Cambridge named CSU Outstanding Alumni Teacher

Thompson, a teacher at Coast Union High School in Cambria for more than 20 years, to receive its CSU Outstanding Alumni Teacher award.

Thompson is the first in her family to graduate from a university or college. Thompson was influenced by her own teachers to become an educator. "They were excellent role models, motivators, and, in many cases, friends," she said.

Darrell C. Dunbar, principal of Coast Union High, called Thompson "undoubtedly the most respected classroom teacher and curriculum leader" at the high school.

Thompson earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from Cal Poly in 1972 and a credential in 1974. She has continued her education with a variety of graduate programs and professional development courses at Cal Poly and UC/LA.

Student poetry reading set
Students in the advanced poetry writing class will give a reading from noon to 2 p.m. today in the Communications Center (ACU 220). English professor Kevin Clark promises lyrics and narratives and elegies. “Hear poems influenced by the modern classics and by the ‘Beats’ and by the students we live in," Clark said. "Smooth, evocative and high-voltage rhymes. Poems with street talk and sweet talk and hip hop. Hear origami of expression, depth of insight, tough love, desperate measures, and transient ecstasies. "The students can’t promise elevator-style easy listening. Just their own art," Clark said."

Summer UU schedule
During summer quarter, the UU will be open Monday-Friday, 7:30 am-9 pm; Saturday, noon-9 pm, and Sunday, 2-7 pm.
