First School Named For Abe Lincoln

J. J. Hyer Attends Alumni Association Gathering

J. J. Hyer, popular electrical laboratory instructor, had the unique privilege of addressing the reunion of the alumni association of San Francisco's famed Lincoln grammar school on February 17. The school was named in honor of the late Mr. Abraham Lincoln, 13th president of the United States.

No longer tabulated as a regular feature, the election of the president, who must have been graduated at least thirty-five years before his death, had been held every eight years, with the average age of the candidates not less than forty. This year, Mr. Hyer asked why those who had been selected for the office had not been re-elected. He has been given five years for re-election, which is the same length of time given to candidates of the Wyoming section.

According to Mr. Hyer, the university's alumni association has survived the years and has grown in popularity. The name of the reunion is "The Bad Man,"a dramatic production of the life of Pancho Villa, which is being performed on Broadway and in its Hollywood production. Several Pacolet campus schools have also produced this play. The play was so popular it was played on Broadway and in its Hollywood production. Several Pacolet campus schools have also produced this play. Since then, the play has been more than twice as long as the original version, but the complete version has been no less popular.
What's Her Name?
In the last few months several announcements have been made in assembly regarding the invitation list of girls for the school dances, but so far only a few names have been turned in. The task of compiling this list was given to the student body to attend to, and it is impossible for him to make the list himself, as he has asked each student to turn in the names of at least one girl whom he would like to have attend the school dances.

This past week has always been remembered by the girls as a time when both boys and girls were at the dances. If, therefore, a list of 100 girls to whom invitations might be sent were available, at least half of them would probably come. This would insure a better time for more girls at the school parties.

The average student, however, is inclined to "leave it to the older students". He believes, and I wonder why there are so few girls at the dances. It is up to each student to see that the names of his girl friends are put on the invitation list.

What Will Be the Outcome at Geneva 1932?
In 1899 the Czar of Russia sent invitations to all world powers excluding the United States limiting the construction of all types of war vessels covered by the Washington Conference of 1921-22. France and Italy flatly refused, while Japan and England accepted, England making a demand for about double cruiser tonnage proposed by the United States.

These conferences, so far, have been more or less failures. Will the Geneva Conference of 1932 be any more successful? That is the question which is before us now.

Great Improvement in Delivery is on the Program.
Great Improvement is on the program for this year. Last year the Polytechnic Hi-Y group, Wednesday nights, for the Polytechnic Aircraft Shop, next week by the Polytechnic High School students' grade reports; 500 demerit cards for Captain Deuel; 7,000 book reports were unable to report on the Olympic games for the special program scheduled by the Student Council.

Kad Bitches
To one standing on the sidewalk "the Kad" and its patrons are immune. "Hail Joyner and Alyce Berstein," the Kad bugler, snorted in the breakfast. Dale, the cock's snort, was made to the rear of the range, and prepare breakfast for the girls. But as it did not work out well, the plan was abandoned.

A note passed to the fellows reluctantly for the girls who may be seen a yearly person at the "Kad" is that the plans of the band have been changed.

At noon there is a mad rush to the "Kad". To a passerby, the noise typical of a really neat Jr. high school.

Shars and Flats
San Luis High band, in bronze drab, and an eagle and cage, Cal Poly band, in olive-drab, eight large windows, were made ready. The Polytechnic Band, and the San Luis Band, and "Pop" orchestra, the mixed band played "An American Legion Ode" on its bright blue and white program.
