New department head for Food Science, Nutrition
Roger Clemens, scientific advisor in Nestle USA’s Nutrition Division in Glen dale, has been appointed department head of the Food Science and Nutrition Department, effective July 1-June 2001. ¶

Stoney
Ellen Terry Stoney, home-economics professor emerita, died April 7 in San Ore.
Stoney joined the home economics faculty in 1961, teaching child developm ent. From 1966 to her retirement in 1978, she was the home economics teacher educating responsible for the largest home economics education program in California.

Information competence workshop still has space
A few openings are still open for this summer’s Faculty Information Competence Workshop from 9 am to 3 pm July 27-30.
The workshop will pair participants with other faculty members and librarians to integrate information competence within their course work.
Compensation will be provided for participants.
Cal Paul Adalain at ext. 6-3767 for information and an application. ¶

Free access offered to RAND California Web site
Cal Poly, along with all other CSU campuses, has free access to a RAND Corporation information service through the end of June.
The RAND California Web site is at http://ca.rand.org. It is a service of the Santa Monica-based RAND Corp., a public policy research organization and the nation’s largest think tank.

Free gifts build weight room for Athletics
Donations of cash and services helped build a new $150,000 weight room for Intercollegiate Athletics.
Coaches, players and officials believe the new equipment and the 3,400-square­ pace, completely remodeled from an unused locker area, will help Cal Poly’s 500 intercollegiate athletes better compete in Divisions I, II and III.

Free gifts build weight room for Athletics
Donations of cash and services helped build a new $150,000 weight room for Intercollegiate Athletics.
Coaches, players and officials believe the new equipment and the 3,400-square­ pace, completely remodeled from an unused locker area, will help Cal Poly’s 500 intercollegiate athletes better compete in Divisions I, II and III.

Free gifts build weight room for Athletics
Donations of cash and services helped build a new $150,000 weight room for Intercollegiate Athletics.
Coaches, players and officials believe the new equipment and the 3,400-square­ pace, completely remodeled from an unused locker area, will help Cal Poly’s 500 intercollegiate athletes better compete in Divisions I, II and III.

Free gifts build weight room for Athletics
Donations of cash and services helped build a new $150,000 weight room for Intercollegiate Athletics.
Coaches, players and officials believe the new equipment and the 3,400-square­ pace, completely remodeled from an unused locker area, will help Cal Poly’s 500 intercollegiate athletes better compete in Divisions I, II and III.

Free gifts build weight room for Athletics
Donations of cash and services helped build a new $150,000 weight room for Intercollegiate Athletics.
Coaches, players and officials believe the new equipment and the 3,400-square­ pace, completely remodeled from an unused locker area, will help Cal Poly’s 500 intercollegiate athletes better compete in Divisions I, II and III.
Ag Students prepare for visit by Danish students

Cal Poly agriculture students will learn how agricultural practices in the United States differ from those in Denmark when 36 Danish college students visit the campus today and tomorrow (April 21-22).

The Danish delegation and two teachers are traveling to Cal Poly from Dalaun Agricultural College, a small school in the city of Odense, in the heart of Denmark.

Their visit is part of a 10-day educational trip that will also take them to Las Vegas, the Grand Canyon, and the San Joaquin Valley, where they will visit a number of large farming operations.

The Danish delegation has agreed to be "our program" on Thursday, April 22, and teach us all about agriculture in Denmark," said Joe Sabel, director of outreach services for the Agricultural Education and Communication Department.

The visit, arranged by student and Ag Ambassador Amy DeRoose and Sabel, will include visits to local vegetable growers, vineyards, and orchards as well as dairy, pork, and beef livestock operations.

The Ag Ambassadors is a group of approximately 50 students in the College of Agriculture who help promote the university's agricultural programs to high schools and community colleges.

Liz Posalski reception planned for today

The campus community is invited to a reception for Liz Posalski, administrative secretary in the provost's office, from 2:30 to 4:30 pm today (April 21) in the Veranda Cafe.

Posalski, 42, began at Cal Poly in 1989 in Telephone Administration, is leaving the university to travel and relocate to the Bay Area.

In the dark on where to park?

This regulation is intended to keep drivers of anticipated lot closures and changes in parking availability. For more information, call Parking and Commuter Services at ext. 6-5141.

• Wednesday, April 21, 5 to 9 pm: 120 parking spaces at the C-1 and C-2 lots have been reserved by University Advancement.

• Friday, April 23, 7 am to 5 pm: 150 parking spaces in the H-14 lot at the top of Via Carta have been reserved for the Counselors Conference, sponsored by Academic Affairs.

• Friday, April 30, 8 am to 8 pm: 30 parking spaces in the C-2 parking lot will be reserved for an Ambassador for Higher Education event hosted by the President's Office.

Leaning Pine Arboretum plant sale, tour set

Butttery gardens and how to create them will be explicated during talks on Saturday, April 24, at the third annual Leaning Pine Arboretum plant sale and garden tour at the Environmental Horticulture Science Unit.

Bobby Gendron of Butterfly Encounters will talk about the care and culture of plants that attract butterflies at 10 am and 2 pm.

The plant sale will feature a wide variety of California natives and Mediterranean plants suitable for gardeners in the Central Coast.

A tour of the arboretum will begin at 8 am, and lectures and tours of the Environmental Horticulture Science Unit will be from 8 am to 3 pm.

For details, call ext. 6-2688 or 549-7902.

Learn to locate funding sources on line

The Grants Development Office will hold a hands-on training session on Wednesday, April 28, for faculty and administrative staff members to learn how to locate funding sources electronically through the Web-based database service SPIN (Sponsored Programs Information Network).

Spin and its e-mail notification service, SMARTS, are available free to the faculty and staff at http://www.infoed.org select Access InfoOffice.

The class, targeted to 15 people, will be from 3:15 to 4:15 pm in Chase Hall, Room 104RT.

To reserve space, call Grants Development at ext. 6-2582 or e-mail jostrey@calpoly.edu.

Graduate Equity program has funds for students

Applications are being accepted for the Graduate Equity Fellowship and Mentor Program, designed to encourage underrepresented students with bachelor's degrees to pursue and complete graduate studies.

Students who receive up to $4,500 per academic year, depending on need. Eligible students must be enrolled in a graduate degree program or have been accepted to a master's degree program at Cal Poly. Those accepted must:

• Enroll at least half-time.
• Maintain a minimum cumulative grade- point average of 3.0 at the undergraduate institutional level units per quarter and maintain at least a 3.0 grade point average.
• Qualify as California residents.
• Demonstrate a minimum financial need of $1,000.

The Graduate Equity Fellowship and Mentor Program is funded by the CSU and Cal Poly and is administered by the Graduate Programs office in collaboration with the Financial Aid Office.

The deadline to apply is Friday, May 14.

For an application, call Polly Harrigan at ext. 6-152.

Guitarist Bogdanovic to give free demo, lecture

One of the world's leading guitarists and composers, Dusan Bogdanovic of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, will give a free lecture and guitar demonstration from noon to 2 pm Monday, April 26, in Room 216 of the Davidson Music Center.

Bogdanovic's exploration of musical languages is in his unique style: a synthesis of classical, jazz and ethnic music.

A native of Yugoslavia, he completed his studies in guitar, orchestration and composition at the Geneva Conservatory in Switzerland, and received the only first prize at the International Competition of Geneva in 1975.

He was a professor at the Geneva Conservatory while still in his early 20s and later taught at the Belgrade Academy and USC.

The presentation is made possible by funds from the Cal Poly Plan and is also sponsored by the College of Liberal Arts and Music Department.

For more information, call ext. 6-2406, or visit the Music Department's Web page at http://www.calpoly.edu/~mus.

... ROTC cadet (Continued from page 1)

from around the country. The competition is the final evaluation of leadership potential for cadets in an ROTC program.

His first-place win, together with his third place in the 10-kilometer run, earned him the position of battalion commander, the highest ranking cadet at Cal Poly.

He graduated from the ROTC program more than 10 years of military experience. In 1988, at the age of 18, he enlisted in the Army. He was on active duty for six years as a military policeman, serving in combat in Panama and the Persian Gulf.

He separated from active duty in 1995, enrolled in college, and joined the California National Guard. He currently serves in the ROTC program at Cal Poly and in the 649th Military Police Company based at Camp San Luis Obispo, where he is a platoon leader.

After graduation in June, Leach plans to join the U.S. Army's Finance Corps in Colorado.

... Diversity (Continued from page 1)

Poly community and enriches the social and professional climate both on and off campus," said Baker, quoting from the Strategic Plan.

The Staff Council Cultural Awareness Committee received the President's Diversity Award in 1997 and 1998.

Nominations for the President's Diversity Award are due Friday, May 14. A nomination form and instructions are found on page 3 in this Cal Poly Report.

―Editors Note: An article in next week's Cal Poly Report will address recent Academic Senate actions regarding diversity matters.

... Student award (Continued from page 1)

councils, the Interhall Council, or Student Community Services.

―Demonstrate outstanding service as evidenced by peer, faculty or staff recognition and community response.

For an application, call Polly Harrigan at ext. 6-1521. Applications are due Friday, May 21.
Nomination for President's Diversity Award

As noted in the article on the front page of this edition of the Cal Poly Report, the President's Diversity Award is designed to recognize campus units that have exhibited commitment to the value of cultural diversity. Campus units are encouraged to participate. For more information, please see the article on page 1.

Nomination criteria
In order to be considered for the Diversity Award, a campus unit must have exhibited commitment to the value of cultural diversity in one or more of the following ways:

- Recruitment or retention efforts.
- Improvement of student or employee understanding of the value of a culturally diverse climate.
- University or community service in support of diversity or multiculturalism.
- Scholarly contributions in the area of multiculturalism or diversity.
- Advocacy of diversity.

All of the above areas must support and be consistent with the mission of Cal Poly as an institution of higher education.

A campus unit is broadly defined as any recognized campus entity such as:
1) a university department or program,
2) an auxiliary department or program, or
3) a campus recognized group, club or council.

Nomination procedures
Any faculty member, staff member, student, or campus unit may nominate an eligible campus unit (see above definition) for the Diversity Award. Nominations are made by completing the form below. The completed nomination form must be submitted to:
William Bailey, Chair
Diversity Award Selection Committee
c/o Disability Resource Center

Deadline for nominations
Friday, May 14
Liz Posalski reception planned for today

The campus community is invited to a reception for Liz Posalski, administrative secretary in the provost’s office, from 2:30 to 4:30 pm today (April 21) in the Versanda Cafe. Posalski, 42, began at Cal Poly in 1989 in Telephone Administration, is leaving the university to travel and relocate to the Bay Area.

Guitarist Bogdanovic to give free demo, lecture

One of the world’s leading guitarists and composers, Dunan Bogdanovic of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, will give a free lecture and guitar demonstration from noon to 2 pm Monday, April 26, in Room 216 of the Davidson Music Center.

Bogdanovic’s exploration of musical languages is in his unique style: a synthesis of classical, jazz and ethnic music.

A native of Yugoslavia, he completed his studies in guitar, orchestration and composition at the Geneva Conservatory in Switzerland, and received the only first prize at the International Competition of Geneva in 1975. He was invited professor at the Geneva Conservatory while still in his early 20s and later taught at the Belgrade Academy and USC.

The presentation is made possible by funds from the Cal Poly Plan and is also sponsored by the College of Liberal Arts and Music Department.

For more information, call ext. 6-2066, or visit the Music Department’s Web page at http://www.calpoly.edu/-mu.

Student poetry contest to end May 10

The Academy of American Poets is holding its annual contest, and the competition at Cal Poly is sponsored by the English Department. Faculty and staff members are urged to encourage all degree program students to participate in this competition.

Details to remember:

• Poets should present their names — no pseudonyms — on all pages.
• No more than five poems can be submitted, and the total number of lines should not exceed 300.
• The deadline for entries is Monday, May 10.
• An off-campus judge will select the winners.

For more information, e-mail Kevin Clark at kckarl@calpoly.edu or call him at ext. 6-2506.

Survey Week is May 2-7

Faculty, staff and students: How do you get to campus? Watch for details in the April 28 Cal Poly Report.

Cal Poly Arts to present "The Jungle Book"

Dalmajian is in on it. And it’s going to be like a jungle inside, too, as TheatreWorks presents Rudyard Kipling’s "The Jungle Book" at 3 pm Sunday, May 2, in Harman Hall in the Performing Arts Center’s Cohart Center.

"The Jungle Book," a Cal Poly Arts Family Event, is the classic tale of an abandoned baby raised in the jungle by animals.

TheatreWorks’ musical production is set in a present-day urban jungle and uses the sounds and characters of the street to tell the story about people’s dual need to belong and to remain an individual.

In this performance, the man-cub Mowgli is raised in the city and encounters the jungle Lords, a gang of tigers who teach him the shell game, how to spray-paint graffiti, and how to start fires. The production carries a strong anti-teen violence message.

The musical score includes rap, pop, rock and gospel. The costumes reflect some strange fashion trends: the turtleneck bears green helmets, buckies and yellow vests and mittens; the bear wears a fur-lined coat; and the evil tiger dresses like a hip "cat" flashting his Jungle Lords gang jacket.

Aileen Jacobson, writing for Newsday, will address the audience. Posalski, who began at Cal Poly in 1989, is leaving the university to travel and relocate to the Bay Area.

The Grants Development Office will hold a hands-on training session on Wednesday, April 21, for faculty and administrative staff members to learn how to locate funding sources electronically through the Web-based database service SPIN (Sponsored Programs Information Network).

The seminar will be at 3 pm in Room 213 of the Davidson Music Center.

GRADUATE EQUITY PROGRAM has funds for first student

Applications are being accepted for the Graduate Equity Fellowship and Mentor Program, designed to encourage underrepresented students. Bachelor’s degree and prior research experience are required. The first student to be selected will receive up to $4,500 per academic year, depending on their need.

Applications are due May 10, 2000.

Student award

For more information, e-mail Kevin Clark at kckarl@calpoly.edu or call him at ext. 6-2506.

Ticket information

Tickets to the performances listed in today’s Cal Poly Report are on sale at the Performing Arts Ticket Office from 10 am to 6 pm weekdays and from 10 am to 4 pm Saturdays. Call 549-7902, or visit the on-line ticket office. For more information, call Becky Powell at ext. 6-2328.

CAL POLY REPORT, APRIL 21, 1999
New department head for Food Science, Nutrition
Roger Clemens, scientific adviser in Nestle USA’s Nutrition Division in Glen dale, has been appointed department head of the Food Science and Nutrition Depart­ment, effective July 1-June 2001.

Stookey
Ellen Terry Stookey, home econom­ics professor emerita, died April 7 in Se­la, Ore. Stookey joined the home economics faculty in 1961, teaching child develop­ment. From 1966 to her retirement in 1978, she was the home economics teacher educator responsible for the largest home economics education program in California.

Before her appointment at Cal Poly, Stookey worked for the California State Department of Education as a regional supervisor of home economics. She was instrumental in establishing Cal Poly’s home economics program.

ADVANCEMENT
Gifts build weight room for Athletics
Donations of cash and services helped build a new $150,000 weight room for Intercollegiate Athletics.

Free access offered to RAND California Web site
Cal Poly, along with all other CSU campuses, has free access to a RAND Corp. information service through the end of June. The RAND California Web site is at http://ca.rand.org. It is a service of the Santa Monica-based RAND Corp., a public policy research organization and the nation’s largest think tank.

Free access offered to RAND California Web site
CAL POLY REPORT, APRIL 21, 1999
California Polytechnic State University
San Luis Obispo, CA 93407
Vol. 53, No. 29 • April 21, 1999
Published by the Communications Office
Nominations sought for diversity award
Nominations are being sought for the 1999 President’s Diversity Award, which recognizes campus units that have exhibi­ted commitment to multiculturalism and a diverse campus climate in all areas, including student recruitment and em­ployment, as well as employee relations and academic programs.

Here’s how to reach us
The Cal Poly Report is published by the Communications Office every Wednesday during the academic year. Letters submitted by 10 am Thurs­days appear in the following Wednesday’s issue. For information, call ext. 6-1511, send e-mail to calpoly@calpoly.edu, or fax jsawyer@calpoly.edu at ext. 6-5633.

... D A T E L I N E
(Continued from page 1)
Monday, April 26
Music: David Egleson guitar lecture, demonstration, Davidson Music Center 216, noon.

Tuesday, April 27
Music: Easy Breezy, BackStage Pizza, noon.

Wednesday, April 28
Music: Jim Holder, BackStage Pizza, noon.

Thursday, April 29
Physics Colloquium: Bill Colston (Liversmore National Laboratory), "Optical Tomography," Science E-45, 1-3 pm.

Friday, April 30
Music: Russ Cuningham (student) piano recital, Mt. Carmel Lutheran Church, San Luis Obispo, 7:30 pm.

Saturday, May 1
Track and Field: Cal Poly Middle School Invitational, Cal Poly Track, 9 am.

Softball: UOP, Softball Field, noon and 2 pm.

Music: Stewart Uyeda (student) piano recital, Davidson Music Center 218, 1 pm.

Sunday, May 2
Softball: UOP, Softball Field, 1 pm.

Play: "The Jungle Book," Cohan Center, 1 pm.

Track, Field: Cal Poly Track, 11 am.

Monday, May 4
Baseball: UOP, SLO Stadium, 7 pm ($).

Tuesday, May 5

Here’s how to reach us
The Cal Poly Report is published by the Communications Office every Wednesday during the academic year. Letters submitted by 10 am Thurs­days appear in the following Wednesday’s issue. For information, call ext. 6-1511, send e-mail to calpoly@calpoly.edu, or fax jsawyer@calpoly.edu at ext. 6-5633.

Nominations sought for student leader award
The faculty, staff and students are encouraged to nominate Cal Poly leaders for the 1998-99 Jeffrey W. Land Outstanding Student Service Award, created to rec­ognize exceptional service to Cal Poly and the community.

Jeff Land, a 1980 College of Business graduate and former ASI leader, and his wife, Carla, established the endowment in 1994.

The 1998-99 award of $900 will be announced at the annual ASI end-of-the­year banquet.

Eligible students must:
• Have completed at least 45 units of course work at Cal Poly.

Cal Poly ROTC cadet earns top honor
A Cal Poly ROTC cadet cited for his leadership and scholastic ability was selected to receive the George C. Marshall ROTC award, given annually to the top cadet in the nation.

Scott Leach, a speech communication senior, will receive the award this month at a national security seminar, to which all awardees are invited.

Leach demonstrated his superior leadership ability recently at the ROTC Ad­vanced Camp at Fort Lewis, Wash., where he outraced 3,000 other cadets.

... D A T E L I N E
Exhibits
University Art Gallery (Dexter Building) Ammot Juried Student Exhibition, through May 7. Daily 11 am to 4 pm, Wednesday, 7-9 pm.

K-9 Library: "A Virtual Tour: 1883 San Luis Obispo Courthouse," through June. Also, a display on Cal Poly faculty authors, through April.

UJ Galleria: "Whosits," student art exhibition, through June 11, Monday­Friday 10-4 am and Saturday and Sunday, noon to 4 pm.

April 22
Computer Science Colloquium: Cay Horzumwam (Preview Systems Inc.), "Using Java to Teach Programming: The Good, the Bad and the Ugly," Ehart Ag 126, 1-3 pm.

Fun Run/Relay/5K race: "Run for Survival of the Fittest." 12-4 pm, University Stadium, 7 pm.

Tennis: College Tennis A, B, C, D, E.

April 23
Basketball: Long Beach State, SLO Stadium, 1 pm ($).

Saturday, April 24
Track, Field: Cal Poly Middle School Invitational, Cal Poly Track, 9 am.

Softball: UOP, Softball Field, 1 pm.

Baseball: UOP, SLO Stadium, 7 pm ($).

Saturday, April 25
Baseball: Long Beach State, SLO Stadium, 1 pm ($).

Music: Rosemary Koszak (student) piano recital, Davidson Music Center 218, 3 pm.

(Continued on page 6)

Nominations sought for student leader award
The faculty, staff and students are encouraged to nominate Cal Poly leaders for the 1998-99 Jeffrey W. Land Outstanding Student Service Award, created to rec­ognize exceptional service to Cal Poly and the community.

Jeff Land, a 1980 College of Business graduate and former ASI leader, and his wife, Carla, established the endowment in 1994.

The 1998-99 award of $900 will be announced at the annual ASI end-of-the­year banquet.

Eligible students must:
• Have completed at least 45 units of course work at Cal Poly.

Cal Poly ROTC cadet earns top honor
A Cal Poly ROTC cadet cited for his leadership and scholastic ability was selected to receive the George C. Marshall ROTC award, given annually to the top cadet in the nation.

Scott Leach, a speech communication senior, will receive the award this month at a national security seminar, to which all awardees are invited.

Leach demonstrated his superior leadership ability recently at the ROTC Ad­vanced Camp at Fort Lewis, Wash., where he outraced 3,000 other cadets.

(Continued on page 6)