

Hort Club to Host 3-County Nursery Meet

By Paul Trienelbach

The Tri-County Nurserymen's Association has voted to hold its May meeting on the Cal Poly campus; it was announced at a recent meeting of the Horticulture Club. This will be the first time the nurserymen have met in San Luis Obispo. Bob Ferguson stated that plans are being made to give the Tri-County Nurserymen the best possible reception, when it convenes May 2.

"Students should make their arrangements for the Easter dance soon," commented Paul Trienelbach, Colombe, Horticulture club president, who announced that the students could thus learn in detail the plans, programs, and costumes which would be exactly what they been waiting for.

Mr. Whiter, Howson, department head, assured that 800 to 1000 new flats have been on hand for the expected dance, and are expected to arrive soon. He-Raymond Snook, public relations chairman, is expected to alleviate the shortage somewhat.

Poly Royal Pictorial To Publish Show

Paul Madge, publicity chairman of the Poly Royal Pictorial, announced recently that this week's Poly Royal Pictorial will be mailed to all Poly Alumni members of the Poly Royal Pictorial. This week's Poly Royal Pictorial will be mailed to all Poly Alumni members.

WHAT'S DOIN' -

Thursday, March 19
4 p.m. - El Mustang staff meeting, adm. 16.
6:30 p.m. - El Mustang staff meeting, adm. 16.
7:30 p.m. - R.O.A. meeting, adm. 16.
8 p.m. - Students-Wives group dance, poly gym.

Friday, March 20
7:30 p.m. - Students-Wives group dance, poly gym.

Young Farmers to Sponsor First Spring Quarter Dance

By Charles Hitchcock

Spring is here; that is, it will be Friday, Finals are over, no lasts to worry about and there is nothing to keep any student from coming to the dance tonight at 8 p.m. in the Gym. The dance will be sponsored by the Young Farmers and of course the Poly Royal Pictorial.

Egan Named to New Post, Dean of Student Welfare

Eugene A. Egan, Assistant Dean in Charge of Admissions, Guidance and Placement, was appointed Dean of Student Welfare effective March 11, it was learned here today from Julius McPhee, president.

The Dean of Student Welfare is a new position approved by the State Department of Education and the State Department of Finance for the purpose of placing authority in the hands of one person charged with the responsibility of supervising all student activities.

Paul Madge, student public relations director for the Poly Royal Pictorial and the Pictorial, announced that Poly Royal Pictorial is holding open auditions for the Poly Royal Pictorial's annual and perpetual flowers. The Poly Royal Pictorial will be mailed for him.

The Pictorial will be mailed again this year, and tentative arrangements for a national network show to be broadcast from the campus are being worked on, Madge stated.

HISTORY TELL

The state and in history will be given this evening from 7 to 8 in the English Department. In order to make this the most successful it must have the support of all Poly students.

Feather Merchants Consume Plenty of Fried Chicken

By Herbert Lundeen

The huge amount of chicken consumed at the annual Polytechnic chicken fry was evident on Monday night at the welding society banquet held at the No. 1 cafeteria on March 8. Well over 2000 pounds of chicken were consumed by the members of the Polytechnic and their guests which totaled over 2800 people.

President Jacob Yoder welcomed the guests and introduced Ben Caldwell, moderator for the evening, and many compliments were being made on the taste of the chicken. Credit for the unusually beautiful decorations was given John L. Yoder, who was in charge of the decorations.

The chicken fry was well attended and all who attended were quite sure of the efficiency of the Young Farmers in sponsoring the event. A good time was had by all at the last dance, even though music was only on record that night due to the schedule of the night of the first day.

The event held on March 8 was held on the farm of the Young Farmers for the first time, and all who attended were quite sure of the efficiency of the Young Farmers in sponsoring the event. A good time was had by all at the last dance, even though music was only on record that night due to the schedule of the night of the first day.

The event held on March 8 was held on the farm of the Young Farmers for the first time, and all who attended were quite sure of the efficiency of the Young Farmers in sponsoring the event. A good time was had by all at the last dance, even though music was only on record that night due to the schedule of the night of the first day.

The event held on March 8 was held on the farm of the Young Farmers for the first time, and all who attended were quite sure of the efficiency of the Young Farmers in sponsoring the event. A good time was had by all at the last dance, even though music was only on record that night due to the schedule of the night of the first day.

The event held on March 8 was held on the farm of the Young Farmers for the first time, and all who attended were quite sure of the efficiency of the Young Farmers in sponsoring the event. A good time was had by all at the last dance, even though music was only on record that night due to the schedule of the night of the first day.

The event held on March 8 was held on the farm of the Young Farmers for the first time, and all who attended were quite sure of the efficiency of the Young Farmers in sponsoring the event. A good time was had by all at the last dance, even though music was only on record that night due to the schedule of the night of the first day.

The event held on March 8 was held on the farm of the Young Farmers for the first time, and all who attended were quite sure of the efficiency of the Young Farmers in sponsoring the event. A good time was had by all at the last dance, even though music was only on record that night due to the schedule of the night of the first day.

The event held on March 8 was held on the farm of the Young Farmers for the first time, and all who attended were quite sure of the efficiency of the Young Farmers in sponsoring the event. A good time was had by all at the last dance, even though music was only on record that night due to the schedule of the night of the first day.
Do Unto Others?

It seems that there is an interesting phenomena that takes place whenever most people climb behind the steering wheel of an automobile. As pedestrians most people are polite. As drivers most people are selfish and boorish. The reason for this change is hard to discover, the effects are, however, pretty apparent. Most accidents are caused by discourtesy.*

Whenever drivers as a class decide that they will apply the golden rule to their activities as chauffeurs then the National Safety Council, the law enforcement agencies, the insurance companies, and the country will find that automobile accidents have been reduced to almost nothing.

Until drivers become conscious of courtesy, all the laws and admonitions in existence will not do much to reduce the shocking toll taken by automobiles in this country.

The persons on this campus have been lucky; at present there is only one student who has been seriously injured on the campus. There are a few more who have been injured off the campus this year. On the whole though we have been luckier than our driving records justify. That luck can't last forever.

If we don't seriously adopt this courteous driving idea immediately, we will find out several things. First the housing shortage will probably be partially solved. A corpse only goes to one place, to the county morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue.

Stocks will have to be immediately, we will find out several things. First the housing shortage will probably be partially solved. A corpse only goes to one place, to the county morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue.

It seems that there is an interesting phenomena that takes place whenever most people climb behind the steering wheel of an automobile. As pedestrians most people are polite. As drivers most people are selfish and boorish. The reason for this change is hard to discover, the effects are, however, pretty apparent. Most accidents are caused by discourtesy.*

Whenever drivers as a class decide that they will apply the golden rule to their activities as chauffeurs then the National Safety Council, the law enforcement agencies, the insurance companies, and the country will find that automobile accidents have been reduced to almost nothing.

Until drivers become conscious of courtesy, all the laws and admonitions in existence will not do much to reduce the shocking toll taken by automobiles in this country.

The persons on this campus have been lucky; at present there is only one student who has been seriously injured on the campus. There are a few more who have been injured off the campus this year. On the whole though we have been luckier than our driving records justify. That luck can't last forever.

If we don't seriously adopt this courteous driving idea immediately, we will find out several things. First the housing shortage will probably be partially solved. A corpse only goes to one place, to the county morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue.

Stocks will have to be immediately, we will find out several things. First the housing shortage will probably be partially solved. A corpse only goes to one place, to the county morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue.

It seems that there is an interesting phenomena that takes place whenever most people climb behind the steering wheel of an automobile. As pedestrians most people are polite. As drivers most people are selfish and boorish. The reason for this change is hard to discover, the effects are, however, pretty apparent. Most accidents are caused by discourtesy.*

Whenever drivers as a class decide that they will apply the golden rule to their activities as chauffeurs then the National Safety Council, the law enforcement agencies, the insurance companies, and the country will find that automobile accidents have been reduced to almost nothing.

Until drivers become conscious of courtesy, all the laws and admonitions in existence will not do much to reduce the shocking toll taken by automobiles in this country.

The persons on this campus have been lucky; at present there is only one student who has been seriously injured on the campus. There are a few more who have been injured off the campus this year. On the whole though we have been luckier than our driving records justify. That luck can't last forever.

If we don't seriously adopt this courteous driving idea immediately, we will find out several things. First the housing shortage will probably be partially solved. A corpse only goes to one place, to the county morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue.

Stocks will have to be immediately, we will find out several things. First the housing shortage will probably be partially solved. A corpse only goes to one place, to the county morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue.

It seems that there is an interesting phenomena that takes place whenever most people climb behind the steering wheel of an automobile. As pedestrians most people are polite. As drivers most people are selfish and boorish. The reason for this change is hard to discover, the effects are, however, pretty apparent. Most accidents are caused by discourtesy.*

Whenever drivers as a class decide that they will apply the golden rule to their activities as chauffeurs then the National Safety Council, the law enforcement agencies, the insurance companies, and the country will find that automobile accidents have been reduced to almost nothing.

Until drivers become conscious of courtesy, all the laws and admonitions in existence will not do much to reduce the shocking toll taken by automobiles in this country.

The persons on this campus have been lucky; at present there is only one student who has been seriously injured on the campus. There are a few more who have been injured off the campus this year. On the whole though we have been luckier than our driving records justify. That luck can't last forever.

If we don't seriously adopt this courteous driving idea immediately, we will find out several things. First the housing shortage will probably be partially solved. A corpse only goes to one place, to the county morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue.

Stocks will have to be immediately, we will find out several things. First the housing shortage will probably be partially solved. A corpse only goes to one place, to the county morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue.

It seems that there is an interesting phenomena that takes place whenever most people climb behind the steering wheel of an automobile. As pedestrians most people are polite. As drivers most people are selfish and boorish. The reason for this change is hard to discover, the effects are, however, pretty apparent. Most accidents are caused by discourtesy.*

Whenever drivers as a class decide that they will apply the golden rule to their activities as chauffeurs then the National Safety Council, the law enforcement agencies, the insurance companies, and the country will find that automobile accidents have been reduced to almost nothing.

Until drivers become conscious of courtesy, all the laws and admonitions in existence will not do much to reduce the shocking toll taken by automobiles in this country.

The persons on this campus have been lucky; at present there is only one student who has been seriously injured on the campus. There are a few more who have been injured off the campus this year. On the whole though we have been luckier than our driving records justify. That luck can't last forever.

If we don't seriously adopt this courteous driving idea immediately, we will find out several things. First the housing shortage will probably be partially solved. A corpse only goes to one place, to the county morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue.

Stocks will have to be immediately, we will find out several things. First the housing shortage will probably be partially solved. A corpse only goes to one place, to the county morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue.

It seems that there is an interesting phenomena that takes place whenever most people climb behind the steering wheel of an automobile. As pedestrians most people are polite. As drivers most people are selfish and boorish. The reason for this change is hard to discover, the effects are, however, pretty apparent. Most accidents are caused by discourtesy.*

Whenever drivers as a class decide that they will apply the golden rule to their activities as chauffeurs then the National Safety Council, the law enforcement agencies, the insurance companies, and the country will find that automobile accidents have been reduced to almost nothing.

Until drivers become conscious of courtesy, all the laws and admonitions in existence will not do much to reduce the shocking toll taken by automobiles in this country.

The persons on this campus have been lucky; at present there is only one student who has been seriously injured on the campus. There are a few more who have been injured off the campus this year. On the whole though we have been luckier than our driving records justify. That luck can't last forever.

If we don't seriously adopt this courteous driving idea immediately, we will find out several things. First the housing shortage will probably be partially solved. A corpse only goes to one place, to the county morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue.

Stocks will have to be immediately, we will find out several things. First the housing shortage will probably be partially solved. A corpse only goes to one place, to the county morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue.

It seems that there is an interesting phenomena that takes place whenever most people climb behind the steering wheel of an automobile. As pedestrians most people are polite. As drivers most people are selfish and boorish. The reason for this change is hard to discover, the effects are, however, pretty apparent. Most accidents are caused by discourtesy.*

Whenever drivers as a class decide that they will apply the golden rule to their activities as chauffeurs then the National Safety Council, the law enforcement agencies, the insurance companies, and the country will find that automobile accidents have been reduced to almost nothing.

Until drivers become conscious of courtesy, all the laws and admonitions in existence will not do much to reduce the shocking toll taken by automobiles in this country.

The persons on this campus have been lucky; at present there is only one student who has been seriously injured on the campus. There are a few more who have been injured off the campus this year. On the whole though we have been luckier than our driving records justify. That luck can't last forever.

If we don't seriously adopt this courteous driving idea immediately, we will find out several things. First the housing shortage will probably be partially solved. A corpse only goes to one place, to the county morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue. A corpse only goes to one place, the campus morgue.
Gugliemlli and Wellman Crowned 2CA2A Champions

Art Gugliemlli, Cal Poly Santa Barbara's lightweight boxer, and Gene Wellman, San Luis Obispo's featherweight, had the championship in the 10 by 12 ring at the Saturday night Conference Athletic Association wrestling meet at Santa Barbara.

The San Jose Spartans, winning 34 to 19, and San Luis Obispo, 30 to 25, and placed second and third, were honored. The two-conference meeting was held in the Student Union and Arena.

The San Luis Obispo wrestling team was crowned champions after defeating San Jose 30 to 25 and Contra Costa College 18 to 17.

PCB: 15-4; San Luis Obispo, 18-17; San Francisco, 2; Santa Barbara, 0.

The Santa Barbara Gauchos, 10-9, lost all six games played and placed last in the conference.

The Gauchos were defeated by PCB, 12-8; San Luis Obispo, 20-0; San Francisco, 12-0; Santa Barbara, 19-0; San Jose, 21-0; and Contra Costa, 12-8.

The Gauchos' season was ended with a 1-21 record.

The Gauchos' last game was against Contra Costa College. PCB defeated the Gauchos, 12-10, and San Luis Obispo defeated the Gauchos, 20-0.

Mottmen Seek Initial Win on Saturday

The opening California Collegiate Athletic Association wrestling meet was attended by the Mottmen, who were seeking their first win of the season.

Although California Polytechnic College was scheduled to dedicate its $25,000 athletic field with its first 1947 home baseball game against San Jose State, March 22, construction delays caused by inclement weather made postponement of the ball park dedication ceremony.

Wreaths will be placed on the Santa Barbara Gauchos, 8-7, and 4-1, last Saturday at Santa Barbara. Although the coach of Bob Mott, the Gauchos 11-4 in the first game, a total of six misleaders led to their downfall.

San Jose State, were the three centers of the club. It is interesting to note that the first pick, played by Marquette, was the onlyPoly player mentioned.

"Everything Good To Eat."

Delicious.pdf

“I'd like to welcome all the new students here to Cal Poly and to do a little more about the fact that you have entered an institution of learning whose name in the next few years will be on many people's lips. We are all small men, materially speaking, but within the next few years we are going to be heard from in more ways than one. And it's in the South to Crescent City in the north, when people mention San Luis Obispo, they will think of California Polytechnic College. How that is going to happen. That all depends on just how good a salesman each of you is. When you mention the name of this College to a friend, say it with reverence. If they ask where it is, don't give yourself away and feel ashamed. - take it as a joke, ensure the attitude that we are close to the city that is far behind times. Then, when you explain once, you won't have to do it again.

To the new students who are inclined toward throwing a baseball around, or perhaps participating in track or for that matter, engaging in any sport, just drop over to Cal Poly Stadium and see some of the auroras. Spring football practice started a couple of days ago, and with the schedule ahead as it is, the coaching staff is looking for plenty of material. Bob Mott, the baseball manager, is looking for talent, so come out and loosen up the wing and give it a try. Any one who tries gets the benefit of the doubt - that's one of the great things about Cal Poly.

The Gauchos have been honored the home team for the last few years. The Gauchos are a close-knit group of the head coach, and are known for their strong co-operation and enthusiasm for the game.

The Gauchos' season was ended with a 1-21 record. The Gauchos' last game was against Contra Costa College. The Gauchos, 20-0, defeated the Gauchos, 12-10, and San Luis Obispo defeated the Gauchos, 20-0.

The Gauchos' season was ended with a 1-21 record. The Gauchos' last game was against Contra Costa College. PCB defeated the Gauchos, 12-10, and San Luis Obispo defeated the Gauchos, 20-0.

The Gauchos' season was ended with a 1-21 record. The Gauchos' last game was against Contra Costa College. PCB defeated the Gauchos, 12-10, and San Luis Obispo defeated the Gauchos, 20-0.
EL MUSTANG
MARCH 26, 1947

STUDENTS' WIVES

The Students' Wives club held its last meeting of the winter quarter on Thursday, March 6, at the 6th Street Club. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Royer.

The main portion of the meeting was taken up by the election of officers for the spring quarter. Those elected were: Pat Erians, president; Mary Lou Gorden, vice-president; Miss Helen Gough, secretary; and Doris Grofman, treasurer.

LIBRARY PLANS FOR POLY ROYAL

The Cal Poly Library is planning to hold "open house" during the evening of March 20. The exhibition will feature books about early California history, the Santa Fe Trail, the Pony Express and Western History. Another exhibit will include early and novel editions of books done by June Glenn, a member of the Library staff.

Last Thursday's meeting was presided over by the president, Jo Ronoy. The following contribution was made: "Our dear Marj" Grotske, vice-president; and Doria Grotske, secretary.

AC Dept. Felt & Field Trip to S.F.

By Robert F. King

Over forty members of the Air Conditioning department will leave tomorrow on a field trip to San Francisco. They will view the welding shop and find frozen foods. In addition they will also visit the South San Francisco steel plant and the Swift packing plant to learn more about the machinery. They will go on the field trip should be present at today's meeting in order that final arrangements can be completed. The meeting will be held in room B of the engineering building today at 4 p.m.

EGAN NAMED TO NEW POST

Public Schools, Cascade Public Schools, and Fergus County High School, all in Montana. He also served as Director of Agriculture at Tracy Union High School, California. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Montana State College in 1932, and his Master of Science degree from the same institution in 1939-40.

During the morning I was in an exceptionally good mood when I awoke with the sun shining in ray window. As I looked about the room I saw my roommate picking out the books that remains of last night's dinner were found here. After all even I don't want it and we feel that it needs the tender care of a foundling. Who don't know who is responsible, or, why. Will the author please come in and claim it? We don't want it and we feel that it needs the tender care of its creator.

The other morning I was in an exceptionally good mood when I awoke with the sun shining in my window. As I looked about the room I saw my roommate picking out the books that remain of last night's dinner were found here. After all even I don't want it and we feel that it needs the tender care of a foundling. Who don't know who is responsible, or, why. Will the author please come in and claim it? We don't want it and we feel that it needs the tender care of its creator.