 8:15, so use your own judgment and make it easy upon yourself.

The Big Block "P" On Hill Gets New Dress

"Trump, trump, trumpe, the boys go marching," might have been the song sung by the eight boys who paraded with the aid of old Baldy to carry the time, trudging wearily up the line. A week ago this was the books of things, these eight boys certainly kept the boys in top form.

In attendance were: Billy Swain, George Ruiz, Karl Pennington, John Pimentel, Nate Nielson, Harry Borah, Jack Boudette and RFaylo Baldwin.

What stamps a man as great is not his success, but his failures, but abundance of power.

By Mrs. Lila's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lila, George Ruiz arrived last week from the front. Mr. Ruiz, Michigan to visit the girls. The Gates have been met and his welcome extended to the former southern home.

The Walter Smith's improved the holiday moments by moving into their new home. They have made Mr. Lila Pimentel's pleasant home.

Amongst the last year's students back for Homecoming was Charles Carpenter, who is working in the factory in Los Angeles. Charles hopes to remove to Poly after Christmas.

Two future Polytypes, George and Albert Blackburn have just completed their work and are to leave poly on Saturday.

What's new and other expressions of the Walter Smith's Home, one of the West's handsomest, far falls well. It seems to be a wonder way and a hot named Peabody may be the lucky one.

Dorm Doings

George Van Wyhe and Lloyd Brown, both of the Poly dormitories, tell us that they are about to do their dorm daily dozen while they are also trying to accomplish the assigned physics. We hope Parley and Terrell won't feel hurt if the platter falls.

From what we have been able to make out, it seems Al Hedden and some of his friends were out for a dorm football game. Unfortunately, it went out in the road and Al failed to mass the first team.

Albert Blackburn has just simply fallen in love with California. Cal Poly football, he says, was the most delicious meals. In fact he had decided not to go home Thanksgiving. Next year he won't even go home Christmas.

There has been a great deal of close friendship between John Chase and Herman Smith. It seems the former is always there, no matter what.

Now Hall-Pitt you might know that you can't hold a tray on your hand and not let another game go by without seeing your supper?

It was the ill fate of Vinton Webster to suffer a broken ankle, due to the result of our games with Santa Maria last week. He has called to speak with you Webster, old man, and wish for you the quickest recovery possible.

Wednesday afternoon, November 7, Joe Hanson, representing the Poly, challenged the town fellows to the annual Town-Dorm classic. George Jolly accepted for the Town. Now, we want to know the date.

Doesn't it seem wholesome around school without the fire and Tom and Ham?

The Dorm football team has made successful progress in various ways and looks forward to the game with the Poly this week. The manager of the team, has challenged the Poly to a date for the game will be stated later.

HARRACKS BREEZES

Ask them to bring Korts how he got his teeth fixed.

All the boys seemed very pleased the other day when they stepped into their classrooms and beheld their windows, wardrobes and shelves. The reason? Why, Thimbles.

Charles Cameron of Berkeley, Cal., has chosen the Harracks as his home. He is quite well known to the boys as Heaky or Patty.

It seems that the boys of the Barracks did their best to🚛 towards the getting of the wood for the bonfire.

Gerra Kerts left for his home in the valley last Thursday night. From what we hear, he seems to have had a fine time while home.

Audi Notes

The Aud is without a cat now, which is a pretty big loss. The Cat has grown into a very bad behaved, Beware, boys.

The Sacramento football team, and friends numbering 33, were guests of the Civie Aud. Thursday evening. Home Aud was filled to 11 o'clock as there seemed to be many more for dinner, the driver at the Hotel having taken them to the Dorm.

Ah! Who says it doesn't pay to have company? The boys would enjoy having the Poly football team over to their dorm some week-end. Chicken, and all that goes with it, sure does slide easy down, eh?

Carl Kuhn, a former Aud boy, is with Rennebo Field, studying to be an aviator.

Mr. and Mrs. McGrew were in a plight to use the Aud on Sunday. While the War was raging he and his wife were away from the Aud, although he hated having company at Home as the company did not blend in with the meals and in the games.

Stricker now brings a wicked bronch as he is the Aud's new janitor.

A hard on Air Meet

On Saturday night, at 11:30 P.M., at Clover Field, the last show of the year was held. The air was perfect and the crowd was enthusiastic.

The show started with a basket-ball game, followed by the usual games of the day. The audience was enthusiastic and the performers did their best to please the crowd.

There were also some interesting air shows, including a parachute jump and a stunt by a pilot who did some fancy flying. The audience was thrilled with the performance and the show ended with a grand finale.

Do You Remember

The Good Old Days

When niter acid or silver nitrate was used in initiating the "Frost"?

When, on account of the length of the ladies skirts, no Janitor was needed?

When boys were not wearing uniforms in C.P.R.—and teachers didn'tollen uniform passes?

When hay rides were considered the ideal sport?

When most of the girls wore bloomers and the boys were mother's nuns—behind a roll of long, long hair?

When the school was so little that all the power was in a single shop?

When every night was "open night" at the dormitory?

When the faculty rode a horse to get his "peg bottom" on (or off)?

A Grand & Glorious Feeling.

Hurray! Cal Poly! Hale fly up in the air, down they come! There were shrieks, and yells, and deafening hand claps; tiny suitcases stood packed on the doorways with bundles and packages of laundry and peering for darling mother to do.

Such happy boys, for they are going home Wednesday afternoon for 4 days vacation to be with their sweethearts and parents and eat that good old fat goldd with cranberry sauce and dressing and all the goodness that go with it. And won't it be a grand and glorious feeling to have mother ask you if you won't have another drumstick and keep refilling your plate each time you empty it.

Your heart, undoubtedly, will also be satisfied with the Christmas Gifts that the Poly is offering this year. We have the very best of them, and you'll find them here, at the Poly.

Homecoming Week-end

Proves Successful Affair

On Saturday afternoon, Nov. 8, the ground for the Homecoming Week-end was officially broken, the ceremonies being in charge of Miss Harper's Class. The band played several appropriate numbers before Mr. Crandall turned over the first spade of dirt, although he did turn a second spade, "to see if it was done right." The presidents of the various divisions of the classes gave a few words appropriate for the occasion. Prof. Graves, spoke for the Junior College division, Earl Williams, for the freshman, Norman Wade, for the Junior-Frank Abbott, for the Sopho­more, and vice-president, Bob Jeffries, spoke for the Freshmen.

After this ceremony, the Mustang herd responded by carrying off a score of $3 to 12 from the Santa Clara Roadrunners.

The alumni banquet held at the Andrews Hotel on Saturday evening at 8:00 P.M. proved a delightful The Homecoming Dance, held at the Civic Auditorium, Saturday night, November 9, was one of the best dances given this year, and the best attended. The floor was full before the "alumni banqueters" arrived from the hotel some time after 9:00 P.M.

Every other dance on this regular program was for the alumni, and the Nite Hawks as well as the committees (listed in the Polygram of November 4), did much in making them feel welcome.

Music and decorations carried out the Poly colors green and orange. Other colors were effectively combined with those of the school in the artistic color scheme.

Friday night at 11:15, the faculty and students of the California Polytechnic assembled in front of the Civic Auditorium before parading downtown. Several alumni joined the throng. Poly's band led the parade through town where a serpentine was held in the city's biggest parade ever seen.

In the high school music from the Poly-Y Triangles as well as the Poly-Y Greens accompanied the band. All the schools of the Pacific Coast region supplied for that class.

Senior Associations of the class of 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1921, and 1922, gathered together at the Poly-Y. It was a part of the Poly-Y faculty circle, and the faculty of the Poly-Y Clarke. At Boarding in the Poly-Y.

A Centrum led several peppy yells.

This fifth Homecoming proved a very great and decided success for both the returned Alumni and the present students.

The pictures shown in this article were taken by Lynn Broughton, Poly Alumni of the class of 1920, and now a law personal appearance of the International Symbol, the Poly-Y. The Campus Service Department is luckier than usual this week. Some of the faculty and students of the campus. Karl Williams: Do you travel much in that old River of ours?
Pablo: Oh, no. I went one day when we were in Texas.
Karl: Yes, I've been there. Have you ever been to California?
Pablo: No, I was there once. But I think it's beautiful there.

Mr. Hull: I didn't see you.

Miss Jordan: After long search!

Aunt Judy: I know, but I think it's beautiful there.

Mr. Pringle: Dr. Crandall, do you have any trouble with "shall and "will"?
Dr. Crandall: No, my wife says you should and I say I will.
