Cal Poly Passes 2200
Fall Enrollment Figure

Despite difficult housing conditions, this year's enrollment is running ahead of the projections by about 100 students, and the total may exceed 1500 this fall. This is a significant increase over last year's enrollment of 2100, which was down 200 from the previous year. The increase is attributed to the efforts of the student body in promoting the college and its programs.

Armed services were responsible for withdrawing a large number of students from the college. However, the overall increase in enrollment is a positive development for the college and its future.

Thick, Juicy Steaks
The Cal Poly Student Union recently held a steak dinner to raise funds for the Homecoming committee. The event was well-attended, with many students enjoying the delicious steak and the social atmosphere.

Blind Comet Vet Has No Trouble Handling Studies
As a student at Cal Poly, the vet faces many challenges, but his guidance and support makes it easier.

Search For CCNY Man Centered Here
A missing City College of New York student was last seen in the vicinity of the Cal Poly campus, and his family is asking for assistance in locating him.

Milk Taste Oily, Huh?
Milk is a staple of many diets, but some people may experience unpleasant sensations when consuming it. This could be due to various factors, such as lactose intolerance.

Queen Bee To Rule Over All; New Tradition Set
The tradition of a queen bee ruling over all is a new addition to the college's traditions. This tradition is expected to bring excitement to the campus.

No End Of Talent Guaranteed By Homecoming Chief
The Homecoming chief has no end of talent, and the students are excited about the upcoming events.

Milk Taste Oily, Huh?
Milk is a staple of many diets, but some people may experience unpleasant sensations when consuming it. This could be due to various factors, such as lactose intolerance.

Price Still The Same
The price of milk remains the same, despite recent reports indicating a potential increase.

Inexpensive... Doing their bit to bring out the best of the reader of this story are the students of the Homecoming committee. They continue to demonstrate their commitment to the campus and its traditions.

Blind Comet Vet Has No Trouble Handling Studies
As a student at Cal Poly, the vet faces many challenges, but his guidance and support makes it easier.

Preparation Test Applications Due Nov. 5
Students are encouraged to prepare for test applications as soon as possible to ensure they have enough time to complete them.

No Paper Next Week
There will be no paper next week, perhaps due to a holiday or other reason.

Queen Bee To Rule Over All; New Tradition Set
The tradition of a queen bee ruling over all is a new addition to the college's traditions. This tradition is expected to bring excitement to the campus.

No End Of Talent Guaranteed By Homecoming Chief
The Homecoming chief has no end of talent, and the students are excited about the upcoming events.
Waste Buster, Dough Slinging Stove Tells of Diabolical Plan

By William J. Mead

If Al Stover should open another bakery, the pastry-lover who tries to match his taste buds won't have a chance.

The husky Cal Poly freshman from Los Angeles has a diabolical plan to catch the billionaires of round-counter gourmetery.

"Right over the bakery door I'll install an exhaust fan to spread the sweet, mouth-fattening scents upward and down the street," he confided with a hand on his hip. "You haven't lived until you've seen a long line of hungry people languishing at that heavenly door.

Stover, Al is convinced, is one of the worst bakers in Los Angeles, and except for three years in the Navy, he has been a 'dough-slinger' ever since. From 1942 until this June, Al and his father owned a neighborhood bakery in Los Angeles, where Al gained fame as the best pie-maker in that part of the city.

"My greatest interest is in trying out new ideas," he said, "so you can see my work in progress. I made some down-to-earth observations at a famous establishment. They have a pie that's always good. It's the best pie I've ever tasted."

Al's friends usually test-taste his experimental projects as he works by eagerly awaiting their criticism.

It was mostly trial-and-error and many of the pies were pretty good, but quite a few got to be a little on the rich side.

Al's neighborhood reputation grew so that it usually guaranteed a complete sell-out within an hour after the pies came out of the oven. Some pies were in rest, others but the number was limited because the crowds were too big.

But for the girls who saw him -- handi-candy in the home kitchen, Al has disappointing news. It wasn't the doughy dough, each looking small quantities, he said with a smile. "No matter how big the dough, if I can't make it fit in the pan, they're no use for me."

Extra Passenger Accident-Hazard

"In the interest of preventing accidents and because roads on campuses have long been a problem area, I find it my duty to enforce the law to the letter," Ernest Balmer, safety department head man, assured the assembled students.

"At 15 I managed a Los Angeles car shop and from that time I have been a 'dough-slenger.' The husky Cal Poly freehiner who confined with a fume-up and some of the pies wore pretty smelly.

In the Navy, he has been a 'dough-slinger' and as a coot better fruits and fillings for his pies -- always hoping some customer would say, 'I savor tasted.'"

Value of Working

"I've been with us only a week, but I've found that full-time knowledge and skills in any field are developed by hard work."
Off Chain Reaction

Monday, Oct. 21 in Hilllreacht lounge.

remanl, club proaldont.

among all people, aaya Red national and international affairs,

waaw closed from 1D42-4& becauae collegiate onconference about local,

dent apeakera participate In inter­

the co-aponaorahlp of the Cal Poly

ted Natlon'a weak," aaya Qhahtot credited at the aaaembly.

program, hold Oct. 11 In C:

accompllah better under aaya Ohahremanl.

of World War It.

aaya Ohahmanl, Portervlllej Bill Christian, Areata; Fred Pitta, San

Farmer conclave held on the Poly campua. Left to right are: Dale Terry, Salinaa; Herb Zimnerman, California's Fred Pitta, San 450 lb. bale was compressed to about half its original size—prob-

by the most dramatic sight ever muals.

Do Rats Outnumber

Remaining Poultry?

Some 3,000 rats were killed in the poultry unit, alone, last year.

How many are there remaining?

Or fast, have the survivors multiplied?

That's an answer soon to be found as Crepe Inspector Bill

Thompson and his rodent control team get underway again.

They are launching a current outbreak control program compa­nies with results, which will to prove new polices, much safer than any of the previous plans. In the limited effect, as they are called into play.

Students are being used as assistants in this program.

SPUDNUTS

Our Winter Spudnut Shop

692 Higuera St.

Ace... Adelita to Me

& Fiber Men

Learn Cotton Story

A story about cotton. The Oil and Fiber men are likely to remember it forever.

After all, they've had a look at the present real step to the basket-field area. A story about modern methods of cotton growing. How cottonseed oil and wax are in the making.

No. 25

THE SEA HORSE

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

This little gee-gee was all at sea. It was enough to upset his equine-unity. He'd been reading about those rush-rush cigarette tests

—the quick snuff, the fast puff. "Hardly the scientific approach," he said in his confusion.

But then he realised that one test is an equine test—a different pigmentation—a thorough, conclusive test of cigarette mildness.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try

Camels as your steady smoke—on a day-after-day basis. No snap judgment. Once you've tried

Camels for 30 day in your "T-Zone"

(T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why.

After all the Mildness Tests,

Camel leads all other brands by billions.
Poly Workers Wear Halos

'El Mustang' is preparing a survey. It's a simple little project. The opinion of that individual might clash with those of many of its readers in feeling that in view of rising costs, if nothing else, this is a phase of student living that needs looking into.

Individual. The opinion of that individual might clash with those of many of its readers in feeling that in view of rising costs, if nothing else, this is a phase of student living that needs looking into.

Football At The Crossroads

The recent cheating (bag pardon, cribbing) at Cal Poly has led to the desire of a potential great gridiron team but also brought to a head a question currently being discussed by many of the country's leading colleges, a question of course, if you will, that has to do with developing a football team. There are those who feel that the band will march on the field, play a few. Following regular marching procedures, the band will proceed.

We must get an investigation committee on the band, we must find out where the real problem lies. Remember the pajama top rally 7 Boy, that was a deal of their old punch and spirit, .

Dear Editor

After Thoughts

At last Saturday's game, a let of new rooters were put Into practice. When we read the newspaper this morning, we found that the band will march on the field, play a few. Following regular marching procedures, the band will proceed.

We must get an investigation committee on the band, we must find out where the real problem lies. Remember the pajama top rally 7 Boy, that was a deal of their old punch and spirit, .

Veteran's Corner

The VA today spelled out the benefits available to students who go on active duty after the outbreak of the Korean conflict, including benefits provided by 21, which was signed by the President, May 11. The VA today spelled out the benefits available to students who go on active duty after the outbreak of the Korean conflict, including benefits provided by 21, which was signed by the President, May 11. The VA today spelled out the benefits available to students who go on active duty after the outbreak of the Korean conflict, including benefits provided by 21, which was signed by the President, May 11. The VA today spelled out the benefits available to students who go on active duty after the outbreak of the Korean conflict, including benefits provided by 21, which was signed by the President, May 11. The VA today spelled out the benefits available to students who go on active duty after the outbreak of the Korean conflict, including benefits provided by 21, which was signed by the President, May 11. The VA today spelled out the benefits available to students who go on active duty after the outbreak of the Korean conflict, including benefits provided by 21, which was signed by the President, May 11. The VA today spelled out the benefits available to students who go on active duty after the outbreak of the Korean conflict, including benefits provided by 21, which was signed by the President, May 11.

The Downbeat

With the first dance but a memory, the Dance committee is busy getting the 1954 freshmen ready for one of the regular quirk-change events. Otherwise, nothing much happening. The 'Cutties' are just loitering around, waiting for something to happen. That will be the upcoming football game.

The band will march on the field, play a few. Following regular marching procedures, the band will proceed.

We must get an investigation committee on the band, we must find out where the real problem lies. Remember the pajama top rally 7 Boy, that was a deal of their old punch and spirit, .

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

If you, sir, are a man of parts.

Part I-The Heads

You told us this morning that the band will march on the field, play a few. Following regular marching procedures, the band will proceed.

We must get an investigation committee on the band, we must find out where the real problem lies. Remember the pajama top rally 7 Boy, that was a deal of their old punch and spirit, .

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

If you, sir, are a man of parts.

Part I-The Heads

You told us this morning that the band will march on the field, play a few. Following regular marching procedures, the band will proceed.

We must get an investigation committee on the band, we must find out where the real problem lies. Remember the pajama top rally 7 Boy, that was a deal of their old punch and spirit, .

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

If you, sir, are a man of parts.

Part I-The Heads

You told us this morning that the band will march on the field, play a few. Following regular marching procedures, the band will proceed.

We must get an investigation committee on the band, we must find out where the real problem lies. Remember the pajama top rally 7 Boy, that was a deal of their old punch and spirit, .
Perelman Proves Malay Life
Ain't What It's Said To Be

By Sidney Shulman

It must have been about 10 days after my arrival on the island of Borneo, in British Malaya, that I first became alive to the fact that I was in the midst of a civilization. It was a dreary, grey, almost X-Mas atmosphere of loneliness, and I found myself alone in my hotel room, a huddled ball of defeated humanity, wondering how on earth I could possibly survive in this strange and wondrous land.

I had been told that the climate was hot and humid, and that the people were lazy and indolent, but I had never expected it to be quite that bad. I had been warned about the mosquitoes, but I had never expected to be bitten by one. I had been told that the food was good, but I had never expected it to be quite that good.

But the worst of all was the loneliness. I had been told that the people were friendly, but I had never expected it to be quite that friendly. I had been told that the hospitals were the best in the world, but I had never expected it to be quite that good.

I was sitting on my bed, wondering how on earth I could possibly survive in this strange and wondrous land, when the door opened and a young man entered. He was dressed in a suit and tie, and he looked very much like a typical American business man.

"Welcome, sir," he said in a very accented voice. "I am the manager of the hotel. What can I do for you?"

"I am a writer," I replied. "I have come to write about this place."

"Ah," he said, smiling. "And you are interested in the Malay culture?"

"Yes," I said. "I am."

"Then you must see the Ribut," he said. "It is a very interesting place."

"What is the Ribut?" I asked.

"It is a place where the Malays perform their ceremonial dances," he said. "It is very interesting to see."

"I would like to see it," I said. "When can I go?"

"You can go any time," he said. "I will arrange it for you."

I was very grateful to the manager, and I thanked him. He then left, and I was left alone in my hotel room, wondering how on earth I could possibly survive in this strange and wondrous land.

As I sat on my bed, I began to write. I wrote about the climate, the food, the people, and the loneliness. I wrote about the Ribut, and I wrote about the经理's kind offer.

As I wrote, I began to understand why this place was called the "Lost City." It was a place where the past and the present coexisted, where the East and the West met, where the modern and the traditional collided.

I was determined to write about this place, to write about the Malay culture, to write about the Ribut. I was determined to survive in this strange and wondrous land.
Pigskin Picks
Near Close Score
Deciding Factor
With Rice out on the wire, it was Walter Ray's last shot--shot up on the white chalk in the closing moments of the game to give Poly a win over Stanford. Poly's win was a result of good defense and a good play by the Poly offense. Poly's defense held Stanford to a 24-21 score. Poly's offensive line did a good job of protecting the ball carriers and keeping the Stanford defense from getting through. Poly's defense also made some big plays, including an interception by John Lewis, Bob Th...
Pugilists Ready Selves For Novice Tournament

By Newt Wakeham

Coach George Prouse started pugilistic workouts this week in preparation for the annual intra-squad novice tournament on Thursday, Oct. 4, with the help of Bill Liddell, 159, last year's versatile 165-pounder. The novice tournament is the annual event for Coach Prouse, since it is from this event that he will select the varsity team.

The heaviest division will open its season in Cannyn gym Jan. 18 against visiting UCLA lifeguards.

Prouse Hypothetical

Coach Prouse has a little hypothetical of this year's experience on the team. Leon Johnson's loss to the army is ineligibility for the first week, and the usual depletion through pre-season practice has not been excessive. Johnson, a 165-pounder, actually has a sound platform on which to build

Flashback Records

Paul Pigick won the Inter-mountain crown at Pomona last year, and in 1950 and 1951 was among the regular regulars. Jim Elam, a Pomona freshman, Coach Prouse has experimented in air maraloa the last two years. Jack Shaw, Pomona football player, is a must for 145 pounds. Jim Corbett, Oakmont, Tel-Aviv, Israeli高中, is a little skeptic. With Bill E. Thomas, Sport. Editor
Les Brown Slated For Local Showing

Les Brown and "The band of millionaires" will appear at the San Luis Obispo Veterans' Memorial Building Friday evening, Nov. 24.

Brown has been named "all-around favorite band" in disc jockey polls and is a millenarian favorite. Several of his records have passed the million sales mark.

Featured vocalist with the band are B Ruth Brown and Lucy Ann Polk. Brown is one of the top comedy vocalists and Locy Ann is one of the favorite female singers in the country.

Traveling "old hat" for Les Brown and the orchestra, since 1940. He has circled the globe 10 times. Les has toured Europe, the Orient and most of the military camps throughout the United States.

The Poly Phase club was employed by the General Electric Company after World War II.

Former president of the Poly Phase club, upon graduation in 1950, by tho General Electric Corporation.

The Voorhees went on from Dixie specialist in technical instruction to agriculture, citrus fruit production, agricultural inspection and land-use gardening.

Chesterfield — Largest Selling Cigarette in America's Colleges