Ad building basement Thursday evening—early. But the paper man’s one early assignment to clarify the customarily mad mob At 9:18 a.m., Thrus. Bes. 10, they battered down the door.

Ye, there was the Pridge paper. A whole stack of them. On habit the mob was in a nature that the copy desk. With clutching hands, class of 6 Mustang. They rushed through the door first were crushed by those who came through the door second. Four men were taken to the dispensary for anti-suffocation treatment, and several bikes were disassembled by the gaol. Additional heat lamps were arranged from the hotel inns to manage the numerous doubtful lull.

Mystery

Unusually, the question mark in the coffee shop, they cried. The papers had all been ripped to shreds in the rush before anyone could read them. No one seems interested in questioning. The printers and editors of 6 Mustang, having been up all night, were all in the saddle.

That Game Spirit

Last Saturday night's game with the University of Mexico, it turned out, was a new experience for the fan-campus. Not only did the team with a decisive, though not humbling score, while playing the entire bench, but a number of new and exciting elements were being gratifying to the Rally club members who work hard and long hours to make the stadium vivacious.

The card stunts evidenced much improvement over last year, and we may believe that the Rallyistas will be spring-ning more advanced, intricate card maneuvers as the season progresses. While the band did not march, they nonetheless gave an excellent account of themselves, and the next game is sure to be even more enjoyable for the spectators when Betty Jo and Art Gandy lead this fast-marching troop onto the turf at Fresno tomorrow.

Judging from audience reactions, the four student wives, Vera, Betty, Maggie, and Valerie, with the support of Charlie Blank, Charlie Wilson, and Bob Honey, will be with us as song leaders for a long time. They put on a top show and really sparked the roosters. One observer reported that the girls were "dog tired" from the evening's work-out—we think our new song leaders deserve a round of thanks, and we predict that the vote which Bob Bowman has in mind will be a unanimous "aye!"

But the high point of the evening, as indicated by the tickets sold in advance, was the Rallyettes, whose board reporter sternly stated that the sale of rosettas was progressing nicely, and that the goal of 2,000 caps is not far out of sight. All of these things are important. Each item contributes its part toward a successful school year—another step toward putting Polly on the map.

As for the football team—well, they came through.
Next week, the new Mustangs will face the Taxi, and we may believe that the Rallyistas will be sprucing up the campus. How this comes to pass we don't know, but we are sure to be a correlation between a tidy and home-like room and good study habits. Regular study should be given by both the school and its individual students.

Serious study should be given by both the school and its students in obtaining charters in worthwhile national organizations. They are more than social stepping stones; they are the building blocks for the future of the graduate and the school. —M. E. B.

Timely Milestone

A big step forward in gaining national recognition for both Cal Poly and the industrial division came in the new charters for a student branch of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Associated with the chapter for the student branch of the Institute of Radio Engineers, Cal Poly and its industrial students, as well as the campus, have an outstanding organization with professional contacts and friendly relations with professional societies composed of practical engineers in this field. Such contacts are essential to the growth of prestige and academic recognition of the Cal Poly students, whose aim it is to achieve recognition by competing with those of other, more well-known schools.

New names to be added to this list of those professors and engineers who are directly or indirectly connected in such organizations as the BAE and IEEE aid in commanding the attention of the public in the field of industry. Affiliations of this type should be of great importance to both the college and the individual student, for the futures of both are either directly or indirectly connected.

Serious study should be given by both the school and its
students in obtaining charters in worthwhile national organi-
the building blocks for the future of the graduate and the school. —M. E. B.
GRADUATE RECORD EXAMINATION

The GRE test is offered in three broad fields of undergraduate study, and advanced level tests of achievement in various subject matter fields. According to ETS, candidates are permitted to use books, notes, and dictionaries in the GRE. Admissions offices may be obtained from the GRE test. The GRE offers a battery of tests of general achievement in a number of fields, including English as a second language, mathematics, and quantitative reasoning. Students are allowed to use dictionaries in the GRE. Admissions offices may be obtained from the GRE test.

Mustangs Turn Back Puma Warriors, 42-2

By Al Barton

Cal Poly started the moving midway in the first period as Bill Holby passed from the Mustang 38 to end Charlie Weber, who took it in for the 5-0 lead. Weber did well down the left sideline to score. A few minutes later, Halfback Dave Bina went wide around left end and captured the safety man in the goal line. Just before the end of the first half, Weber touched end. The Mustangs scored the first half and will be looted for an indefinite time.

THE SPORTLIGHT

Green and Gold sports got off to a successful start for the 48-52 season last week as the Mustang gridders trampled the University of Mexico, 42-8. It was apparent from the pregame box that the Mustang running attack was not functioning as smoothly as it should against the weak and light Pumas. This can be explained by the fact that the Mexicans did not use a consistent style of defense and that many new men on the team had not played together enough to achieve the necessary thing. I noted that on several trap plays the defenders unknowingly failed to be sucked in, thus throwing the blocking assignments off kilter.

Frome Game View

Turning to tomorrow's game with Fresno State, three factors were to be expected in the Mustang defense. First, the Mobbers are a very strong team on an even footing. Quarter- back Club. It's a thriller, 7-8. Other coast schools with a running start are Oregon over St. Mary's (84-7). California over Santa Clara (81-7).

LET GO... says Fresno Haliback Johnny Morse as he tries to break away from a would-be Mustang tackler, Roy Stewart, in last year's game with the Bulldogs. This year, Morse has just shaken off his early season ineligibility, and intends to run the ball away from a would-be Mustang tackler, Ray Stewart, in next week's game. Fresno State was upset by the locals, 26-M — a score.

El Mustang, ragged tomorrow, as he checked was upset by the locals, 26-M — a score. Last year's eligible for this early season ineligibility, and intends to run the Mustang game by a would-be Mustang tackler, Ray Stewart, in next week's game.
