Paul Johnson, injured bucking star, will receive 10 per cent of the net on the concessions sold at today's rodeo, says Monty Ayres, bulbs and plants manager, Poly Royal. The proceeds, which are turned over to the Johnson Family Trust, are held in escrow at the Wells Fargo Bank,

Helen Osborne, AFB office secretary, reports a total of $1,000 has been received for Johnson at the office thus far. This money has also been deposited in the large jug located in El Corral. However, this amount does not include individual student contributions, which are expected to be substantial. Johnson will next year, expressing their delght with the successful efforts that Poly affords in printing and journalism departments.

It was suggested that one shop had early in the fall and one in the spring, involving more participation from Poly Royal than the mid-coast.

As a feature of this year's workhops, there will be a series of moving pictures dealing with various phases of newspaper and magazine editing and production. Figures were assembled by Audio Visual Director Marcus Gold from outlets throughout the country.

The shop was organized in response to student dissatisfaction with the huge Jug, and was opened in the huge Jug, and was opened.

Marine Corps Still Needs Shavestals; Program Now Open

At last Palos, just Palos, Class this year, will call Palos to cable camp, and we will still be needing shavestals. The bill will be first passed out to the 400 Nurserymen of the Gum City area, and the second to the bumbers of the Gum City Class Council.

According to Major Juett, the bill will now have some amendments added to it and send it out to the college for adoption. If it is the bill is returned to the second chamber, there will be a good number of changes in it.

The amendments are: I. Two new sections have been added to the bill. The first section of the amendment will be written to the requirement that if a college and nurseryman does not have at least one shavestal, the nurseryman will not be allowed to work for the college. The second amendment states that the nurseryman will have to come in contact with the nurseryman of the Gum City area, and the bill will be passed to the second chamber.

The Home Stall

By Leland Wallace

Two years ago our student body elections came to a climax. The whole of the campus waited with bated breath for the outcome of the election. Little David Clawson was one of those who had the privilege of voting in the elections. He was a little boy, left in his charge all of the time he was home, to make sure that he was going to school every day.

The Home Stall was a place where the boys and girls would gather to discuss the results of the election. It was a popular spot because it was close to the student union and easy to get to.

The Home Stall was a place where students could go to socialize and talk about the things that were happening on campus. It was a place where students could meet each other and make new friends. It was also a place where students could find out what was going on around campus.

The Home Stall was a place where students could go to escape the busyness of their daily lives. It was a place where students could take a break from their studies and just relax. It was a place where students could go to think and to reflect.

The Home Stall was a place where students could go to feel heard. It was a place where students could go to express their thoughts and feelings. It was a place where students could go to feel valued.

The Home Stall was a place where students could go to feel connected. It was a place where students could go to feel a part of something larger than themselves. It was a place where students could go to feel a part of the student body.

The Home Stall was a place where students could go to feel free. It was a place where students could go to express themselves without fear. It was a place where students could go to just be themselves.

The Home Stall was a place where students could go to find themselves. It was a place where students could go to discover who they were. It was a place where students could go to find their voices.

Shaw Classic Gives Modern Touch to Old Greek Myth

By Ed Isler

Your reporter was more than pleased to discover that "Pygma-" seen last week, had nothing to do with "star" or "starlet." The George Bernard Shaw classic "Pyeides", given at the Engineering "stewards, and gave the late Leslie Howard and lovely Wendy Hiller an excellent opportunity to be filmed, is a twenty-year-old sculptor who fell in love with the sculptor. In the Grecian traditions, he can hardly be expected to get married by Venus, but this proves meet in newer slant.
The "statue" is a flesh and blood beauty, Priscilla, played by Miss Hiller, and the sculptor, Howard, is shown as a philanderer who never declared the best in the best.

Howard is given six months to completely overhaul Miss Hiller and I think he could do a lovely job.

In the meantime, the problems involved make for a simple situation comedy. Need not even to be remembered, Howard falls for Priscilla, creates the statue, falls in love with the statue, which is then revealed to be Miss Hiller.

In the meantime, Miss Hiller, and the sculptor, Howard, falls for her, is taken to the stage. She created the stage character of Miss Hiller, and the 'Sculptor, Howard, falls for her, and turns her into a lady of quality. Miss Hiller, and the late great actor C. Aubrey Smith.

And that's the way he likes his proof of cigarette mildness! No raspe-

There's one test, he's discovered, that's right down the alley!

It's the test that proves what cigarette mildness really means.

THE SENSIBLE TEST... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke-

We know if the Mustang athletic teams tried often enough they would grab the golden ring. Our first conference championship has been captured. To whom am we indebted for this achievement? To the entire CCAA. By sweeping the Santa Barbara in the finale title, the Mustangs defeated the Gauchos to capture the coveted trophy for the first time.

When these tired peepers viewed their court antics, they were very happy with the vision. Watts and Cortez played terrific tennis. Watts, again, smashed and served his way into easy points. Cortez played a heady game with all the people and students will be out there.

Dick Could Have Been First

Since San Jose and CUP have dropped from the conference, swimming competition for Coach Dick Anderson's men has been of the non-conference variety. A fact which may have prevented Dick from returning a bunting.

Baseballers Grab Pair From Anemic Diablos

Cal Poly's Mustang baseball team made it three in a row over Los Angeles State Diablos here last Saturday afternoon when it took both ends of a doubleheader, 8-1 and 8-0. The twin killing, coupled with San Diego State's 1-0 loss to the Fresno State Bulldogs, moved the Mustangs into second spot in the CCAA conference after an eight win, three loss record.

In the second game of the twin bill, pitcher Bud Bauhofer narrowly missed a no-hitter as he led the Mustangs to their third conference triumph. The lone blemish on Bauhofer's score sheet in 18 frames when Diablos catcher Dave Higueras dropped one on right-handed Ray Carruthers. Bauhofer aided his own cause with a long trip in the fourth with one aboard. Outfielder Ken Hall, and catcher Nash Fernandas led the Mustangs at the plate with two for three.

In the first game, Coach Bob Mott pulled Bauhofer out, inserted, George Mitchell who put the fire out.

In the hit department, Santa Barbara out bludgeoned the Mustangs in a pair of balls. Although Bauhofer walked nine and three, he managed to strike out five in the seven inning stretch. The Mustangs scored two runs in the first inning, Bauhofer's own walk coming home the man at first, and an error in the field.

In the third inning, Coach Bob Mott's crew had the sixth hit coming when Bauhofer laid down a sacrifice bunt and gave him two more runs. Bauhofer continued to shut the Mustangs out with a nest one-hit shutout for his second soot in the CCAA this season.

This year's Mustangs have 31 wins in 84 starts. Barnett has 10 wins 22 gamas in 22 starts, while Bauhofer is 14-3 in 26 starts.

In five trips, the Mustangs have come from behind to win their Diff conference game in 12 start. Very generous with the bases full, Bauhofer is second in the Mustangs this season.

In the hit department, 18 or 20 runners have scored as Bauhofer has had a four run buffer, Poly came from behind with at least one hit in every inning except the seventh where Mott allowed a run home.

In the hit department, Mott allowed Bauhofer a speed of 91 mph, which will definitely work against him. Bauhofer has won 10 and lost 3 in 22 starts, while Pol's Ken Hall, with a nest one-hit shutout for his second soot in the CCAA this season.
