Paul Johnson
Fund Soars

The campaign to raise funds to help pay for hospital expenses of track-star Paul Johnson is nearing $800 mark, just $48 short of its goal as funds raised hit the one-thousand-dollar mark that been set.

Johnson was injured in an automobile accident near Fresno while practicing for a track meet that had been scheduled for May 17.

Dorothy Wright
Says 'Library
Will Stay Open'

"The Library will remain open," says Dorothy Wright, assistant secretary, "though our hours are slightly different and the period for which a book may be checked out is shorten.

Library hours:
Monday through Thursday:
7:45 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Friday:
7:45 a.m. to 2:15 p.m.
12:00 m. to 2:15 p.m.

The Card Catalogue listing books in the Library Collection is located in the lobby. Book returns are made to students, with services from the main reading room.

Regular students may borrow books by signing the book out.

Girls only may use the library for study purposes so long as the library is not overcrowded.

During summer session books may be signed out from the Library for a two-week period. They may be signed out for a second week and the period during which books may be signed out is May 14 to June 27 inclusive.

Of Accidents
On Campus

by Dale Coyer

"We have an accident feature in our coming show," said Ensemble security chief, "We have accidents from incidents which do not hap­pen downtown.

Nine accidents have occurred in one week because of improper hillside parking. These accidents could have been avoided by not parking on the hillside. Our method for hillside parking had been observed, "this ruler," he said, "is to turn the wheels of the vehicle into the curb.

"Driving and parking on the wrong side of the street are other violations which have caused some surprise among vitamins, but will not affect those expelled under the present session will be with the VA.

La Croix's Graduation Eventful
By Joyce Goldberg
Graduation payed off in more ways than one for Bill LaCroix. Bill graduated with an A. E. degree. For graduation he received a $400 Frasier from his parents in Bantaicous County. That, too, he has a job waiting for him in Inglewood, California. Just now the LeCroix's have taken a trip to Montana for a visit with relatives.

Tom and Linda, late of Poly View were blessed with a baby girl, whom they named Linda.

Wives Hail Male Cooks
As the wife of a poultry student, I was one of the many who enjoyed the wonderful chicken and steak barbecue sponsored by the Poultry Club Sunday, July 14. All other club officers seemed to agree. It was a pleasure to eat someone else's cooking for a change, but as it is, and it being as good as it is, that pleasure doubly delicious.

May my family and I, through the columns of El Mustang, thank those who organized and worked to make the sky such a pleasant special thanks to Danny Wing and his crew who spent so many hours lasting the barbecues free in the heat of the day to prepare and serve the meal at its mouth-watering perfection. We love you, boys! Thank you! Alimony.

Pol. Penguins Remain Active During Summer

Younker Slaves As Help Late

By Ken Zerk

No, the younger-working in El Corral last week isn't a new student. According to usually reliable sources, Cal Poly doesn't admit twelve year-olds as freshmen.

Paul Kastning, son of coffee shop manager Nora Kastning, was drafted to relieve a pending labor shortage.

Happy to lend a hand, Paul pitched in and started clumping dishes away. Up and down the dirty dishes he went, pushing the service cart and loading on the dirty dishes.

As time passed, he became a little tired. From the corner of his eye he watched the clock's hands go around. "Where in the world is that relief man," he wondered.

More time passed, his shoulders drooped, his muscles ached, his brow was wet with honest sweat. "Dishes became heavier and the cart moved like it had runners rather than wheels. Hungry students filled the tables as fast as he cleaned them off. Still no relief.

The hands of the clock traveled further, forty, sixty, eighty, one hundred and twenty, and with great effort, the last second pushed himself away and beyond, the call of duty. He reached the point of starting the clock over by one.

Seemingly hours later a friendly voice called, "Paul, you can stop now. You're getting hungry."

Paul turned around, "But I'm not hungry."

"Seems that's the same old story."

"Much as I'd like to help, I've got a Grade B." Paul knew this was the time to back off, and did.

The lad trudged off to the nearest loading dock, where he watched the clock's hands go around. Where in the world is that relief man..."

Dear Editor:

In beginning this letter let me first say that I never really appreciated the El Mustang until I read in the last issue. I have been a member of the ASH for some time. I think It la justifiable to request this letter be published. It is one of the best magazines that keeps me in close con-

With the coming of summer, most campus groups retire from their normal activities, however, not the energetic Pol. Penguins.

According to Bill Stone, president, and Bill Michael, their plan is to remain active during the regular school year.

Throughout the normal sessions, the Penguins actively participate in every campus function, providing a patrol service for homespun and welding up the year with a record-smashing thrilling bidding exhibition at Poly Royals.

From their riders there is a participant in every motorcycle event of importance at the state. A third place in the annual "English Trials" championships at Sharp Park this year by Bill Michael attests their ability, while I represented them at the National Championship on the one mile track at Bay Meadows recently.

For the uninitiated, the Pol. Penguins are one of only two recognized motorcycle clubs on college campuses in the United States. The other being the University of California Motorcycle Club at Berkeley.

The men returning here to Senda after front and it is got a pretty sight.

The idea that many of the rules are useless, but he asks all of us to use them is the only way to get a citation, act immediately, take the citation in the security zone, and phone the police department. You may be fined $1 to $5. If you do not act immediately this will prevent any possible reason and the offender will be subject to a $5 warrant.
