Howie a break. Turn out for spring practice.—D. C.

Through all the years it has been the aim of the people thoroughly steeped in the spirit that is Cal Poly's to better the standing of the year. The year 1940 will go down in this school's history as its greatest year of development.

Because State Polytechnic is now a degree-granting institution, we are on a college level that even a few years ago seemed very far away. Today we are all a fledged college backed to the fullest extent by the people of this state.

Next fall is expected to bring a freshman class that will rivul our entire present student body in number. Each coming year will see Cal Poly continue to grow until it has become one of California's largest and finest colleges. A step backward will never be known at State Polytechnic. This school will always be striving for greater goals.

Few schools offer the advantages that Cal Poly does. Few schools in higher education can award scholarships for two, three, and four years of completed work. Few schools are as well staffed geographically to draw students from all parts of their state. There are few schools (indeed that possess as great a feeling of fellowship and a lesser feeling of "cliche power" than does Cal Poly.

Our setup here is unique and successful. We Polytechnians are fortunate to be in the company of the school, for as Cal Poly grows, so grows its students.—Don Carlson.

California State Polytechnic Steps Forward

No school in the west, certainly in California, is rising so fast in the public eye as Cal Poly. Every year has brought new advancements in our methods of education, shining new buildings, new machinery, greater cooperation, a larger faculty and student body.
