Position vacancies

Below are all the new, previously unadvertised employment openings at the university. You may access full information about these and other previously advertised positions at www.calpoly.edu (scroll down and select "employment opportunities").

STARS: For a complete listing of employment opportunities for state staff and management positions, you can:
- Check the Human Resources and Employment Equity Web site at www.calpoly.edu/er.
- Come to the HREE office, Adm. 110, and view the posted positions.
- Call the HREE Job Line at ext. 6-3333.

For a listing of new openings, check The Tribune's Sunday edition.

If you have questions, please call HREE at ext. 6-2337.

--------

DATELINE

Position vacancies

Saturday, February 26

Women’s Tennis: Long Beach State, Tennis Courts, 1 p.m.
Music: Pops Concert, Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($).
Play: "The House of Blue Leaves," Cal Poly Theatre, 8 p.m. ($). Also March 2-4.

Sunday, February 27

Music: Vocal recital, Kathleen Rupp, PAC Pavilion, 1 p.m.
Women’s Basketball: New Mexico State, Mott Gym, 2 p.m. ($).

Tuesday, February 29

Dance: "Stomp," Harman Hall, 7 p.m. ($). Also March 1.
Drama: "What’s New?," Philip Hall, PAC, 7 p.m.

Wednesday, March 1

Health, Wellness Fair: "Decreasing Stress to Live Your Best," UU 220, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.
Books at High Noon: Barbara Morgenstern (English), "The Bloody Chamber" by Angela Carter, Veranda Cafe, noon.
Dance: "Stomp," Harman Hall, 7 p.m. ($).

Thursday, March 2

Music: Student recital, Davidson Music Building 218, 7:30 p.m. Play: "The House of Blue Leaves," Cal Poly Theatre, 8 p.m. ($). Also March 3-4.

Friday, March 3

FIDO Talk: "WINGED" (Writing in General Education), Veranda Cafe, noon.
Drama: "Stomp," Harman Hall, 7 p.m. ($).

Good vibrations

"Wingback Chair Shamekola will perform during the annual "Just Jazz" concert March 11 in the Cal Poly Theater. See story, page 5.

--------

Satellite teleconference with Colin Powell

A live satellite broadcast with former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Gen. Colin Powell will be aired on campus via the Cal Poly TV network at 10:30 a.m. March 3.

Powell will be speaking at a special event at Michigan State University. The event will be conducted as a flexcast, which allows viewers to change the channel name to view the broadcast.

For more information, contact Bob Anderson at ext. 6-6532 or by e-mail: bob.,anderson@calpoly.edu.

--------

Endowment

Continued from page 1

Thursday, March 2

Music: Student recital, Davidson Music Building 218, 11 a.m.
Physics Colloquium: David Sokoloff (University of Oregon), "Improving Conceptual Learning with Interactive Lecture Demonstrations," Science E 4-5, 11 a.m.

Mathematics Colloquium: Sherman Stein (UC Davis), "What Old Archimedes Do Besides Cry "Eureka!"?" Ag Sciences 104, 10:10 a.m.

Women’s Basketball: UOP, Mott Gym, 7 p.m. ($).
Music: Student vocal recital, Davidson Music Building 218, 7:30 p.m.
Play: "The House of Blue Leaves," Cal Poly Theatre, 8 p.m. ($). Also March 3-4.

Endowment established in Biological Sciences

The parents of a Cal Poly biology instructor have donated stocks valued at more than $140,000 to establish a scholarship endowment in honor of their daughter, Andrea L. Waterbury.

Ivar and Stefanie Anderson made the gift as a tribute to both their daughter and her in-law, Archie Waterbury, also a longtime biology professor.

The Andersons contributed shares of stock to establish the Archie and Andrea Waterbury Biological Sciences Scholarship Endowment Fund and to buy about $28,000 worth of equipment for the department.

The majority of the gift will provide scholarships for students majoring in biology.

The Andersons’ daughter is a 1973 Cal Poly biology alumna. She has taught in the Biological Sciences Department since 1984.

--------
Athletics giving staff free basketball tickets
Cal Poly Athletics is celebrating Faculty and Staff Appreciation Day by giving away tickets to two upcoming basketball games.

On Friday, Feb. 27 and the men’s game on Feb. 27 at 7 p.m. March 2.

Any faculty or staff member can pick up two tickets to each game. Those who plan to attend the men’s game are also invited to the MustangCorral pre-game reception to be held at 5:30 p.m. in a tent behind Mott Gym.

Tickets should be picked up at the Mustang Ticket Office in front of the Rec Center by 2 p.m. Sunday (Feb. 27) for the women’s game and by noon March 2 for the men’s game.

For more information, call ext. 6-5806.

Nominations sought for safety awards
Nominations are being accepted for the 1999 Governor’s Employee Safety Awards, which recognize individual and groups of employees who have distinguished themselves through outstanding safety and health service to the state.

The Chancellor’s Office is encouraging Cal Poly to nominate two employers.

Award presentations are made in Sacramento, and a representative of the Governor’s Office presides at the ceremony.

For a nomination form and criteria, stop by the Risk Management Office, Adm. 116, call Nancy Volkits or Jenelle Schmid at ext. 6-2171, or visit http://www.orcm.dgs.ca.gov.

Completed, paper nomination forms are due by Vicki Stover, chair of the Campus Safety and Risk Management Committee, at 5 p.m. Friday, Feb. 26.

Please note that nominees can be submitted through the Internet.

Who's your one big break award set for March 7
The Women of the Year Luncheon and Silent Auction, the university’s annual salute to the women of Cal Poly, is set for March 7 in Chumash Dining Hall.

The silent auction will run 11 a.m.-1:15 p.m.; lunch will be 11:30-1:30 p.m.

During the event, two women—one staff member and one faculty member—will be named Cal Poly’s Women of the Year.

Nominated by students, the women chosen are being recognized for serving as role models, helping to create the campus climate for women, and contributing and excelling in their field of profession.

The event, which celebrates the contributions of five women, will be named recipients of scholarships administered by the Cal Poly Women's Caucus.

The scholarships recognize students who have done work in the areas of women's rights or who plan careers that support women's rights.

Luncheon attendees will have an opportunity to support future Women's Programs events through bidding on a number of items at the silent auction.

Local merchants have donated gifts and certificates for services and goods, as meals at restaurants, a hair styling, books and music.

The lunch costs $12. Reservations are due March 1 and can be made by calling the Women’s Center at ext. 6-2600. Tickets to the event at the Women’s Center, UU 217. Make checks payable to Women’s Programs.

Solicitation of sick leave, vacation
Robert Ippoliti, a custodian in Housing Services, has qualified for personal catastrophe leave and is eligible to take this leave to help him remain in full-pay status during a medical emergency.

For a nomination form and criteria, stop by the Risk Management Office, Adm. 116, call Nancy Volkits or Jenelle Schmid at ext. 6-2171, or visit http://www.orcm.dgs.ca.gov.

Completed, paper nomination forms are due by Vicki Stover, chair of the Campus Safety and Risk Management Committee, Administration and Finance, by 5 p.m. Monday (Feb. 28).

Please note that nominees can be submitted through the Internet.
'Writing in General Ed' topic of panel discussion

In a March 3 discussion titled "WINGED" (Writing in General Education), four faculty members who participated in a writing workshop held fall quarter will talk about what they learned.

John Harrington, an English professor currently working as director of the General Education Program; John Harris, Natural Resources Management; Chance Hoellwarth, Physics; and Ralph Jacobson, Chemistry and Biochemistry, will talk about the workshop and explore ways in which teachers can effectively integrate writing into both their general education courses and their regular course work.

The panel discussion, from noon to 1 p.m. in the Veranda Café, is part of the Brown-Bag Lunch series sponsored by the Faculty Instructional Development Office.

Lunch will be provided to those who make a reservation by March 3. Call ext. 6-5935 for reservations or more information.

Leadership development topic of March 3 talk

Dennis Roberts, nationally known expert on leadership development, will speak on "Powerful Partnerships for Leadership Programs That Make a Difference" at 10 a.m. March 3 in UU 220.

Roberts, co-author of "Student Leadership Programs in Higher Education," was one of the first educators in the nation to write on the subject and has written and spoken nationwide on the subjects of leadership, community and theories of student development.

Roberts is assistant vice president for student affairs at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, where he is responsible for creating and directing a values-based program that seeks to help all students identify themselves as capable of being leaders. He will talk about Miami's program as well as review model programs nationwide. He will also describe the partnerships that can create outstanding programs.

Roberts is speaking as part of Cal Poly's new Leadership Development and Education for Students program, which has been developed by Student Life.

For more information, call Pat Harris at ext. 6-2582.

Grad Orientation Program seeking info, involvement

Planning is under way for the 2nd annual Graduation Orientation Program, scheduled for Sept. 9. Faculty involvement and information are needed to help make the one-day program a success.

Schedules needed

To help with scheduling and to be sure activities don't overlap, Graduation Orientation Program organizers are asking departments to send schedules of their fall 2000 orientation programs to Heather Holly, Student Life and Orientation Programs, or by e-mail to hollvy@calpoly.edu. Departments who have already responded to an earlier e-mail request need not resubmit their schedules.

The Graduation Orientation Program will also include a few social activities planned during the following Fall Conference week.

The graduate program is intended to complement — not replace — department orientation programs already in place. While most department programs help prepare new students to function within a particular department, the Graduation Orientation Program is designed to give students information about the university, such as where to eat and what Cal Poly resources are available to students, as well as what San Luis Obispo has to offer them as community members.

Faculty, student involvement sought

The Graduation Orientation Program is hoping to attract more faculty participation and help from current graduate students.

Faculty volunteers will need to attend a meeting in May and another in September, as well as be in attendance on orientation day.

Comments and suggestions are welcome. For more information on how to become involved, contact Holly by e-mail or leave a message at ext. 6-5838.

First-line supervisors invited to March 2 program

The Employee Assistance Program and Human Resources and Employment Equity invite first-line supervisors to hear trainer and consultant Susan McGraw talk on "Life in the Fast Lane: Handling Change in the Organization" from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. March 2 in the Veranda Café.

The talk is one in a series of First-Line Supervisors' Network programs intended to provide a forum to discuss and form strategies to address a variety of supervisory problems.

McGraw's programs are designed to entertain, educate and motivate employees to accept change in a positive way. She will specifically discuss techniques to better handle change in a public employment setting.

Additional First-Line Supervisors' Network programs are scheduled for April 6 and May 4. Attendees may bring a lunch or buy one. Reservations are not needed.

For more information, contact Joan Lund at ext. 6-5836 or Jean De Costa at ext. 6-5198.

Career Symposium set for Thursday

The Winter Quarter Career Symposium, with representatives from more than 110 companies, will be 10 a.m.-3 p.m. Thursday (Feb. 24) in the main gym in the Recreation Center.

The event offers students the opportunity to explore occupational interests, to network, and to learn about specific companies. It also gives students a chance to find out more about career, co-op and summer internship positions.

Representatives will be on hand from fields both technical and non-technical, large and small, public and private, ranging from agriculture to zoology.

A list of participants is available on the Career Services Web page, www.career.services.calpoly.edu, and in the Feb. 24 "Careers Issue" of the Mustang Daily.

Faculty and staff members are asked to announce the event to students and encourage them to attend. Students should bring their resume.

The Career Symposium is sponsored by Career Services. For more information, call Shelly Barrett at ext. 6-5974.
Tips on accessing Office Depot Web site

The Office of Contract and Procurement Services offers some tips to help those who've had problems accessing the Office Depot Web site.

If the dialogue box "Certificate Authority is Expired" appears when logging in to Office Depot, simply click "continue." The SSL (secure socket layer) session that secures the transaction with their site will not be affected.

To prevent the dialogue box from appearing in the future, the Web browser must be upgraded.

Recommended browser versions for PC users are Netscape Communicator version 4.06 or higher or any version of Internet Explorer.

Macintosh users should upgrade to Internet Explorer 4.51 or higher. Be sure to consult with the designated PC tech support specialist before performing any upgrade.

What is News? panel set

A panel of representatives from local media outlets will discuss "What is News?" at 7 p.m. Tuesday (Feb. 29) in Philips Hall in the Performing Arts Center.

The panelists will explain how they choose what is news and what is not and how they prioritize news. An open question-and-answer session with members of the audience will follow brief presentations.

Panelists include Sandra Duerr, executive editor, The Tribune, San Luis Obispo; John Myers, co-anchor and producer, KSBY-TV; San Luis Obispo; Kofi Johnson, bureau chief, KCOY-TV; Santa Maria; King Harris, news director, KVEC radio, San Luis Obispo; Vicki Jackoway, managing editor, New Times, San Luis Obispo; Jack McCurdy, former education writer, Los Angeles Times; Wayne Xgren, managing editor, Santa Maria Times, and Andy Castagnola, editor-in-chief, Messiung Daily.

The round table is presented by the Media Group, an ad hoc group of faculty members, including Phil Fetzer and Richard Kranzlof from Political Science, John Hampsey, English, and Nathan Havardjent, Journalism. The event is sponsored by the College of Liberal Arts. Refreshments will be provided.

For more information call Hampsey at ext. 6-2299.

Poet Robert Wrigley to read March 3

Award-winning poet Robert Wrigley will read from his work for the next Cal Poly WriterSpeak program at 7 p.m. March 3 in Philips Hall in the Performing Arts Center.

Wrigley has published several volumes of poetry, including "Moon in a Mason Jar," "In the Bank of Beautiful Sins," and, most recently, "Reign of Snakes.

According to the Library Journal, "Wrigley's poetry is concentrated like fruit in a mason jar; he conveys magical moments of perception when life holds us in a fierce and powerful grip.

American author James Dickey called Wrigley "one of the finest poets to come along in years: strong, imaginative, resolute... He is good to read.

Wrigley received two National Endowment for the Arts fellowships and the Frederick B-O-A Prize from Poetry magazine. "In the Bank of Beautiful Sins" won the San Francisco Poetry Center Book Award for 1996, the year Wrigley was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship.

After the reading, copies of "In the Bank of Beautiful Sins" and other Wrigley books will be on sale, and he will be available to sign them.

The reading is sponsored by Cal Poly Arts, the College of Liberal Arts, and the English Department.

For more information, call Adam Hill, WriterSpeak coordinator, at ext. 6-1622.

UC Davis math prof to talk on Archimedes

UC Davis Mathematics Professor and author Shawn Stein will present "What Did Archimedes Do Besides Cry 'Eureka'" at the next Mathematics Colloquium at 4:10 p.m. March 2 in Ag Sciences 104.

Stein will briefly discuss the life and major accomplishments of Archimedes, including his work on areas and volumes, centers of gravity, and the equilibrium of floating objects, such as the design of ships so that they don't capsize over easily.

Stein is the author of "Archimedes: What Did He Do Besides Cry 'Eureka'" and "Strength in Numbers" and co-author of "Algebra and Tiling," which received the Beckenbach Prize from the Mathematical Association of America.
Cal Poly Hispanic engineers win national title

Four members of the Cal Poly chapter of the Society of Hispanic Professional Engineers won a national Academic Olympiad held during the society’s recent National Technical Career Conference in Washington, D.C.

The team went head to head with five other regional championship teams fielding questions ranging from society trivia to computer science, math, physics, chemistry, electrical engineering and other engineering disciplines. The win marks the first time Cal Poly’s group has bested the nation in the jeopardy-style contest.

To qualify for the national competition, team members Manuel Alvarez (mechanical engineering), Patrick Cabral (mechanical engineering), Jose Castro (civil engineering), and Jesu Rodriguez (electrical engineering) had to best out teams from UC Berkeley, Stanford, and other West Coast campuses at the regional tournament held in November at Stanford.

Region I, Cal Poly’s region, includes Central and Northern California, Oregon and Washington.

---

Athletics giving staff free basketball tickets

Cal Poly Athletics is celebrating Faculty and Staff Appreciation Day by giving away tickets to two upcoming basketball games.

The women’s game is at 2 p.m. Sunday (Feb. 27) and the men’s game at 7 p.m. March 2.

Any faculty or staff member can pick up two tickets to each game. Those who plan to attend the men’s game are also invited to the Mustang Corral pre-game reception to be held at 5:30 p.m. in a tent behind Mott Gym.

Tickets should be picked up at the Mustang Ticket Office in front of the Rec Center by 2 p.m. Sunday (Feb. 27) for the women’s game and by noon March 2 for the men’s game.

For more information, call ext. 6-5806.

---

Nominations sought for safety awards

Nominations are being accepted for the 1999 Governor’s Employee Safety Awards, which recognize individuals and groups of employees who have distinguished themselves through outstanding safety and health service to the state.

The Chancellor's Office is encouraging Cal Poly to nominate two employees.

Applications have been awarded for lifesaving and responding to hazardous events as well as developing safety programs when it is not part of an employee’s normal duties.

Award presentations are made in Sacramento, and a representative of the Governor’s Office presides at the ceremony.

For a nomination form and criteria, stop by the Risk Management Office, Admin. 116, call Nancy Vilkits or Jenelle Schmidt at ext. 6-2171, or visit http://www.ocrm.dgs.ca.gov.

Completed, paper nomination forms are due to Vicki Stover, chair of the Campus Safety and Risk Management Committee, Administration and Finance, by 5 p.m. Monday (Feb. 28).

Please note that nominations cannot exist submitted through the Internet.

---

Women and Men of the Year set for March 7

The Women of the Year Luncheon and Silent Auction, the university’s annual salute to the women of Cal Poly, is set for March 7 in Chico State Hall.

The silent auction will run 11 a.m.-1:15 p.m.; lunch will be 11:30-1:30 p.m.

During the event two women—one staff member and one faculty member—will be named Cal Poly’s Women of the Year.

Nominated by students, the women chosen are being recognized for serving as role models, helping to improve the climate for women, and meeting and exceeding the standard of their profession.

The event, during which three and five awards will be named recipients of scholarships administered by the Cal Poly Status of Women Committee, includes speakers who have done work in the areas of women’s rights or who plan careers that support women’s rights.

Luncheon attendees will have an opportunity to support future Women’s Programs event sponsors by bidding on a number of items at the silent auction.

Local merchants have donated gifts and certificates for merchandise such as meals at restaurants, a free hair styling, books and music.

The luncheon costs $12. Reservations are due March 1 and can be made by calling the Women’s Center at ext. 6-2600.

Ticket information can be found at the Women’s Center, UU 217. Make checks payable to Women’s Programs.

---

Solicitation of sick leave, vacation

Robert Ioppini, a custodian in Housing Services, has qualified for personal catastrophic leave, while an employee may donate vacation credit and sick leave to help him remain in full-pay status during his term of disability.

Those interested in donating leave may request the Catastrophic Leave Donation form from the Leave Donation coordinator Elisabeth Martinez in Housing Services at ext. 6-1588 or by e-mail.

Catastrophic Leave (Units 2, 5, 7 and 9) may donate up to 32 hours, and eligible state employees may donate up to a total of 16 hours sick leave and vacation credits per fiscal year in increments of one hour or more.

---

Cal Poly Choir plans concert at First Baptist Church

The Cal Poly Choirs, including a mixed chamber ensemble, a mixed choir, a vocal jazz group and barbershop quartets, will perform at 8 p.m. March 4 in the First Baptist Church of San Luis Obispo.

Music Professor Thomas Davies will direct the choirs, and student Catherine Harvey will accompany them on piano.

Poly-Phonics, a mixed chamber ensemble, the University Singers, a 60-voice mixed choir; Cal Poly Vocal Jazz; and the barbershop quartets Heron, Treble and Grand Avenue will perform works by William Byrd, Orlando Gibbons, Gioachino Rossini and George David Ne平凡.

The program will feature the "Laudate Pueri" composed by Music Professor John Russell.

Tickets cost $5 for students and senior citizens and $8 for the public.

The First Baptist Church is at 2075 Johnson Ave.

The concert is sponsored by the Music Department, College of Liberal Arts, and Instructionally Related Activities Program.

For more information, call the Music Department at ext. 6-5806 or by e-mail.

---

Diablo Ballet to perform March 9

Diablo Ballet will perform at 8 p.m. March 9 in the Cal Poly Theatre.

Founded in 1993, the Bay Area company is known for its original choreography and repertoire that includes both classical and contemporary ballet with a focus on recent works by choreographer George Balanchine.

Equally at home with modern, jazz and tango techniques, the dancers mix established dance styles with popular music in what’s been called an innovative approach to the medium. 10 dance numbers have earned critical acclaim and international recognition for their vitality and technical excellence.

Tickets to this Cal Poly Arts event cost $18 and $23.

---

Two agriculture students named 1999 California Chaplin winners

Young and Cox were selected on the basis of their academic performance and international recognition for their vital and technical excellence.

The award is presented annually to an individual who facilitates and understands all aspects of irrigation in California.

The award is named after an individual who facilitates and understands all aspects of irrigation in California.
Satellite teleconference with Colin Powell

A live satellite broadcast with former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Gen. Colin Powell will be aired on campus via the Cal Poly TV network on 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, March 2.

Powell is to speak about core values, duty, honor, courage, leadership and integrity. After his talk, he will take questions from the audience.

Anyone with questions can call the television show at (800) 528-2090, e-mail the question to Powell@reed.org, or fax it to (202) 371-1015.

Those who call, e-mail or fax will be identified by names and location. Site coordinators will help attendees identify the various methods of getting questions onto the air.

The satellite broadcast is sponsored by the Military Science Department. Technical arrangements are being handled by Media Distribution Services.

For more information, contact Bob Andersen at ext. 6-6532 or by e-mail: oaldon@calpoly.edu.

---

D A T E L I E R

Continued from page 1

S A T U R D A Y, F E B R U A R Y 2 6

Women's Tennis: Long Beach State, Tennis Courts, 1 p.m.

Phyics: Pop Concert, Harman Hall, 8 p.m.

Play: "The House of Blue Leaves," Cal Poly Theatre, 8 p.m. (S) Also March 2-4.

Sunday, February 27

Music: Vocal recital 121, West University Union, 1 p.m.

Women's Basketball: New Mexico State, Mott Gym, 7 p.m. (S)

T U E S D A Y, F E B R U A R Y 2 9

Dance: "Stomp," Harmon Hall, 7 p.m. (S)

Also March 1.

Drama: "What is News?"

Philips Hall, PAC, 7 p.m.

Wednesday, March 1

Health, Wellness Fair: "Debating Stress to Live Your Best," UC 220, 11:30 a.m.

Books at High Noon: Barbara Moring-Rogers (English), "The Bloody Chamber" by Angela Carter, Veranda Cafe, noon.

Dance: "Stomp," Harmon Hall, 7 p.m.

T H U R S D A Y, M A R C H 2

Music: Student recital, Davidson Music Building, 7:30 p.m.

Play: "The House of Blue Leaves," Cal Poly Theatre, 8 p.m. (S) Also March 3-4.

F I D O Talk: "WINGED" (Writing in General Education), Veranda Cafe, noon.

WriterSpeak: Poet Robert Wrigley, Philips Hall, PAC, 7 p.m.

Women's Basketball: UCSB, Mott Gym, 7 p.m.

Play: "The House of Blue Leaves," Cal Poly Theatre, 8 p.m. (S) Also March 4. I

---

S A T U R D A Y, M A R C H 2 6

Music: Student recital, Davidson Music Building, 11 a.m.

Physics Colloquium: David Sokoloff (University of Virginia), "Improving Conceptual Learning with Interactive Lecture Demonstrations," Science E-45, 11 a.m.

Mathematics Colloquium: Sherman Stein (UC Davis), "What Old Archimedes Did Besides Cry "Eureka!"?" Ag Sciences 104, 10:40 a.m.

Men's Basketball: UOP, Mott Gym, 7 p.m.

Music: Student vocal recital, Davidson Music Building, 7:30 p.m.

Play: "The House of Blue Leaves," Cal Poly Theatre, 8 p.m. (S) Also March 2-4.

---

The deadline for submitting items for the next issue is planned to be in early May. Watch the Cal Poly Report for more information about the deadline and possible changes in The Report format. For more information, contact Bob Andersen at ext. 6-6343 or by e-mail: oaldon@calpoly.edu.