Blood Shortage
Cited As Acute

By Nick Blade

The need for blood for our Korean operations is overwhelming, but the public is not yet aware of the need. Commander James Wofford of the 58th division says, "No task is more imperative than to get blood, because if the soldiers have to go to battle, they have to be in top form."

Corporate Wolf, a media home for companies, was founded by Pauline, who was quoted as saying, "They say (on Blood Drive) it's for the cold blood. Believe me, you won't offer blood, because we do not want to make any promises." This is the reason for the blood shortage in Korea, he added.

The system includes buying of blood, but to make sure the blood is fresh, the student body is asked to check the expiration date of the blood. If the blood is not fresh, it will be returned to the blood bank.

Victory Tomorrow

By Bob Hardy

The chances for a spot in Camp Roberts, the scheduled baseball game for tomorrow has been cancelled, announces Coach Bob Hardy.

The Mustangs have been loaded with talent. It is reported that this Army team is one of the strongest ever assembled.

Tomorrow's Contest Off

Due to the cancellation, the scheduled baseball game for tomorrow has been cancelled. As the contest is in doubt, the Mustangs will take on their old rivals, the Mottmen, in a game which promises to be tough.

The Mustangs have been tough in their games so far. They have won all their games except against the University of Arizona, where they lost 12-1. Their confidence is high, and they are determined to win tomorrow.

The Mottmen have also been strong, but they have not faced as many tough opponents as the Mustangs.

In the company of Mentor George Powell, Bill Lederdale and Hendel Jeliotte were named to the All-AA first team basketball squad. Voting by conference coaches.

Coaching duties will be handled by Coach Prouse, who is expected to lead his team to victory.

Entries should include the date it was taken, and may be picked up at the end of the week. Here are the rules:

1. Photographer must be a Poly student.

2. Submitted photos must show a club activity, a group or single club member doing something relating to club activity.

3. Photos must be submitted by Monday, 5 p.m., for weekly competition. They should be turned in to “El Mustang” club editor, TUESDAY, 8 a.m., for Saturday edition.

4. Information to be included in portfolio of each submitting photo, name of club, names of persons and description of activity shown and signature of author or any officer of the club depicted.

Dr. C. E. Knott, acting assistant to the Dean of Engineering, says “I’ll be understanding a lot of additional professors, outstanding by experts in the engineering field.”

The group represented Poly aerospace, agricultural engineering, electrical engineering, mechanical engineering and electronic and radio engineering departments.

No Skyrocketing Prices in Little Patty’s Mind

Skyrocketing prices don’t mean the same thing in Little Patty’s mind. The 57-year-old woman, 178 Santa Rose street, ELIO, gave some quarter for a hotdog and candy bar at the PTA, outreach bar at school. Patty same home that night with her money all gone.

“Did you get a candy bar and a hotdog?” asked mother.

“Yes, and bottle of pop, too,” said Patty.

“But I only gave you enough for candy and a hotdog,” mother said horrified. “Did someone give you more?”

“No, Mommy, the people at the hotdog booth gave it to me.”

“Did you ask for it?”

“No, they just gave it to me.”

Mother didn’t know that you didn’t have enough money for all things.

“Well—yes, but when they gave you the pop to me I didn’t say anything just thought the price had gone down.”
