Advocate revival of old tip-off rule

Look declare, Stanford coach to be man of year in coast football

Santa Barbara, Nov. 5—Stanford University's powerful Fairfax Kitchen (120) and coming off a 21-7 victory over Texas A & M, who, however, do not have the services of their star quarterback, will meet Cal Poly in the home game of the week. The Mustangs of Cal Poly are in dire straits as they saw their hopes for a Conference Tournament berth fade on a splendid opportunity of a 21-10 victory over Texas A & M. The Mustangs are without the services of their star quarterback and will have to face the sturdy defensive line of the Golden Bears in the home game.

The倡导 is a revival of the old tip-off rule, which was used during the early days of basketball. The rule was abandoned in the 1930s and has been replaced by the modern free-throw line. The倡导 is a move to bring back some of the excitement and drama of the old days of basketball.
