War With Japan, Germany, and Italy; Honolulu Bombed

Poly Steers Win Top Honors L. A. Show

Black-out Orders

Rules to be followed by the California Polytechnic students taking a blackout have been issued by the administrative committee.

The black-out signal at the school will be one long, three-minute signal on the fire sirens. This is the same signal as that used in the city of Los Angeles. The Poly oratory student will blow the siren twice in most buildings on the campus.

When the Poly oratory student is all set and ready to blow the signal on the campus, they should turn all lights out in the buildings, with the exception of one small light in the hallways of the dormitories.

Should a student be driving on or about the campus when the black-out signal is given, or should the student unknowingly, drive upon the campus during the black-out, he must immediately park his car at the nearest safe place.

Every student should look around at all other buildings when the black-out signal is given. Do not use the telephone unless absolutely necessary.

The all clear signal will be three short blasts of the fire sirens, at which time all lights may be turned on.

Must Not Lose Heads During War Period

The time has finally come when we, as the present generation, must face the fact that our country is actively engaged in world-wide conflict. We are at war with Japan.

The enemy has opened hostilities by striking a foul blow. This is itself sufficient warning to make us realize that in time of war we may not be able to enjoy all our privileges and our accustomed routine of life.

The Tri-party Axis is waging war to the end that their power shall dominate the world. This can never be in the interest of all men who desire freedom and a space in which to thrive.

In time of war, we must expect to have no contact with the enemy; therefore, we may not receive many letters or cards. We cannot expect this to be a short war. The enemy is a power that must be dealt with and the conflict will be a long one. We will suffer and sacrifices will be many, but we cannot expect immunity from air attacks that are sure to come, and in which no quarter will be given.

With these things in mind, we must present a united front, and enable all the world to know that we will tolerate the principles of aggression, with which the Tri-party Axis acts upon us.

In order that we may resist and vanquish our enemies, each and every one of us must give our services, our goods, and our abilities to the war effort.

With this in mind, we must prepare ourselves with certain specific objectives in mind. Now we will be called upon to turn aside from these objectives and give our training to our country in order to prepare for our defense.

We students of California Polytechnic have been and are facing ourselves with certain specific objectives in mind. Now we will be called upon to turn aside from these objectives and give our training to our country in order to prepare for our defense.

We cannot be prepared for the work that will be before us, unless we are prepared to support the government in its efforts to win the war.

The war is not over, but we cannot lose heart.

Japan Declares War on U.S. and Great Britain

Congress of the United States yesterday afternoon declared war upon Germany and Italy in retaliation for declarations of war by the Axis countries in the same day. The declaration followed a war address by President Roosevelt, delivered to the Senate and House of Representatives.

In his war address, President Roosevelt said: "I urge upon all Americans, therefore, a determination to make war the first object of their lives, to give their full strength to the cause in which they are engaged, and not to weaken the purpose of their country by any other preoccupation."

Text of War Address

Address Given

BY ROOSEVELT

In the name of the United States of America, I call to you...
Dear Boy,

I received your very interesting and lengthy letter on Thursday. Although I am not in England at the present time, I am sure that I am not the only one who appreciates your letter (or at least the sentiments in your letter). Evidently, I am the only one who actually received it.

I am sorry to hear that your friends have not been too good lately. I hope they have been working out the kinks. I will be happy to hear that both the right and night classes have continued.

I am very glad to hear that you are doing very well in your studies. I hope that you will continue to do so.

If you write me again, I will try to write you as soon as possible.

Yours truly,
John Doe
