McPhee Goes East to Attend Vocational Education Meets

By John Bleser
Julian A. McPhee, president of Cal Poly, is in Washington, D.C., today after a cross-country trip from San Luis Obispo.

He was called there for meetings of the American Vocational Association, President McPhee will attend the annual Council on Education Friday and Saturday, January 23 and 24, as a delegate, after which he will proceed over to meet the A.V.A. on Sunday through Wednesday, January 26-29.

The agenda of the American Vocational Council includes talks and discussions on such topics as the needs and role of the Marshall Plan in relation to education and training.

President McPhee will visit the White House and will be present at the National Conference on Education.

By virtue of being president of the American Vocational Association, President McPhee will attend the White House Conference on Vocational Education. The conference will be held Monday, January 26-30, at the White House.

McPhee will be in Washington as consultant on youth employment, to present the problems of youth employment, was asked that he be available for use by local organizations and community leaders.

Electrical Construction Shop Benefits Students

Cal Poly's fame is attributed to the simple fact that here education is being conducted from the practical point of view rather than from the theoretical. With this idea constantly in mind, the Electrical department is broadening the scope of its construction shop.

George Abel, newly appointed head of the shop and responsible for its present activity, came to Poly with 32 years of practical experience. Starting his training in the Westinghouse corp. shops, he has worked his way up from a stock room boy to supervisor on large power installations, and has won the honorary title of a practicing engineer.

The shop, still in a growing stage, will attempt to provide the students with the opportunity to perform practical work in electrical construction. Electrical work is constantly going on in the classroom, since Poly's campus electrical lines are in construction and expansion. The class finds a multitude of opportunities for students to become involved in practical work. The shop is organized in accordance with commercial enterprises, each job having a foreman and a crew of men. Foremen are chosen from students who have had past experience.

In order to broaden their knowledge, the shop students have the chance of seeing weekly films, secured by Abel from nationally known sources, describing work in modern industry.

LOIS LECHEROS MEET

The Los Lecheros club held its regular meeting last week. The club was entertained by two speakers, Ray House and George Love, former Cal Poly students. Ray House gave a short talk on the "Far Western League Changes." Love spoke on the subject of Alaska. He brought out many interesting points, such as milk selling a 46 cents a quart.

MOUNT BISHOP ROAD TO BE CLOSED

The closing of Mount Bishop road during certain hours of the day will start in the near future according to R. A. Steiner, secretary of student activities. This action was deemed necessary by the administration to combat the continuous speeding at the lower end of the road. A few cases of cattle being hit have been reported.

The closing time has not been set, but members working all day Saturday just before church hour will have to return before 4 o'clock Monday. The closing time will be announced soon.

 started Friday night with club members working all day Saturday to make the dance a success. Stage dressed and colored lights for the stage lighting were lent by Mel Decken, Poly Phase member. According to several persons who were in attendance at the dance, it was very successful and was one of the best dances yet this year.

Glee Club Entertains Faculty Wives Club

Tuesday evening, January 16, members of the Cal Poly Men's Glee club ventured to the Hillcrest area to present a program which was representative of what the club has in store for the rapidly approaching concert season.

The glee club, under the direction of H. P. "Davy" Davidson, attired in their newly purchased uniforms, presented a capsule program as a part of the entertainment. Featured on the program was the College Chorus which sang three selections.

Dances of the home comers, which have been changed from those originally announced, will appear in the next issue of the El Mustang. Concerts will be presented on two consecutive nights to appeal adequate seating for all people who plan to attend.

YOUNG FARMERS, POLY
PHARE MEET JOINTLY

Joint meeting of the Cal Poly Chapter of the Young Farmers and the Poly Phaeee club has been planned for Thursday evening, January 15, in the Engineering auditorium.

The Young Farmers are to be the hosts for the event, and performers for the program will include the Cal Poly Collegiate quartet, a dance that will also be sponsored by the club, and the entertainment will include several numbers. The meeting will be open to all students who are interested in the event.

PHI DELTA KAPPA MEETS

The meeting was held in the clubroom last Thursday evening, in the J. C. room, and special arrangements were made for the visitors from Shandon and Pomona, Calif. Hodgeet is one of the state's outstanding poultry breeders. He spoke to the members on several of the important phases of poultry business, and was asked many questions after his speech ended.

A talk will be given by three members of the Cal Poly Phaeee club that night.

The organization was founded at Lafayette college in Easton, Pa., on December 16, 1925. It has eight chapters in the state of California.

Aztecs Tomahawk Mustangs In Closing Minutes

A scrappy but undermanned Mustang team went down to defeat at hands of San Diego State Saturday, steeling by the score of 49-39 in a game that wasn't decided until the last three minutes...The game was all tied up at the last three minutes to go, 39-39, when San Diego got two points by White Titara. At this point San Diego began throwing forward subs into the game to fairly run away from the tireless Mustangs. Poly drew first blood as Titara, who incidentally played on the Mustangs, who had to retire from the game in the first minute of play due to an attack of virus "X." Bob Batae finished out the half and did a very creditable job. The Mustangs drew another blow when Jim Ellis had to retire to a cut with a personal foul midway in the first half. The first half was not the way, with neither team ever out to build up by much. The clubs were at intermission with the score reading 26-21 in favor of the Saints...

The second half was nip and tuck as the game was totally to Poly in the game, but the inevitable was at hand. Titara's performance seemed to provide most of the spark to the Poly and the game continued through to its up 36-38 with the Mustangs starting to close in on the game. Here's where the roof fell in as the Aztecs ran wild in the last three minutes to score 13 points to take the Mustangs completely but three. Dick Barnes, the only ringer in the game, was finished off in the last minute with fouls, butty conference, was finished off in the fouls with six minutes left. But his foes of San Diego went to game anyway, 49-38.

As far as the Mustangs concerned it was again a case of running out of gas. San Diego was the big guy in the Poly of offense and defense. Mr. Batae scored 11 points as Batae finished with 9. It seemed after a very successful working outfit built around a giant by the name of Dick Barnes, who was high point man for the night with 18 digits.

Come to think of it maybe that was the whole solution to winning our home basketball games this year, or maybe picking up a few extras on the road. It's a cliché if the clock work had been a little smoother at the end held in the other night we could have walked off with the game. And just to think what would have happened next year if Pepperdine's Whitter M. (Mack) Peck could have given us a game for our games. George M. The Mustangs went underdog, and unseeded upset. We never got a bowl bid but we did beat Santa Barbara 3-0 when Leslie Rios dropped kicked a 25-yard field goal for the only score of the game. Also proved it was no fluke by kicking another one for 50 yards the following year to beat Bakerfield SC 5-0.

It seems the need of more assistant coaches is the campaign in nothing other. The year book of 1915—"Coach Outhouse can't be given too much credit for the splendid work he has done this year. The Mustangs are a team formed from the backs and the line and he is in charge of the backs and the line, not being able to give enough inspiration. At this time must have been his assistant and the players did not respond to their coaching.-'

The gift for the Mustangs in the game was a classic even today when they see anything can happen. It seems that, our ever present, Lucky Fry was having a bad day. During the game two of Fry's points were blocked and both of them were recovered by the visiting Santa Rosa team in our end zone for safeties. With the score 4-0 against the Poly boys and with just seconds to play, a Mustang tackle by the name of Vic Colburn leaped high into the air, intercepted a pass, and proceeded to run 54 yards for a touchdown. Final count, Poly 5; Santa Rosa 4. All this it and it never even made the Bill Stein program.

DOGS ARE DOGS

We have been directed by some higher power to write an editorial about our own dogs. Readers have pointed out how common this was, so here goes. We have three dogs. In short these are the names we promised we wouldn't use. But the opinion of various men of vast power had a direct effect on the canine number. In short they disapproved of the numbers. There isn't much that we can do about rising prices, but there are a few things which might help the situation.

The forces receive a kind of worried support from a man named Branham, whose name was promised we would not draw into print. He has an anxious little whip which he is constantly reaching the ages where she will no longer be interested in male companionship. In short, the world is run by men.

We made a minor survey without really getting in touch with our interviewees to learn how they felt about this situation. We mean the general situation... not the aging wire-haired ones.

Dr. Leach of the chicken coops feels that dogs lead to cats, and cats carry germs which jump off on chickens, causing them to lay 'stuffy' eggs.

Major Deuel mustered his forces and banished all dogs. Nogogles, Matre de Campi, cheered this move as a step towards greater conservation of food, and Nogogles and Matre de Campi are not always on the same plane.

Recently, however, a new force has crept in. Their ranks are strong and they have the will to fight. Questions are being asked as to why the students are being denied the necessary companionship heralded in song and book across the nation. They demand that Miss's Best Friend be given the equal rights that many swine, sheep and an overbred horse enjoy.

Their forces receive a kind of worried support from a man named Branham, whose name was promised we would not draw into print. He has an anxious little whip which he is constantly reaching the ages where she will no longer be interested in male companionship. In short, the world is run by men.

Major Deuel was most emphatic on the issue. In fact only a couple of weeks ago he expelled Dopey, black-haired, sad-eyed, little dog to his home town down south. This had a most beneficial effect on theoster, Barker, and Jack Murray. His grades are slipping and he is off of campus.

We went in to ask Mr. Kennedy for an opinion on this matter. As usual, he said, "I'll bite." Agreeing that he might do just that we withdraw and decide to place the matter in the hands of our readers. If your letters show that you wish your dogs to re-infest the campus we will take up the cudgel. We have not had a good editorial campaign around here since we tried to push the sale of beer in El Corral.

INFLATION

The margin between living and existing gets even narrower each year now. When the very cost of food in the cafeteria jumps another six cents and up goes the cost of everything so common place this past year that we take this small jump in stride, almost. There isn't much that we can do about it. Nevertheless, we make it through, as usual, by drawing our supply from the public domain I quote... the words were written by Meade lawyer.

We are beginning to realize the sad plight of a fallen English gentleman who seeks refuge in joining the army as a "ranger," instead of doing the usual thing of indulging in excesses. God bless, and the "Whiffs" whatever they may be.

The poem goes on about the sad plight of a fallen English gentleman who seeks refuge in joining the army as a "ranger," instead of doing the usual thing of indulging in excesses. God bless, and the "Whiffs" whatever they may be.

Refutation: a - Discrimination between sexes, besides being condemned by law and the constitution, is incompatible with the very spirit and educational foundation of this school. We simply cannot "co" along with one sex and cast off with the other.

It is true that the school has finally created the role of discrimination in education and marriage but the role is all the same.

This issue is simply indivisible, and if we are comfortable with the teachings which we should be the case, we are, then, we must think outside the box and equating system of education.

We are, then, outside the box.

Refutation: I - Are you one of those emotionally fragile people who form a psychological problem. They have been categorized by the psychiatrist and the therapist. These are a few of the reasons: a - They emotionally fragile people form a psychological problem. They have been categorized by the psychiatrist and the therapist.
Young Farmers To Meet In Modesto

An invitation to hold the ninth annual California Young Farmers convention on the Cal Poly campus will be made by Jim Jinap, and R. N. Yeurman at the ninth annual California Young Farmers convention to be held in Modesto, February 5, 6, and 7.

Among the highlights of the three day's activities will be the zero meeting Thursday night, a business meeting Friday morning and three tours—one to a dairy, one to the Shell Oil company, and one through an advertising center.

Friday night there will be a banquet, N. R. Miller, chief electrical engineers of the navy shipyard in San Francisco, who was an eye-witness at Bikini, will be the speaker and show a motion picture, "Operation Crossroads."

Another speaker for Friday will be Richard Warner of the State Dairy Advisory council.

Saturday morning's sessions will be the final business meeting.

Meal Prices Hit New High

Effective February 1, meal prices at both cafeterias will be increased the following:

Breakfast .46
Lunch .50
Dinner .65
Meat ticket .85

The increase has been calculated for some time by the cafeteria directors. The final announcement was withheld for several months in hopes that there might be a decline in food prices or that increased volume in meals served in the cafeteria might offset the rising prices and make unnecessary an increase in prices to the students. It is evident, however, that a rise in food prices rather than a decline is to be anticipated in the near future.

During the fiscal year ending August 31, 1947 the cafeteria losses amounted to $18,154.45. It is evident that this condition cannot continue if the present high standard of quality is to be maintained.

A healthy, normal living.

3. Inhibition, on the other hand, may breed indulgence. Just observe the reactions in our publications and meetings, talk and jokes.

Some coeducational advocates have termed, "sexy stuff in a college setting." Coeducation is not satisfied, the "how," becomes a necessity of coeducation is established, the "why" of the movement becomes reduced to an easily refutable fact.

In a Poly where we have seen these traits are desirable by-product, nevertheless, it would be impertinent and detrimental to just propagate their movement. While inhibition to assure a booming advertising gag, the indubitable fact may breed indulgence. Just observe the reactions in our publications and meetings, talk and jokes.

Faculty Attends Economic Lectures

The president of the Cal Poly faculty who attended the Institute on the Teaching of International Economic Relationships were Dr. Robert H. Sennett, a. W. Crickshanks, Ralph W. Ditto, M. E. Smith, and W. Lowy. The conference started Saturday, January 17. The colleges represented were Humboldt State, Chico State, Sacramento college, University of San Francisco, University of Santa Clara, and several junior colleges in the bay area.

Summarizing the remarks of Dr. J. B. Conniffe, director of the Teaching Institute of Economics, Dr. Sennett pointed out that ideas of the workers are always worth digging for. The workers aren't interested in economic theories, but in "The Heart of Life." Dr. Conniffe believes that we are undergoing changes today that are as significant as the economic changes of the sixteenth century when we began with practically no industrialization and developed highly industrialized enterprises.

Dr. Sennett requires that the second notes commend the method of teaching economics. Other points were the increasing number of students and the subject material becoming more difficult.

Dr. Bioticki concluded with this report: Dr. Conniffe's contact with business men led him to feel that people and the world in general need students with imagination who can think straight in their field in particular, and know how to deal with their fellow-men.

Ski Club Enjoy Visit To Winter Playground

On December 30 eleven members of the Cal Poly Ski club took off for the snow covered peaks of Badger pass, located in Yosemite National park. Although one group was delayed because of a forgotten hotel reservation, all of the group arrived at Badger in time for plenty of skiing Saturday afternoon, and all stayed through the following Tuesday.

Of the many interesting sights in Yosemite, none was more entertaining than John Zetkov dangling by his hands and twirling gracefully from one of the short T-bars of the ski lift.

Four minor casualties were sustained by club members Chuck Hendel, Cliff Reid, Bob Newell, and Bill Curtiss. Other members of the club who travelled to the area of the Eskimo were Oscar Bettendorf, Dick Bledabaeh, Bob Amato, Aaron Abrahamson, and Shunro Nomura.

David H. Meeker, Aero dept. instructor and recently splinted club sponsor, accompanied the group.

The club is planning to make additional trips to Yosemite and Mt. Ash during the remainder of the season.

Crops Club Plans Dance

With the almond blossom season coming up, the Crops club members held their monthly meeting January 14 in hopes plans for the Valentine's dance, for which almond blossoms are the traditional decorations. The dance will be held February 14 in the college gym featuring the Collegians. John Taylor volunteered to be the club's Inter-Club Council delegate and John Schaub volunteered to be Poly Royal representative of the club in place of Ray Garrett, who has been selected as the Agricultural division committee man.

It is urged that all members interested in the club dances attend the next meeting February 4 in the Administration building, room 214, to help make the dance a success.
