If You Care, Share

If you care about world peace, then you will share—you and everyone around you, every day. It is spreading.

Shocking? Perhaps. But it is far from the shock that thousands of Asia's unfortunate are suffering.

The International Student Relations Committee and the Student Welfare Committee of the Polytechnic University have organized a drive to collect used clothing and books. This will be an annual event, also a world organization of students. As a matter of fact, the need starts with education.

Students and faculty in colleges all over the world are sharing food, medicine, equipment, books and ideas through the World Students Service fund. Now you can, too.

When packing for summer, don't discard those old textbooks. Don't toss away old clothing. Save it. Deposit it in cartons provided for that purpose in dormitories, trailer washrooms, library and El Corral.

Write your name and address on book plates (in envelopes attached) and send them in with the books. Your friends will be reminded of you and your kindness.

When your hear from men who receive your books and clothing, write them a letter. Send some snapshots of yourself. Many of these people do not have access to any other information about you. They will be happy to get some sort of contact. Many of these students are orphans, refugees, orphans who have managed to get to college and are doing their best to get an education. They are asking for the barest necessities. Some are cling to solar or have nothing. These are the people who need our help most. They are being denied the农产品 of the world. They are being denied the education of the world. They are being denied the chance to become good citizens.

Your friendly attitude will give those men confidence in Americans. Those students are influential and powerful in a country's government, they are the future of America. People who have an education know that and are offering bright promises.

It is hoped that this initial drive will develop into something larger and will be a continuous drive to help our needy friends.

Students of Asia are not as fortunate as we. They don't have the resources or the abilities to help themselves. So please help them.

Relief is the smallest phase for these peoples. Send what you can. It will be appreciated.

If you care about world peace, then you will share.

As We See It — By M.B.

—Name Builders—

Rodeo team has been doing pretty good by Poly since gaffing the backing of the student body. Topped the field at the first Poly intercollegiate rodeo and also came up from fourth place nationally to second at the finals in Texas. Nice gain for a plebe team sitting on the fence.

—Dread Days—

Finals schedule and the votes' supplies, cap and gown measurement deadline—that reminds us, it's time to study for finals. Had better get busy, should have started months ago.

—Dirty Tricks—

Have a feeling that the Y.M.C.A. and the Art Student League are going to get into some noisy trouble with the Mustangs. Maybe the boys have had enough.

—Thank You—

See that Mustangs' membership has set a new record. This means that the businessmen backing Poly, might be a good idea to check for their identification stickers and thank them.

—Not Too Late—

Still short on the Paul Johnson hospital fund drive. A small donation doesn't mean much to the individual student, but with a lot of them it means something. Let's all give something today.

—Sketchy Walls—

See that the swallows have returned to nest in the library saves. Can remember what a hard time the maintenance crew had last year keeping them off the new library windows.

SPARTANS Clobber Poly Golfers, 49-5
San Jose's powerful golf squad, led by Ken Venturi, put the kids under Don Watts' Mustangs last Friday at the Morro Bay course. Mike Little was last in this match since the Spartans are tops along the Pacific shore.
Venturi cleared the greens and fairways with his spectacular drives and putts to keep his team out in front. Venturi shot a one under par 71, and his team-mate Jay Hopkins blasted out a net par 70. Bill King of San Jose and Bill Canning of Poly tied with 79's. Bert Richell and Ray Sigle of Poly, each scored 80's.
Coach Watts' kids were trying all the way, but couldn't hope with the firing victims from Fruitville. The only possible score which seems feasible for a conference championship. They end the season in a CCAA all conference meet June 1-2 at Morro-Bay.

SPORTS CORNER

By Bob Hardy

"Take Me Out To The Ball Game"

Come Saturday Cal Poly's baseball forces will take the field for the last time. Sports Corner can offer five reasons why those stands should be loaded to the brim with Mustang rooters.

In the first place this is a final game, if you haven't seen a game already your opportunity will be gone after Saturday. Second you will be seeing a club that knows its way around the diamond. These Fresno clubs are plenty good, but under certain conditions they could be bad. That brings us to point number three. If our seats are well covered with rabid Mustang yackers, borne of cow belling, razzberries, Irish Jonathan's and like regalia, these Bulldogs might not be too steady. They have a good team but not too good to be upset by spirited Mustang team play and cheering.

They Desire Our Support
Third is the line of reasons that is that of showing some appreciation for Bob Mott and his hired hands. Those boys have been doing their best all season long. They have compiled a terrific baseball record, playing at a very respectable .614 clip. Comparing this to percentages of the leading team in the majors makes it even more outstanding. As of last Saturday, Brooklyn's Dodgers led the National parade with a mark of .656, and the Yankees led the American circuit with .670.

Mott Boys They Hustle
In won and lost figures the Mustangs have taken 22 and lost 5. It shows they can play ball. Coach Mott informs us, 'This has been my happiest year as baseball coach, these kids have shown more hustle and determination than any team I have ever coached at Poly. They know the facts, and what have the fans done to show approval? It seems they express their joy by staying away in droves.

Sports Corner traveled to Fresno with the club last Friday and can honestly report that those Mustangs are in a swell shape. They get along together better than any team with which we have had previous dealings. We should support them in this last go as never before to help them deliver a better fate than we have afforded them thus far.

Dash The Asters Out

Fourth on the list is adding our chances for second place. Fresno has the top spot all tied up, but second spot is still in doubt, with San Diego and Poly contendng. Doubt is about our topping a twinner. Coach Watts will be keeping a sharp eye on the Public and Fordham Aces for the second place and the fans are needed to turn the tide. Finally we come to the reason that is definitely a must. Take time from your worries and turn out to the diamond and just have fun. You can sop up some of that sunshine, make noise and forget your woes.

When You're Up Against Jefferson You're Upside Down

Tonight is an early basketball evening. Competition from Los Angeles is a very colorful basketball squad. Tonight's game will be a Paul Johnson benefit program between Cal Poly and the invading Democrats of Jefferson high school. Lost there be any illusions about this game being a push-over, we feel it necessary to warn you that these Jeffersonites are hot. In their play in the Los Angeles area they crushed everything in their path.

Hughes Believes Football Squad Will Be Improved

"If we have the same squad in the fall that we did against South Florida, next year's football team will be 20 percent better than this season."

Hughes said he would be very impressed with Joe McKenzie and Jerry Dwyer at quarterback, Fred Hughes at fullback, Tom Copeland at halfback, Chuck Boals at end, Larry Lamley and Stan Sheriff at guard, Ed Levy at tackle, and Stan Sheriff at the center again.

Not to be outdone, Charlie Carr and Bill Flagg will be returning along with Al Smith and Jerry Lindsay. The Cal Poly Mustangs will be out to avenge last week's defeat and lend vocal support.

Soccer Team Ends Season With Win

By Vince Hardy

Cal Poly's soccer season closed with a 1-0 victory over San Diego State University, but the Mustangs fell short of a spot in the NCAA championship race.

The Mustangs finished the season with a record of 8-1-4, but were unable to secure a conference championship due to a tie with San Diego State University.

The game began with the Mustangs controlling the possession, but the Aztecs were able to stifle their attack. Cal Poly's goal came in the second half, when a free kick was converted by senior midfielder Iain McLean.

Goals from Steve Weir and Gary Hughes in the second half sealed the victory for the Mustangs, who finished the season with a 1-0 record in conference play.

The Mustangs will now turn their attention to the NCAA playoffs, where they hope to make a deep run and advance to the national championship.

Athletic director Hoy Hughes announced today that the Board of Athletic Control will recommend to the SAC that water polo, cross-country and gymnastics be dropped temporarily from the athletic program.

The reason for the dropping of these three sports, as Hughes stated, is due to the financial situation of the university. With the decreased enrollment of the past two quarters, and an expected decrease in the fall, the athletic budget has been substantially cut.

To compensate for this decrease in income, it was necessary to temporarily drop from the program those sports mentioned above. The recommendation also includes an expected decrease in the fall, as well as finances permit, competition in water polo, cross-country and gymnastics will be resumed.

Another proposal put before the SAC by the Board of Athletic Control is that of elevating boxing, wrestling, tennis, golf and swimming to varsity levels. Hughes did state, however, that the three sports mentioned above would remain at the club status for the time being.

Athletes will be temporarily dropped from the program as a result of this decision. The reassignment of these athletes to other sports will be temporary, and they will continue to practice and compete in their respective sports until the budget situation improves.

Students 'Survive' Weekend Hazards

Students in wildlife management 'survived' a three-day field trip to Firebaugh, Kings River and Yosemite Valley last week, according to reports David Thomas, biology science instructor.

General student reaction was highly favorable, says Thomas. The student was quoted as saying, "I was one of those few who had an interest in wildlife management and knew how to handle the field trip."

The group studied an overgrown problem area under the supervision of Pat Bryan, game manager, who is in charge of deer management in Central California.

Wildlife management is being offered for the first time this quarter.
