Christmas Formal Draws Large Crowd
By Eugene Kemper

Dancing to the easy-to-listen-to music of the "Californiaan," 300 people attended the Christmas Formal sponsored by the Air Conditioning Club and held in the gym. Themes of the dances were Christmas in "Ye Olden Days" and supported by the tavern-like decorations.

At one end of the room there was a fireplace including a "fire" |wine fountain| which both sides through which could be seen trees, while the other was the side where there was a lighted Christmas tree with a floor lamp and a string band.

Lighting of the dance floor was accomplished by the use of wagons which made it easy to move the lights about. A call of "Merrie Christmas" was made by Mrs. W. H. Bower, A.H. student and President of the Cal Poly Horse Club, and Mr. Philip R. Park, A.H. student and Manager of El Mustang, who played the piano.

After the dance just sitting and chatting while the piano was played was much enjoyed. A few people found a place to do uninterrupted dancing.

Although there was a large crowd at the dance there was still room to do uninterrupted dancing. It seemed that the formal was so well run that there was still room to do uninterrupted dancing.

Vacation Begins On New Library
By Bennett Liebstein

Cal Poly students have discovered that the best way to spend a few interesting minutes between classes was to watch the excavation work being done on the new room for the library building.

The job of moving away the soil was handled by a large crane operated by A. Madrono, San Luis Obispo contractor. General contractor for the construction of the building is the S. J. Hoyt and Bloom, San Francisco.

The excavating material is being used to fill potholes in the upper half.

Way down in the canyon have been the most unusual sight in the canyon.

Excavators working on new library building is of course not at a loss for something to talk about. Whether it be mosquitoes or the cranes or the new building, the students have been kept busy by the lack of things to do.

Information entertainment furnished by the "Three Stooges," who played several numbers, included Jo, Hal and Ray. Each member of the trio was dressed in a different costume.

It was announced during the intermission that the records made by the Collegians and the Cal Poly Glee Club will soon be on sale.

One of the most talked about sides for some time to come will be the Collegians and the Cal Poly Glee Club records and that one of the best records must be in store for some time to come.

Santa Arrives At Poly
By Bennett Liebstein

Santa Claus (Kris Kringle) arrived at Poly yesterday for a brief sojourn before he undertakes his arduous task on Christmas Eve.

Santa was welcomed by C. O. McCorkle, dean of instruction, on behalf of the college, and Brown andcd by Brown as an old student who has been in a few of the Christmas parades.

Santa was to be quartered in "Bachelors' Flats," but after a look at the "Fishbowl," he decided to take a vacant trailer instead.

His eight reindeer, Dasher, Dancer, Donner, Blitzen, Comet, Cupid, Donder and Prancer, were turned in to Dr. Logan Carter's pen for recuperation. At the same time Santa piled up a "reindeer ration" from Mounds, HoYo and Bloon.

Clark's delight, a bit worn out after his long trip from the Pole, was taken to Jim Carrington's vehicle maintenance shop for a thorough thorough check.

Santa's Christmas list and budget was somewhat curtailed, so it was taken into Don Nelson's accounting office for auditing.

Bob Kennedy's "Publications" office has been busy sending out publicity and answering questions from the press on Santa's visit, because Clark is not holding any press conferences.

When asked about his impressions of the campus and farm, Santa replied, "I have long been an advocate of vocational education on a college level. To me 'Learning by doing' is the only way."

Winslow Voted Most Valuable Player Trophy
By John Patterson

Harold Winslow, sophomore right end of this year's Mustang gridironers, will receive the Clarence Brown award it was announced Wednesday.

This award is made each year to the football player voted most valuable by his team mates, by Clarence Brown, local jeweler and member of the Mustang Booster club.

Winner of the same award last year was March Stermann.

Winslow has won several previous honors for his gridiron ability. A former resident of Corrales, he was named All-Southern football player during his high school days. The Collage of Pacific named him to all the major conferences team this year. He also received honorable mention on the NCAA conference squad.

Winslow has been interested in a career in agriculture and in his senior year he plans to receive the annual Clarence Brown award.

He is a superior athlete, good football player, his co-operative team-work, and his steadfastness. He is a sophomore and has two more years of collegiate competition ahead of him.

Student Body Government Explained

By Dan Seater

The bulletin is written primarily to bring some students up to date on campus activities and to put other misinformed or outright wrong.

There are still some clubs or organizations on the campus which have not turned in revised or new constitutions for acceptance.

We, as students, want three copies of your constitution, plus the original document of a constitution approval sheet, which may be obtained from Ver Meacham, dean of student welfare.

So in closing the bulletin, here are some organizations which are not represented in student affairs. All organizations are represented through the joint Inter-club and Inter-departmental council, which meets every other Monday evening in the student body office. This council is composed of the presidents of the various departments, social, and service clubs on the campus, and it represents the Student Affairs Council, the governing body of our college.

It is by this means that you, as students, are represented in the government of Cal Poly. It is up to the members of the various organizations on the campus to see that their presidents attend these meetings and work in this way, so that they are represented, and have a say in what goes on at Cal Poly.

I might mention that anyone on the campus can come to any of these meetings, either the joint Inter-club and Inter-departmental Council, or the Student Affairs Council. Visitors have no vote, but we always welcome suggestions, ideas, and criticism from the student body.

The meeting times are posted on the bulletin board, and are also listed in the "What's Doing" column of El Mustang.

The bulletin is prepared weekly to inform and direct the students into the proper use of the bulletin board and to make it a useful and dependable source of information.

Varsity Quintet Wins One, Loses One

After taking the Chapman College quintet in stride Saturday night by a score of 52-46, the hard-fighting Cal Poly cuse squad suffered its first defeat of the season at the hands of a powerful Pepperdine team, 54-48, Monday night. Pepperdine arrived in Santa Monica around noon, and stopped over at the Charles E. Everts, as noted, Montecito version of the Metrol South Game was played.

Chapman was moved into a repetition of the game with the Mustangs leading most of the way. The usual five started for the locals with Ellis and Coghlan at forwards, Bahr at center, and Moroski and Ross at guards. Ross, according to occasional upsets by captain Moschel, the first half was very evenly played by both teams.

In the second half the Mustangs buckled down and held Chapman pretty well all night. Playing without the services of their ace guard Ross, who squandered his chances just before the half ended, the Mustangs began hauling with Coghlan, Ellis, and Moroski showing the way. The sharp eyes of Coghlan, Moroski, and Ross, along with fine floor play of Bahr and Andrus contributed to the final defeat of Chapman, 52-46. Coghlan had point salvos for the local team with 15 points. It might be added that Andrus brought all 55 people off their seats with an impossible shot seen in the second half.

Against Pepperdine Monday night, the Polymen probably played the best water-polo for the locals against Salinas. Despite losing by a narrow margin of 32-30 score, the Mustangs gave all they had.

At the start of the second half, George, forward. This was the first men honored. 25-46, the Polymen were tied at center and came through by science, he speaks the Japanese language fluently, is modest, and exceedingly helpful.

Polymen's water-polo for the locals Gene Smith and Ellis, along with fine playing by both teams. University of California and was崇尚 the services of their ace guard to the league championship three times between 1937 and 1941. He played by both teams. University of California and was the first man of 54-48. Pepperdine lost a little in the Wimbledon tournament, the first men of the world. But in 1939 to 19393. To 19393. Heads began hitting with Coghlan, California Junior Champion, head basketball Coach Aubrey Bonham playing personally, and they prepared to meet chalk 1937 and 1941. He was also captain of the Northern California Junior Cup squad from 1939 to 19398. It may be asked, "What's so good about that?" Well, listen to this.

In 1932, Smith teamed with Don Rudge to win the California state doubles championship. He toured Asia in 1935 with Wayne Babbage; now playing professionally, and they prepared to meet chalk at the Pacific Coast Invitational Tournament. All of his playing has been strictly in the amateur classification and will continue to be so.

Smith played a well-controlled game, is a stickler for technique, and attempts to outsmart his opposition. Outside of his tennis accomplishments, he is an outstanding botanist and in political science, he speaks the Japanese language fluently, is modest, likeable, and exceedingly helpful.

Intramural Squads Begin Competition
By Byron Culver

The Intramural Basketball tournament began last week with 19 teams taking part in a double elimination format. The tournament will last until February 24.

This intramural program was arranged and developed by Coach Bob Mott who has succeeded in attracting a good representation from Poly's clubs, fraternities, and other groups on the campus.

Aiding in the intramural basketball program are representatives from the Physical Education department. Those candidates for future Phys. Ed. degrees are handling the job of officiating at the games. Officiating takes much time and patience and is sometimes a thankless job. Let's hope that the competitors in the program take this into consideration when unavoidable disputes occur in their games.

The Christmas Story

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

This day in the city of David a Saviour is born unto you; Y e shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Y e shall find the Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger.

The heavens are praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good toward men.

Switch List . . .

By Donald Miller

We pride ourselves in being the greatest democratic nation in the world, but did you ever stop to think how other people do? Do they consider us a democracy as we claim to be under our Constitution?

We take a look at the American way of life from the second world war and its aftermath. Let us not forget that in the democratic way of life there are two sides, the rich and the poor, the educated and the illiterate. In the American way, the rich and well-fed. This may be in the future, but it is not now.

In a country where a man is worth what he makes and where the average man is a vote, we find that the idea of democracy is carried far, i.e., the politicians, the businessmen, the teachers, the professors, and the students, are all democrats.

The key to democracy is education. If a man is given an education, he is given the power to make a decision. If a man is not given an education, he is given the power to be governed.

If we look at the history of the world, we see that democracy is the only form of government that has lasted. It is not because it is the best form of government, but because it is the only form of government that has lasted.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I have just read an article in the New York Times about the American way of life. It was a very good article and it made me think about the American way of life.

I believe that the American way of life is the best way of life. It is not because it is the easiest way of life, but because it is the best way of life.

I would like to see more articles about the American way of life in the future.

Sincerely,

Bob
An Unholy Christmas in the Holy Land

By PHILIP NASSARAH

ED NOTE
Mr. Nassaralah, a native of Lebanon, is living in the United States. He presents herewith his view of the situation in the region of the United Nations in the Arab and Jewish States. Day by day the situation is growing more and more tense as the awaited dread day for action draws nigh.

Quite a tale, this: a child was born in a stable in Bethlehem in the year 1948, free peoples all over the world were celebrating his birthday as a renewal of life, a reminder of friendship, and a call for good to all people. This year Christmas brings with it another year of hope to some, and despair to many. The open manifestation of these hopes of the world and of the UN's approval to partition Palestine into separate Arab and Jewish States, has not brought the desired peace or justice for the people of Palestine. The threat of war looms large as the world watches the developments in the region.

This year Christmas is being celebrated as a time of hope and peace, but also as a time of tension and conflict. The UN General Assembly has failed to achieve a peaceful solution to the conflict, and the situation in the region continues to worsen.

The UN has made several attempts to resolve the conflict, including the partition plan of 1947, which was rejected by Israel and its Arab neighbors. The UN has also established several international organizations to monitor and report on developments in the region, including the UNRWA (UN Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East). However, these efforts have not been successful in achieving a lasting peace.

The recent events in the region have caused concern and alarm in the international community. The situation continues to be volatile and unstable, with frequent outbreaks of violence and conflict. The UN has called for an end to the violence and for a peaceful resolution of the conflict.

This Christmas, let us remember the hope and peace that Christmas brings, and also the need for justice and peace in the Middle East. Let us pray for a lasting peace in the region, and for the well-being of all people in the Middle East. May this Christmas be a time of hope and peace for all.

Musicians Set Date For Annual Spring Tour

By Tallman

The Music department's annual spring tour, which takes the Glee club, the "Collegians" the orchestra, and the two quartets into various parts of the state every year, has been definitely planned for early in March of next year.

For the second time since the end of the war, the musicians will act as ambassadors for the college. The tour departure date has been set at March 7 and will find the boys giving their last concert on March 14.

The tradition of the tour was begun by H. P. Davie's "Davidson shortly after he came to Poly in 1935. Since that time the performance of the musicians has established a brilliant reputation for themselves throughout the state for their formal-informal concerts.

This year the Sacramento valley area has been chosen as the general location itinerary, but no definite concert dates are final as yet. The men will perform a minimum of three programs a day while in this area.

The extensive tour does not draw any funds from the student body or from the school foundation. All trip expenses are taken care of by the men themselves. They not only create good will, but they also pay for it.

The annual Home Concert, presented here every year, will be given shortly after the musicians return from their tour.
