Did We Mention 'Hill View'?
San Luis Obispo's tallest "cerro," Bishop Peak, looms to the west of the community building at Cal Poly's new Cerro Vista student apartments. The development's five sections are named for peaks in the string of volcanic "plugs" that ends at the Pacific with Morro Rock. Native plant species lead down the slope from the patio. (See story on pages 2-3.) Photo by Bob Anderson