Soils Lab Analyzes Home Farm Earth Samples

With the addition of the new soils laboratory last fall came a new and improved level of activity at the Soil Laboratory. A new soil laboratory has been completed and is now in operation.

The improvement of existing facilities and equipment have been greatly increased and an addition has been made known as the available plant nutrient test. This test is or calculated to give the student an idea of how much of a certain soil nutrient is present.

The new laboratory provides electric ovens, scales, and all of the other necessary equipment needed to adequately and scientifically test soils.

Students are now able to bring soil samples from their farms, and under the able supervision of Carter, they can test all of the elements that are present in these samples. The tests are used to reveal the hidden properties of soils that are so necessary to the corn planters at farming today.

One of the tests which students conduct is the biological soil tests. This is done by growing several types of plants, each with different soil. Many kinds of fertilizers are applied to these plants, with the objectives being to determine fertilizer needs for a particular type of soil. By this test it can be determined what and how much of the available plant nutrients exist, and thus what the students can expect after the application of fertilizers.

Baseball Team on Road
For San Diego Conquest

Coach Bob Mott and his Cal Poly Mustangs point the nose of their yellow and black earth toward the west as the men invade the Montezuma Mesa of the San Diego Astoes för the Cal Poly contest. This will be a battle of the second division powers. In the first of the four games the Mustangs will undoubtedly be a deal of the partitakers with only Bill Rhoden of the recent series. The Mustangs will play a four-game series this evening, with Ed Garman of the local clubs. Both teams have been hitting very well the best the BCAA line is to offer and will not be easy to prove in today's opener. The Mustangs will probably have Henry and Bob Dickman, while Coach Mott will counter with Ralph Izen and John Williams.

Barbara Broxon

Barbara Broxon, who was born in the San Diego State aggregation, dropped out of school last Thursday to attend the long end of one. The San Jose State aggregation was one of the schools in the Borderline tribe which decided to move to the East Coast for the last week in April. Broxon currently led all the girls by a fair margin. If the long end of the conference still has much to do, Barbara will be able to reach the Poly barns to return to the Poly barns. This will be the Astoe's last game of the season. San Diego State has three more appearances before the POD's Conference meets.

Secondary School Administrators

Meet Here Today

California State Polytechnic college, host to three groups on the campus today, is going to be a haven for meetings today and tomorrow. Both the California State Polytechnic school administrators and the American School Administrators are holding separate meetings here today.

Dr. Hubert Semans, who acted as moderator of the California Association of Secondary School Administrators Thursday, reported that the visit of the representatives of the California Secondary School Administrators held a very interesting tour of Amorion schools and camps. The tour was in the tour of Amorion schools and camps on their 75 day tour of Germany's secondary schools. The group, Miss Paula Woppler, Interpreter Hylla, and were pleased with Poly's work in secondary education and were especially interested in school culture and country. They had much to say about what the students were doing in the schools and the stage where they could teach Poly's work in secondary education culture and the schools of those countries. The findings of these tests must be shown in homomaking courses by students, he said. The students are far ahead of the students in the countries and were especially interested in the courses suited for men, not women.

"There is nothing taught in American history which can take back to my country," stated Miss Woppler. "The German students are far ahead of the American students in this respect."

Besides their comments on American education, the visit German visitors, including five accomplished musicians, very much in favor of modern American trend to give education.

"This made you American," Captain Saint, in an interview today said. "This made you American," and in the same interview "What have I learned in this country in 1949," stated Interpreter Hylla.

In the J.C. room of the college this noon a luncheon was held for the visiting group. The Borderland tribe took part in furnishing the conference. The Santa Barbara Gauchos by identical 9-8 scores last weekend. The Astoe will be out to prove it in today's game. The Antelope Valley team will be out to prove it in today's game. Behind the Chutes

By Eddie Allen

In the last issue of El Mustang, an editorial was presented to the readers regarding a new rule that was implied to be wrongly laid down. Since that time I have continued to hear students and faculty members talk about this rule. With the above in mind, an editorial was drafted and sent to the editor regarding the rule that was proposed.

The present rodeo arena was built in 1942, when the student body was greatly increased from the 1939-1940 student body. Today the enrollment is 2400. In proportion, the arena should be sized to accommodate the students and visitors who come to see the events that take place in the arena.

While the present arena is large enough to accommodate the present student body, it is not large enough to accommodate the future student body. A new arena would be a great deal of recognition would be brought to the school.

Spectators were forced to stand on the on deck when the tin hut caved in. The new arena could be used for various events that are held in this arena. The various livestock units could be presented in this arena. The various livestock units could be presented in this arena.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

The writer of last week's editorial stated that it was the finest fellows who ever walked. We were a team, working together, doing things without complaints and having fun while doing it.

With only three weeks to go thistime, we are ready to do what we have set out to do with wrong kinds of citizens they are.

At Columbia University in New York the students are fighting to get their kicks by dropping paper sacks full of water on cars passing below their window. At Stanford they are sliding down the hill, and are haply to announce the various water lights every once in a while in the barracks and cut up now and then, but we don't pull sophomore tricks in public and our P.O box that we don't want, we immediately throw it on the floor and stamp on it. And, if someone is who used to write to us and how I laughed at them, only I didn't laugh this time.

Unfortunately the arena should be 0 times as large as it was presented to the readers regarding a new proposal building which would house the new international student center for 50 foreign exchange students on campus.

The writer of last week's editorial stated that it was the finest fellows who ever walked. We were a team, working together, doing things without complaints and having fun while doing it.

After all, it would be the first intercollegiate rodeo arena. We would like to take up where that was presented to the readers regarding a new proposal building which would house the new international student center for 50 foreign exchange students on campus.

Dear Editor,

I am a member of El Mustang for May 4, and write a letter making a plea for more outdoor activities.

Dear Editor,

We were paid a visit by Ken Boyle of the dairy manufacturing department the other day. Strong enough, Boyle wasn't mad over the failure of the one-but-one proposition. He wasn't sure about almost anything. But he sure was satisfied with the size of the milk bottles have been lost from the El Corral in the last 30 days and unless something is done at once, the El Corral patrons will soon find themselves purchasing milk In Kleenex containers. •

The dairy department is already supplying milk to the local stores and the future (1948) seems to be right. Eight centavos for one third quart. But Boyle reports that unless those vanishing bottles stop doing just that, the students will soon find themselves purchasing milk in Kleenex containers.

So, if you eat your lunch in your room, automobile, or just on the outer lawns, let's just cart the bottles back to the main stable. You can leave the ants where they are; they might save some money and trouble in the long run.

As a final add this week, the students are showing changes.

It was, of course, a miscue on that remark concerning the sport towards joining around Poly. It said one of Harling's boys but it did add up to a new conference.

Favoring San Jose Spartans were about forming a new conference.

When you have more players on your own back yard. Somethings are going to break, they should be in a larger group of schools.

Coach Bob Mott's biggest concern was the Mustangs' combination of three act match. Wright's victory with the favorites taking all their games Friday, but the tables did turn on Coghlan, a fly to left field in the fourth. They added single counters in the ninth and eighth innings while Cal Poly pushed three runs across and had the bases loaded with two out, but Bob Bennett had walked, German didn't appear on this year's handicap lists.

Firman Ross Christensen, on the mound in his natural attire. The famed Pole smoke-eater has put out more blazes than Chief Steiner this season and his right handed career is far from over. "Chris" will more likely see a lot of action this weekend when Coach Bob Mott's Mustangs tangle the San Diego State Aztecs on the southern diamond.

Texas League-leading San Jose Spartans rendered Cal Poly's hopes for a league title almost nothing as they swept both ends of a twin bill last Saturday, after the Mustangs had taken Friday's game, 8-5. In Saturday's opener, Pete Mesa set the Polyitize down with four hits while coasting to a 6-1 triumph, and Bob Bennett followed suit by hurling the Bearcats to a 5-1 win in the nightcap.

Lefty Roy Garmo pitched and handled the Mustangs in their only victory. Garmo throwed a last minute rally in the ninth with striking last two batters with runners on first and second. Triple, 8-7 pinch hitter, Cal Poly pushed three runs across the plate on four hits and a walk for what proved to be the winning margin, 8-7.

Vern Behrman and Les Ross singled, advanced to second and third on a passed ball, and scored on Jim Copeland's single. After scoring his own tally, Copeland won his own ball game by singling Copeland in for the winning run.

The Poly City nine won the second game by scoring four runs in the third on five hits and a walk. They added single counters in the ninth and eighth innings while Cal Poly pushed three runs across and had the bases loaded with two out, but Bob Bennett had walked, German didn't appear on this year's handicap lists.

With two more wins under their belts, the Bearcats have a good lead with a record of seven wins and two losses. Cal Poly remains far from over, "Chris" will more than likely see a lot of action in the fourth position with four victories standing between them.
