New AC Building
Takes Shape After
Temporary Setback

Construction of the new laboratory and air conditioning laboratory building at the Poly campus is going ahead rapidly after a temporary setback because of a change in building specifications.

The building is a $100,000 project and the building equipment will have already been completed.

The new units which are to be an air conditioning installation in the Poly campus are the Poly community. They are allowed.

On the week of the new building at the Poly campus we plan to have a Santa Fe railroad just as fast as possible so that further work may proceed. The railroad is going to be in place by the end of the month, and the railroad will be in place by the end of the next week. The railroad will be in place by the end of the next week.

Upper Unit Residents
Stage Eating Spree

Partly of an effort to build up the morale of the upper units which were held last week, and improve a reputation of previous anti-christmas incidents caused by Poly students.

A appropriation of 500 was made by the student affairs council to buy decorations and incidentals. An extra 500 was voted from the club fund for extra incidentals that may be needed.

Look Ahead a Few Years

To you fellows who may be tempted to take up some sort of job while you are away during the Christmas recess and keep it in preference to continuation of college education in January, may we offer a few words of warning:

Already the country is flooded with high school graduates and persons desiring some education who are struggling for their very existence. Sure, you might be able to attach yourself to some worthwhile job while you are away, but, frankly, the chances of your being able to do so are vanishingly small.

The only kind of jobs half-educated men are offered are unimportant ones—jobs with little chance of advancement—and in most cases these jobs are created by an emergency. Someone is needed for a short time because another workman has left or there is a particular rush on and an extra man is needed. This kind of job does not offer security, neither does it offer a future.

Be careful in selecting a job that you would prefer to a college education.—D. C.

When Real Polymites Go Into Action

You fellows should have seen how real Polymen can turn on for their school!

—Yeah, you lazy galoots that spent last Sunday morning browing in bed, we are thankful for the sake of our school that not every fellow has your idea of "school spirit"!

While you wallowed in comfort between soft blankets and kept your undeserving heads buried in pillows, some 100 of Cal Poly's finest fellows were clearing up YOUR baseball field! In less than two hours the mess left after the big Davis bonfire was no more and the boys that did YOUR job for you were able to spend the rest of their Christmas carefree as you spent all of yours. At least they were satisfied in a big job well done.

That job was as much yours as theirs, but they did it for you. While you wallowed in comfort between soft blankets and kept your undeserving heads buried in pillows, we, the best mugger on the campus, were able to spend the rest of our Christmas carefree as you spent all of yours. Do you fellows have any idea of a "dirty dirt" column for El Mustang?

A penny drive held at Inglewood high school brought returns of $150.92.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Avenues of Escape

By Eugene Schoenhart

This issue brings to a close our student column for the year. With much regret, we close the pages of EL MUSTANG after a two-year career with the students. It has been a fine experience, and in some ways a definite failure. We hope it has served to stimulate yet controversial. We feel it appropriate at this time to sum up in part the ideas and comments that were published in this column.

The question evoking the most comment was that concerning conditions in the cafeteria. Some vocal protests which we did fail, were justified, to the least. The reader can say from his personal viewpoint that much of this food is overcooked, etc., and that we are right in saying this. However, the people of Davis that were so loud in their complaints were true, and that was the idea. Davis that we were so loud in their complaints were true, and that was the idea. Davis that we were so loud in their complaints were true, and that was the idea. Davis that we were so loud in their complaints were true, and that was the idea.

Another thing—there are a lot of facets and a reasonable amount of table etiquette should be practiced.

Another question was the one suggesting more journalism from the student viewpoint. The people of Davis that were so loud in their complaints were true, and that was the idea. Davis that we were so loud in their complaints were true, and that was the idea. Davis that we were so loud in their complaints were true, and that was the idea.

The coming of the glamorous girls from San Francisco State, and the things that would be done there, presented material for one of the columns. The girls were well taken care of, but they were a bit too trashy.

And last, the dear departed. This idea, suggested by Mr. Davidson, may catch on. It does, affairs of the heart may well become one of the most profitable fields of student journalism. The people of Davis that were so loud in their complaints were true, and that was the idea.

The ending of the column is entitled to Chums Worthy people, in the hope that we may provide some of a different and more interesting reading.

And last, the dear departed. This idea, suggested by Mr. Davidson, may catch on. It does, affairs of the heart may well become one of the most profitable fields of student journalism. The people of Davis that were so loud in their complaints were true, and that was the idea.

The coming of the glamorous girls from San Francisco State, and the things that would be done there, presented material for one of the columns. The girls were well taken care of, but they were a bit too trashy.

Alumni News

C. Earl Miller, former California Poly agricultural industries student, and his wife resided in their home in Reddick, Nev., late this week. A native of the Scottish Highlands, Mr. Miller is now a farmer in the Boulder Dam area of the Los Angeles basin. He was graduated from Poly in 1928.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Anderson of San Luis Obispo, Calif., were discussing the neutrality question in Washington while members of the Poly student body were discussing the necessity of a handkerchief shower, Trucadalc. Mr. Crumly, director of the Alumni association, was at Poly. Mrs. Baehr (Dorothy), another Poly graduate, of San Jose, CaL., arrived in Poly this week. The party took the form of a handkerchief shower at her home this week. The party was in the form of a handkerchief shower, and guests included many former Poly students.

Mrs. Evelyn Jackson of San Luis Obispo, active in district activities of the Poly Alumni association, was the object of a surprise birthday party at her home this week. The party was in the form of a handkerchief shower, and guests included many former Poly students.

Friends have received word of the birth of a daughter, Caroline Nita, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baehr of San Jose. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Townsend of Redlands, Calif., received word of the birth of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baehr of San Jose this week. Mrs. Baehr returned to Poly this week. Mrs. Cramly returned to Poly for the Poly alumni association.

Mrs. Cramly cruised to Panama this week. She is a Poly graduate.

A. F. Finch and Miss Kay Milhazes, forward; Gilbert Wilking, forward; and Jack Haylea, guard, were all members of the Poly basketball team.

"These are all new men and have not been in action during games as yet," O'Banion said, "but they look promising in intramurals and should be a big help to us this year. Our Northwest team is tough." O'Banion continued.

C. E. Miller, Poly graduate, has been named to one of the grand old members of the campus staff. He was in charge of Poly finances during the action of the Poly basketball team.

U. C. B. has one more hurdle to cross before it can return to its conference title contention.

When the Trojans met the Tennessee Volunteers in the Rose Bowl on Jan. 1, 1940, this U. C. B. team was the best ever to play for Southern California. The Trojans defeated the high point man of the game with 17 points to 10 as the Trojans showed fine ball handling in their win and won advantages at every break.
