Fri. Vaughn, her date, and 7:15 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. All women, class officers, club officers, central organization officers, junior class officers, Beta club, Roda and other club members are requested to be present at 8 o'clock on the scheduled time dressed in black coat, shirt and tie (pants optional). Reasonable rates for those portraits have been arranged; two proofs for $50. The portrait will include a close-up of the hostess, her guests and the arrangement in the studio. If additional prints for the hostess, her guests and an arrangement of the hostess and her guests are desired, be sure to make that request at the time of the portrait. A single hostess portrait may be made at 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.  The Studio will be set up in a studio in the Administration Bldg., starting at 8 o'clock on the scheduled time. All men, class officers, football, track, basketball, baseball and track will have pictures taken. Students Invited to Sit In On College of Fairs A field rich in new job opportunities — Fair Management — will be studied at the second annual College of Fairs. The sessions, to be held here from February 17-21 under direction of 28 noted authorities, will consider all phases of an industry currently offering excellent careers to young men.

K-K-Katie Says It's W-W-Wonderful San Diego, Feb. 13 — Catherine (Katie) Dupont, 19, attractive San Diego State College second-year sophomore, went from class to class on the Attractive campus today, hardy knowing what she was doing or why. "You're so excited I can't think of anything else," she said, her face sheathing to support her statement. "Nothing like this ever happened to me before. It's wonderful!"

The reason for Miss Dupont's excitement was, of course, that she had just been chosen, to reign over the 13th annual Poly Royal at California Polytechnic College next May 3 and 5.

The invitation to supply the queen for the "country fair" on a college campus came from San Diego State, from the student body and administration at California Poly. The Attractive student body accepted, then the Associated Students Council asked each campus organization to nominate a representative. Suggestion of the queen was made by the council.

Miss Dupont was chosen on a basis of scholarship, participation in extra-curricular activities, beauty, poise and personality.

Katie, as the entire campus knows her, is tall (5 feet 6), with jet black hair, blue eyes, a slender figure, and a sincere smile.

Yearbook Portrait Schedule Set for Next Monday To accommodate students and faculty members the EL Royal staff has this year arranged to have a commercial photographer take all portraits needed for the year book in a special studio to be set up in the Administration building. In past years it has been necessary for students and faculty members to make their own appointments with a professional studio photographer. It is anticipated that the new system will be of great convenience to students and faculty members, according to Thibo Ellis, editor.

Thursday, the 20th of February, will be the day set aside for portraits of students and faculty members of the EL Royal staff. Nominations of portraits will be taken in on the dates and times provided. In order to make the best use of the photographer's time and equipment, students and faculty members are encouraged to contact the photographer in advance so that appointments can be made to work with the photographer.

Dear John . . .

Dear John,

Far be it from me to be haughty (catty), but if those are the words of the gia giolo of this half-baked "Co-de counselor" column, I must let him know my pre ciency that I will not be lenient with him. After all, one of California's many colleges where I was and still am a student is El Mustang. I agree with Fox II, he sure had a point when he accused us of being a bunch of kids. However, when we received that jarring letter from the Fox II's crusade, he sure had a point. As Always,

P.S. For best results, we must try to remain anonymous also.

Dear customers:
Your editor has taken quite a few letters, opinions and studies put on. A dance is mostly for good applause for the entire hop. It was especially swell to hear the criticism (and we agree) that too many activities and events were put on. A conglomeration of items. Some could be played up into a full scale editorial and others, perhaps, aren't worth it. To set some of you students straight on how Fun Nite is run, I'll take my time to write about the "funeral" of the Fox II in the May 10, 1947 issue. What I have tried to express in this paper is the view of the writer and do not necessarily represent the opinions of the board of trustees or the administration. The opinion expressed in this paper is signed editorial and articles are at the discretion of the editor. The views of the editor do not necessarily represent the opinions of the staff, nor the views of the Associated Student Body. They do represent the views of the editor. I disapprove of what you say, but I'll defend to the death your right to say it.

Air Conditioning Field Trip to Oil Refinery

The Air Conditioning club went on the move last Saturday when 50 members and guests from the Agriculture College went to Santa Maria to visit the Union Oil refinery which supplies a wide area with gas, lubricants, and many other products.

Field engineer Frank Boyd conducted the tour and explained the process of making the different gases. He started the tour by showing over 200 wells, some being over 4,000 feet deep. He then explained the process of making the different gases, ending with 25 million cubic feet of gas each day, and from this they produce 15,000 gallons of gasoline, 50,000 gallons of butane, 9,000 gallons of propane, and 14 million cubic feet of dry ice. The dry ice is in much demand in the frozen food market.

Poultry Club Hearts Local Loan Expert

Louis M. Perusci, state, cattleman, was back of America in San Luis Obispo, and addressed the Poultry club meeting with a great deal of pertinent information as to the possibilities of securing limited loans with the GI Bill or otherwise.

He stated that the present policy of banks is to loan only up to 85% on any approved amount up to $10,000, in comparison with the former 100% loans. As far as the experience problem is concerned, in a few instances it is not considered. In most cases, that a poultry grower would be looked upon very favorably for a loan. The student was told that a poultry grower was in the world, and is capable of handling medium-sized signed in his test section.

Among many other things shown were the flight Engineer Section, which has been developed mainly to the safety of air traffic through the reduction of the landing hazards, and the flight Research Section which conducts many experiments on many problems such as maneuverability, controllability, and stability, which are readily subject to investigation in the field.

A visit was also taken through the parachute service and study the maintenance and study the use of the parachute. The air deport. Highlight of the trip were the operations office where a new procedure for dispatching a transcontinental flight was seen. Also, the non-stop flight to Hawaii was demonstrated. The tour involved the collection of many meteorological data from the Infrared to the Ultraviolet, and the process of analyzing and compiling this data.

Aztecs Scalp
Mustangs in Border City

By John Morosky

The Mustangs dropped their fourth straight NCAA league game Friday night, to the Aztecs of San Diego State, by a margin of 57-54. The Aztec victory moved them into fourth place in the league standings, and dropped
Poly deeper into the cellar.

As usual the Mustangs lack of and backcourt reserve, proved to be a decided handicap. The "never-say-die" Mustangs managed to stay in the ball game, even dragging an 8 point Aztec lead.
Mortski and Tiltstra did their part with 10 points each. The drive that widened the margin was the Mortski and Cruse combo, putting up 29 points.

Leading the victors was Ben Newlee, with 12 points, and Tiltstra and Swesey proved to be most effective under the backboards repeatedly. A couple of days before, John Stewesey and Don Newlee gave San Diego a 28-17
lead over Poly. The Mustangs were Statistical, and found them
leading San Diegos by 18 points
at the end of the third quarter.

High point man for the Mustangs was College Newlee who scored 16 points.
The "Big Gun" for San Diegos was Bob
Tilstra, with 21 points.

In basketball terms the Mustangs were behind by 1 point on the table of points, and gave the Mustangs an opportunity to win the first half.

Second half began with a mission that proved costly to the Mustangs.
In the opening minutes, both Kenny Hale of the Aztecs, and Don Newlee, helped Poly to a 2-to-1 advantage. The Mustangs tried to find the edge, and emerged from the first half leading by a score of 28-25.

The Mustangs, receiving a two, came back in the second half full of eight, and with a display of drivel along with Mortski and Tilstra
leading San Diegos by 18 points
at the end of the third quarter.

Cal Poly struck its fifth consecutive streak last night when the Santa Barbara Gauchos trimmed Mustangs 85 to 45.

After the first ten minutes the Gauchos led 29 to 8, and had established it 44 to 26 at the end of the half. Cal Poly's chances were reduced considerably by the Roland Tietz, guard, found out of the game early in the half. The Gauchos continued to hit the basket from there.

Moroski led the Mustangs' scoring with 23 points. Fuller of the Gauchos cracked three scoring marks of 10 points each against Fresno, with 23 scores.

Poly Cowpunchers Enter College Rodeo at Tucson

A rodeo team from California Polytechnic State will compete in the Seventh Annual Intercollegiate Rodeo, according to "Placer Paul" Mason, The University of Arizona, head coach for the Poly team. He said the Poly team would not enter25 classes and a schedule for the rodeo would be drawn up in Tucson on March 15 and 16. Fuller reported that he had been approached by three schools interested in entering the competition. In addition a percentage of the entry proceeds will be awarded to the competitors who place.

The ranking of the teams is determined by a composite of a four man team from each school and two (2) normal conditioning physicians in addition to the four events of the rodeo. The team that places first in the competition will receive $500 and the second $250, and the third team will receive $125.

A freestyling team is being established in 1952 to compete in the freestyle competition. In this competition the 21 senior colleges are in competition of the freestyle team. Cal Poly placed second last year and all colleges respond to Rodeo Rodeo and Poly Rodeo Points. The Poly cowpunchers last year won the freestyle event.

Team members from Cal Poly have not yet been selected. Those interested in competing should contact Eugene Egan, registrar in "Red" Mason, Lodger for the competition, to find out the qualifications and details of this competition.

The meeting to discuss the problems at hand and Carl Beck, secretary to the athletic director, will preside.

Sports Roundup

By JOE GRIFFIN

Gentlemen, I bear good tidings for a change this week. I have a subject that should be of interest to all Mustangs, so let us get right down to it.

Cal Poly, as you all know, has become a member of the NCAA and so far we are not doing so bad. First understand, I'm not casting any reflections in any direction, meaning basketball.

As far as Bob Motz and his boys are concerned they are tops with us all and under the circumstances I must say, you can't win basketball games with only five or six men, none of whom have the height necessary for a top-flight squad.

President McPeck has appointed a special faculty advisory committee whose purpose is to suggest a long range policy in the field of athletics. On Feb. 4, this committee held a meeting to discuss the problems at hand and Carl Beck, acting as chairman and under advice from President McPeck, said that he will call for student representation. All organizations on the campus sent members to this meeting.

The questions brought up were these:

1. The possibility and eventual need of a graduate manager.

2. The question of salary and qualifications for the job.

3. How Cal Poly is a member of this conference, how we are going to meet the added expenses and responsibilities that go with becoming a member.

As far as the need for a graduate manager goes, there aren't too many who are against the idea of a graduate manager. But most of us are against the idea of raising the salaries of the graduate manager. Generally speaking, we have to start somewhere, and that's what we'll do.

In the field of sports, it always seems that the only things we are interested in are the games of the top three sports and of the athletes who participate in them. The possibility and eventual need of a graduate manager are not confined to the big league's, but to the little league's as well. We are going to try to keep our team up to date and make sure we have the latest information.

And now, for the minor sports.

MINOR SPORTS

In the world of sports, it always seems that the only ones who make the big headlines are the football, basketball, or baseball players. The minor sports, however, are also important. For example, we are in need of new athletes, and we are in need of new equipment. For example, we are in need of new baseball players, and we are in need of new basketball players.

Prices Reduced for Club Space in 1947 Yearbook

"Cal Poly's yearbook, El Rodeo, is a publication of the associated students of the college, and as such, strives to represent student body," said John Shea, yearbook editor, in an interview here today.

"In the past, some students have protested that the space charge for their club in this yearbook was too high. In some cases we have found that our let- ter to all clubs was not clear as to whether it was necessary to charge the clubs for space. So, in order to clear up these misunderstandings, we are writing to all the clubs and making it very clear in this issue." Mr. Shea stated that time contracts with the printer and engraver signed this week were approximately $200 cheaper than the tentative contracts, due to negotiations which Publications Adviser Robert Kennedy had with both companies on Monday. Because of the more satisfactory price, it is possible to reduce the price of page space to clubs, he said.

"The price of printing and publication costs of the yearbook are as follows:

- Cover .............. $880
- Prepress work, stock and binding ............. $1400
- Composition and make-up ............. $200
- Commission on adv. space ............. $200
- Engravings ............. $150
- Photos, prints and negatives ............. $250
- Space sold to clubs ............. $30
- Engravings ............. $150
- Commissions on adv. space ............. $200
- Prepress work, stock and binding ............. $1400
- Composition and make-up ............. $200
- Commission on adv. space ............. $200
- Engravings ............. $150
- Photos, prints and negatives ............. $250
- Space sold to clubs ............. $30
- Total ............. $2480

If this total is given for the anticipated ad revenue for the yearbook are as follows:

- Cover ............. $880

Open House for Ag. Inspectors

Students majoring in Agricultural Inspection were entertained at an open house last Sunday held at Dr. and Mrs. Essig's home. "Father, Don't Get Stewed Again Tonight," was one of their songs and dedicated it to Chief Van Dyke, baritones; and Gail Miller and Gil Brown, second tenors. Clift Mitchell and John Van Dylia, baritones; and Paul Allen and Danee Anderson, basses. Both these groups were met with enthusiastic applause.

A dance sponsored by the Knights of Columbus was given Friday night at the Essig residence. The Knights furnished the entertainment and souvenirs. It was attended by Dr. and Mrs. Essig, 400 guests, and several of Poly's professors.
