Elected Poly Royal Queen

Geraldine Cox, Santa Barbara college student, was recently selected to become Poly's 18th Poly Royal Queen. The annual "country fair on a hillside" was held on campus on Feb. 16, attended by students from all over the Santa Barbara area and by many Poly students. The event included a dance, talent show, and beauty pageant.

Gauche Blood Not Acceptable Abroad

A special wire from Korea, received late last night, states that Poly's blood bank, stated that further donations of blood from the Santa Barbara area would be impossible.

The only reason stated in the wire was that the alcohol content in the Poly's blood bank was so high that seven chapters of Alcoholics Anonymous had to be notified.

After two transfusions of blood type A-negative, the patient in Poly's hospital was discharged last night. He said, "In heavy, early morning traffic, I opened my car door and it hit the curb. I fell and cut my head. I was bleeding and my face was covered with blood."

"I stepped into a traffic jam and was hit by a car. I was bleeding and I fell on the road. I was bleeding and I fell on the road."

The day's agenda includes a picnic at one of the parks near the Poly campus. At 80, the Poly will play the part of the college in the annual "country fair on a hillside".

Don Perry, general superintendent of Poly's, today said that Poly was not going to ban students from taking part in the "country fair on a hillside".

"It seems that students have the right to participate in any activity on campus," he said.

"I believe that the students should be allowed to participate in any activity on campus," he said.

If you're living in a trailer and complaining about how small the room is, you won't be as pleased as Helen and Grant McPhee, who were among the first settlers in the area. Helen is the former mayor of the town and has lived in a trailer for over 40 years. She and Grant have lived in the same trailer since they were married and have raised their family there. The trailer is small, but Helen and Grant have managed to make it their own with the help of their neighbors and friends.

The trailer is located on a hill, which provides a beautiful view of the surrounding area. Helen and Grant have decorated the trailer with vintage items, including a collection of antique bottles and a large collection of vinyl records. The trailer has two bedrooms, a living room, a kitchen, and a bathroom. It's small, but it's cozy and comfortable.

The trailer is also surrounded by trees and vegetation, which provides privacy and shade. Helen and Grant have planted several fruit trees, including a lemon tree, a peach tree, and an apple tree. They also have a small garden with vegetables and herbs. The garden is tended to by Helen and Grant, who enjoy the fresh produce they grow.

The trailer is located near a small lake, which is a popular spot for swimming and fishing. Helen and Grant often go for a swim in the lake on hot afternoons and enjoy the cool water.

Despite living in a trailer, Helen and Grant have managed to maintain a sense of community. They have formed close relationships with their neighbors and friends, who regularly come over to visit and have dinner. The trailer is a place of warmth and comfort, where Helen and Grant can enjoy the simple pleasures of life.

Marines Offer Commission To Undergraduates

The United States Marine Corps is now offering college undergraduates an opportunity to work toward a commission in the United States Marine Corps Reserve while still pursuing their undergraduate education. Marines will be allowed to work toward a commission in the Marine Corps Reserve while still pursuing their undergraduate education.

The second annual training period is known as the HJ, senior course and is conducted at the Marine Corps School, Quantico, Virginia. Upon completion of the senior course, undergraduates are required to pay a breakage deposit of $40, which may be required to the student for the next academic school year.

O'Reilly Counting On Youth To Put Over Safety Drive

The rate of the campaign has failed. That is why I am calling for a new "Youth Over Safety Drive" over to the youth of the nation," said Mayor J. W. O'Reilly at a recent meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners.

"Our rates of accidents are determined by the prevailing high a speed of the motor vehicle," he said. "We need your help to make our roads safer for all."

"The aim of our home beautification contest is to help improve the community's appearance."

"The campaign is expected to start early in March."

CSTA Sponsors Campus New Look

More attractive techniques and living systems in Poly's Campus to be showcased in a new campus organization, "CSTA." The program will be the first of its kind in the nation. The campaign is expected to start early in March.

New Rodeo League Formed; Point System Abolished

Cal Poly's rodeo team, currently ranked third in the nation, has been named a member of the newly formed National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association. The association will be known as the "Point System." The formation of the conference marks a result of a majority opinion which held that the old scoring system was "unsatisfactory." Rodeo scored, however, as in previous years, will be used in the annual aggregated point total. A scientific and educational organization will be held in Dallas during this May, says this year. The Dallas meet will be regarded as official and the winning school will be proclaimed as champion of the year.
Is White Here To Stay?

Bah! Bah! Bl Bim Bah!

Did you support the first organized rooting section or do you think the section idea is worth supporting? Do you know why it is being tried out?

Its purposes, say the originators, are to show the doubting Thomases in this community that Mustang spirit is still riding high. It provides a concentrated area for organized yells and adds to the show.

Apparent lack of student support is often given as the reason for the low percentage of downtown attendance at our public events. The organized rooting section shows up the student support to best advantage.

The organized rooting section with its white shirts is an experiment that started when an unofficial poll of student body opinion taken last week in class, club, SAC and ICC meetings resulted in an overwhelming show of " cra" from spectators.

All is not bed of roses, however. Some students feel that the whole thing is a bunch of hooey and has no merit whatsoever. They claim that any student should have the right to sit anywhere they want and wear what they want to wear.

Since this matter is soon to come before the SAC for approval or disapproval, we want to know how you feel now that you have seen organized rooting in action. The SAC is representing you, what do you want them to do?

It is not fair, they claim, to have the compartments of "bravo" from spectators.

Two sections at the Santa Barbara game were filled with enthusiastic supporters and many more were unable to find room in the block. More spirit, more yells and an improved atmosphere was the result. A concentrated area for organized yells and adds to the show.

I am in favor of the policy of having an organized rooting section at league games.

The Downbeat

By Don Perry

Yesterday, if you went to assembly, you got an idea of what kind of a week we have had with Paly. In its initial appearance of the year, the Glee club presented a program of numbers that will be used on tour and at the "Home" concert, which will take place in the R.L.O. high school auditorium on the nights of April 17 and 18.

Last Monday night the Gilester elected a new executive officer, the new group at first felt very empty. When Frank Scott was elected into active service, the number was down to 6. When Scott left, new numbers were added to the group. The new group of offices will appear on tomorrow's program. Their names are: Don Perry, secretary; John Pettigrew, treasurer; and Guy Cline, publicity director.

The entire program for this week is so large that it is impossible for the line to print. Since we aren't sure, in fact don't know, the figure "x" known as an exception to the rule of three, our problem is to determine the exact value of 3.984 with a substitution of 86.984.

In the first place, a problem of this caliber should be labeled in the catalogue Math 121: 122 and 456, spreading its working out into three separate quarters in the sophomore, junior and senior academic years. By far, it takes too much concentration to discover accurately, or within the nearest 1000 digits, either way, the answer to such a problem. Most people can't, and don't know, the numerical or alphabetical value of " x", we pick some arbitrary number 9 to represent what we imagine it to be. The first step is to make the equation by a substitution of a demonstration degree angle.

Anyway, with our " x" value established, we now proceed to find the value of 3.984 and its square root, 3.984, stimulating backtracking and thereby the 26 steps required to square root the number. We have to determine it to be equal to the sum of two approximate degree angles and we can, therefore, we take the square root of the number.

Our final step is to be divided by L/SF. In the end, the answer is 3.984, not 5.4, as My roommate had copied it wrong, when he did the homework.

The answer is so darn fouled up, we can see little chance of it ever becoming right. Ever. Can we even explain or comment on your choices if you wish. Do it now!
Music In The Moonlight; Collegians in 16th Year

By Jack White

Many of the men who won der around campus at night will find the music of the Collegians as they held practice sessions.

It has been that way since 1901 when the Collegians were organized. Their music has been a little different than the down-trodden jazz bands, giving it its listeners enjoyment.

In the days when there were only 500 students here, many Collegians played in part of the time with the give clubs. The music was not always appreciated because the college was not then a great place to be and the turnover was getting rapid.

Leaves by Learn

When first organized, they had to go on the assumption that good music made a good orchestra. Before that they had gained a reputation for good music here in San Diego and in many parts of the state.

Today the Collegians are an 18-piece, non-union organization. "We have only two purposes," says Harold V. "D. V." Davids, manager. Davids has been with the group for five years and go on tour with the give clubs. No time has been given him the last three years. Most of the men have been the same around the group, and the cases have been held an average of three years. The Collegians resolve 45% of their time and on all games.

Collegians In 16th Year

The name of the group comprises the only collegiate group in the west. It is one of the two in the nation and a vital part of the university.

"How Now Brown Cow; Back of the Yards"

Want to improve your speaking ability? Alpha Phi Sigma, university humor club, has decided to accept in its membership more than just university students. It has given the group the opportunity to welcome the at large public to join in the fun and to be an integral part of the group.

During the course of two or three meetings, members are given a chance to give three-minute prepared speeches and to read a researched paper. In addition, they have the opportunity to give what is called a "hot seat." The group is supposed to provide a chance to give an opportunity to get into the limelight.

Poultryman Get Ready For Big Drive

"Feel confident that the drive will be entirely successful," says Geno Perig, manager of the drive.

Perry is the manager of the drive and will sign up for an appointment period. It is the Collegians' most important program this year,

The members of the organization are scheduled to extend the solicitation to other people. The drive is scheduled to be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Weather In Aviation

The board of directors of the Alumni association met last night to discuss the possibility of making a trip to an aviation conference. The Alumni association has already decided that the trip will be made.

Several members who have attended the conference in the past have said that it was a good experience.

Racquetmen Begin Practice Feb. 18
California College-Athletic Association tennis champions begin practice Feb. 18 in the hope that they will do better than the team that was left third last year. Coach Gene Smith is fortunate to have five returning veterans from the championship club. They include: Junior Varsity Basketball Coach Ken Wu, Jim Corbett, Modesto Joe Zener, Santa Barbara Ramon Narango, Ben Foran, and Don Bode, Los Angeles.

"The addition of four new tennis centers is a great asset to us this year," Smith says. "It will be able to conduct better practice sessions and will have room for more team members," he predicts.

The court was finished last Spring, mid-way in the season, and the tennis team didn't benefit much from them. They did, however, break them in during one of their summer tournaments.

Only four men have signed up for the team matches of the four teams. Those are Don Zener, Beta Herber, Bob Bobo, Laguna City; George Hunter, Beta Los Angeles and John Cohan, Marina; Cohan, a Berkeley Jr tennis winner, and the four California College team tennis tourney last fall.

However, the hiring of competitive partners, Smith says, "I hope anyone interested in tennis will come out for the squad." The schedule is still incomplete, the first match probably will be played in March.

California College placed second in RCA basketball last year.

Jorgensen's Five May Trip S.F YMI

"We had to set a school record to beat them last year and we are going to give them a tough game this year." That is the prediction of Ed Jorgensen, basketball coach of the Poly Inter-Collegiate club of Polytechnic High School. The YMI is going to San Francisco YMI for a game with thee Peoria YMI.

The YMI will play an annual gym tournament in Peoria tomorrow night for a cup with the YMI. The tournament was won by a score of 92 points, a Poly record, in the YMI's closing game of the Big East last season.

According to Jorgensen, the YMI has been playing up teams in the Bay area and especially has a strong club. The northern quartet scored 40 points against Poly last season while losing, but will be out for revenge in this tussle.

Tipoff time is 8 o'clock.

In the preliminary game starting at 6 o'clock, the Big Four junior varsity has been clipping off all comers with ease, but there's the city league team may offer more competition.

The Mustangs football team, according to the prediction of Ed Jorgensen, basketball coach of the Poly Inter-Collegiate club of Polytechnic High School. The YMI is going to San Francisco YMI for a game with thee Peoria YMI.

The YMI will play an annual gym tournament in Peoria tomorrow night for a cup with the YMI. The tournament was won by a score of 92 points, a Poly record, in the YMI's closing game of the Big East last season.

According to Jorgensen, the YMI has been playing up teams in the Bay area and especially has a strong club. The northern quartet scored 40 points against Poly last season while losing, but will be out for revenge in this tussle.

Tipoff time is 8 o'clock.

In the preliminary game starting at 6 o'clock, the Big Four junior varsity has been clipping off all comers with ease, but there's the city league team may offer more competition.
Prompt Swimming Signs Urged

That's the request of Coach Dick Anderson to all students who intend to enter the inter-class swim meet next week, in grand gym.

Deadlines for registering in the swim meet are Jan. 31, at 5 p.m. and time is running out.

"The appeal of the meet is the number that turn out. We must have a large number to make the meet worthwhile, and it just has to be good," Coach Anderson points out. They can see Anderson at the gym on the bulletin board.

With competition set among seniors, freshmen, junior and senior teams, awards will be given to the winners.

Coach Anderson also hopes to secure a few potentials for future swimming team from the class dates—especially among the freshmen, he notes.

The following events will be included in the inter-class meet. Three-man 100-yard medley relay, 60 yard freestyle relay, 50 yard broadside distance, five-compound relay. Two optional events. Flyers are: 100 medley relay, 25 yard freestyle relay.

Admittance will be free.
