DIRECTORY

The Directory Section is a continuing feature of E&A. It is a source of information on groups and periodicals concerned with ethical questions about the treatment of nonhumans. The groups and periodicals themselves provide the information, subject to space limitations and minor editing by the E&A staff. The policy of the Directory is one of maximum inclusiveness, i.e., a submitted entry will be included unless it is wholly irrelevant, manifestly libellous, or clearly pornographic. It is hoped that local, state, provincial, regional, national and international groups of all sorts will submit listings. To obtain a listing form for your organization, or to recommend that another group be listed, contact the SSEA office.

ORGANIZATIONS

CHAI
Concern for Helping Animals in Israel

P. O. Box 3341
Alexandria, Virginia 22302

CHAI is a non-profit organization established to assist animal welfare efforts in Israel.

Financial assistance is urgently needed to:

• assist the Israeli animal welfare community to expand and modernize the few existing animal shelters in Israel and build shelters in areas where there are none, to prevent suffering caused by overpopulation of stray cats and dogs and to ensure that sick, injured, or unwanted animals can be euthanized in a humane manner.
• provide needed medical equipment and supplies. Injections to euthanize animals humanely cost more than $10 each in Israel vs. about $0.20 in the U. S.
• provide funds to enable the shelters to hire personnel to conduct routine inspections of the horses, donkeys, and mules used by food vendors to ensure that these animals are being cared for properly.
• make humane education materials available, including films and slide shows, for translation and use in schools to promote positive attitudes toward animals in Israeli children and to encourage them to take part in in animal protection efforts.

Chai is the Hebrew word for life. The Jewish religion has a beautiful tradition of compassion for animals. Please help us bring that tradition to life for the animals' and peoples' sake.

Membership rates: Individual $10, Family $18, Supporter $50, Sponsor $100, Patron $500. For more information write to the address above or call (703) 820-1742.
Friends of Francis
R. R. 2, Box 151-A
Princeville, Illinois 61559

Friends of Francis began in 1981 as a small group of citizens who were concerned about animal suffering and abuse. Since then we have grown and are now involved in all areas of animal rights, addressing such national issues as pet overpopulation, hunting and trapping, marine mammals, laboratory animals, wildlife management, destruction of habitat, etc., through a vigorous campaign of letter writing and public education. On the local level, we continue our educational program by visiting schools, sending out spay/neuter information and keeping animal issues before the public via letters to the editor and media advertisements. We are constantly seeking new members who are committed to the protection of animal rights. It is amazing what can be done with a very small amount of money and a large amount of dedication!

Annual membership dues are $7.00. For more information write to the address above.

H.A.R.E.
Humans Against Rabbit Exploitation
P. O. Box 1351
State College, Pennsylvania 16804

H.A.R.E. is an international coalition of animal protection organizations, formed and coordinated by Trans-Species Unlimited, a national animal rights group based in State College. H.A.R.E. is the only organization in world devoted exclusively to the protection of rabbits, and includes member groups in the U.S., Canada, and Australia.

H.A.R.E. shares offices with, and is funded by, Trans-Species Unlimited. Donations may be specifically designated for H.A.R.E. projects.

H.A.R.E. is concerned with all aspects of rabbit abuse and exploitation, including cosmetic and product testing, laboratory experimentation, and fur production, but focuses primarily on the meat production industry, as this is the key to the success of the rabbit industry as a whole.

Since its formation in 1982, H.A.R.E. has brought major media attention to the issue of commercial rabbit breeding, including three national and two international AP wire service stories, which appeared in newspapers as far away as Munich, Athens, and Darby, Australia; national syndicated radio coverage; national prime time TV coverage; and coverage on the Paul Harvey Commentary and the editorial page of the Washington Post over a three week period.
H.A.R.E.'s activities have included:

- protests of the Penn State Rabbit Conference, including attendance in rabbit suits, and protests of American Rabbit Breeders Association conventions in Seattle and Colorado Springs.
- thorough research and detailed monitoring of the rabbit industry.
- publication of the most detailed, up-to-date, documented reports on rabbit exploitation available anywhere.
- participation in numerous talk shows, TV interviews, personal appearances, and conferences and work shops on rabbit issues.
- mounting of an international campaign to block introduction of intensive confinement rabbitries to Australia.

Organizations joining the H.A.R.E. coalition, which entails no obligations other than endorsement of the aims, purposes, and principles outlined here, receive H.A.R.E. mailings free of charge. All individuals who are members of Trans-Species Unlimited ($10 per year) are included on the H.A.R.E. mailing list on request.

H.A.R.E. plans to hold its first International Planning Conference sometime within the next year to forge a more cohesive, united international campaign against commercial rabbit breeding. For information on this and other H.A.R.E. projects contact Dana Marie Stuchell, General Coordinator, at the address or above, or telephone (814) 238-0793

Human/Animal Liberation Front

Earl Hall
Columbia University
New York, New York 10027

The primary purpose of Human/Animal Liberation Front is to make the world (more specifically the Columbia University community) more aware of the present exploitation of all animal species including human beings. In addition to this, we hope to make obvious the connection of the animal rights movement with human rights movements and in doing so to create an awareness that other animals (just like humans) have the ability to suffer and that unnecessary suffering (whether human or animal) is ethically wrong.

To accomplish these goals we will publish a newsletter that will contain essays and commentary on animal/human rights issues. In addition to this, we will sponsor speaking events where leaders of other human/animal rights groups will present lectures (often accompanied by films). At these events we will make available literature (all too difficult to come by) on human/animal liberation issues.

We believe that our organization is necessary (given the general state of ignorance concerning animal rights) and important in making the impossibility of human liberation with animal liberation evident to all.
SUPPRESS
(Student United Protesting Painful Research Experiments on Sentient Subjects)

P. O. Box 1062
Pasadena, California 91102

SUPPRESS is a non-profit organization. Donations are accepted but no membership fee is required. SUPPRESS seeks the total abolition of animal experimentation not only on self-evident moral grounds but on scientific grounds. SUPPRESS seeks to inform the American public about the fraud connected with animal research and also to expose the incredible atrocities perpetrated on animals in the name of "science." There is overwhelming evidence which shows that animal research is responsible for never ending damage to human health. SUPPRESS distributes the books Slaughter of the Innocent and Naked Empress by Hans Ruesch. These are the best books ever written on the subject. Also we are putting together a 30-minute video which depicts animal experimentation and its devastating consequences for both humans and nonhumans. A charter for students is also available.

Founder and Executive Director of SUPPRESS is Javier B. Burgos. For further information write to the address above or telephone (818) 791-1173.
