Position vacancies

Below are all the new, previously unadvertised employment openings at the university. You may access full information about these and other, previously advertised positions at www.calpoly.edu (scroll down and select "employment opportunities").

STATE: For a complete listing of employment opportunities for staff and management positions, you can:

- Check the Human Resources and Employment Equity Web site at www.calpoly.edu under Employment Opportunities;
- Come to the HHRE office, Admin 110, and view the posted positions;
- Call the HHRE Job Line at ext. 4-1533.

For a list of new openings, check the Tribune's Sunday edition.

If you have questions, please call HHRE at ext. 4-2237.

FACULTY candidates are asked to contact the appropriate departmental office at the phone number listed for more information or to request an application. Additional information and qualifications for each position may also be obtained on-line at http://www.academic-personnel.calpoly.edu.

Please submit all application materials to the department head/chair unless otherwise specified in the ad. Rank and salary are commensurate with qualifications and experience (see time base where applicable), unless otherwise stated.

03857: Part-time Lecturer Pool, Environmental and Horticultural Science (ext. 6-2279) Closing date: May 12
03106: Part-time Lecturer Pool, City and Regional Planning (ext. 6-1315) Closing date: May 30
03110: Full-time Lecturer, City and Regional Planning (ext. 6-1315) Closing date: May 30

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS INC. is accepting applications for the following positions:

Complete position descriptions and applications may be obtained from the Human Resources Office, Business Office, University Union, Room 212, M-F, 8-5 p.m., ext. 6-5800. All applications must be received by 5 p.m. of the listed closing date. AA/EOE.

Full-time Assistant Teacher, $10.47-13.20/hr. Closing date: Friday (April 28); anticipated starting date: May 15.

Credit Report deadline is May 1

E-mail copy to Polynews@calpoly.edu. Send photos to Public Affairs.

DATELINE

•••

Sunday, April 30

Weather: 70° F

SUNDAY, APRIL 23

•••

DATELINE

03 Admission charged

Sunday, April 30

Baseball: UC Riverside, SLO

Saturdays, 1 p.m. ($)

Music: Marvin Hamlisch in concert with Pops Orchestra, Norman Hall, 3 p.m. ($)

Monday, May 1

Rehearsal: Lecture: Michael Dorsey, "Where Do We Go From Here?". Business Rotunda (213), 3 p.m.

Thursday May 4

Physics Colloquium: Gistlek Cook (Physics). "UV Violation: an E=mc^2 question". 3:15, 11 a.m.

Friday, May 5

Writer's Space: Fiction writer David Wong Louis, Phillips Hall, 7 p.m.

Saturday, May 6

Softball: Sacramento State, Mustang Field (2 games), noon and 2 p.m.

Sunday, May 7

Softball: Sacramento State, Mustang Field, noon.

Monday, May 8

Music: Pianist Terrence Wilson, Norman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)

Thursday, May 11

Physics Colloquium: Bennetta Schmidt (Physics). "Granites and Volcanics". Science E-45, 11 a.m.

Play: Theatre and Dance Department's spring production, "All My Sons" by Arthur Miller. Also May 6-13 and 18-20, Cal Poly Theatre, 8 p.m. ($)

Friday, May 12

Play: Theatre and Dance Department's spring production, "All My Sons" by Arthur Miller. Also May 6-13 and 18-20, Cal Poly Theatre, 8 p.m. ($)

Saturday, May 13

Music: Jazz Night, Harnas Hall, 8 p.m. ($)

Sunday, May 14

Music: Joe Night, Harnas Hall, 8 p.m. ($)

Graduates win award

Continued from page 4

was last week in New York City during the 2000 National Planning Awards luncheon sponsored by the APA and the American Institute of Certified Planners (AICP) as part of their National Planning Conference.

In accepting the award, Pernell was in third place of a New Jersey Girl Christine Todd Whittaker, receiving the APA's Distinguished Leadership Award for an Elevated Official, and long-time planning guru and author Peter Bair, winner of this year's Distinguished Leadership Award for a Professional Planner.

"The list of planning-related projects (that Pernell) completed as a student" reeks more like the credits of someone who has been a practicing planner for several years," according to the APA. For that record and her academic achievements, the organization chose her from a field of 121 nominees to be the first recipient of the new student leadership award.

Pernell has been especially interested in environmental "sustainable" development and in advocating student involvement in local environmental efforts. For her senior project, she drew up a detailed plan for future development at Cal Poly's Student Experiment Farms and led the construction of a small trance-ground structure at the site.

Among her class work, she helped write a draft strategic plan for the city of Atascadero and facilitated two community design workshops there. That class project, essentially, won the AICP's top national Student Project Award for "best applying the planning process" (see article on page 1), which was also presented at the New York Planning Conference.

Pernell also developed designs for redeveloping Old Town Lompoc, presenting her ideas to the mayor, city staff and community.

During an internship at the Solar Living Center in Holmdel, N.J., she conducted a study of public agencies and their acceptance of technologies that contribute to sustainable development.

A Northern California native, Pernell now works at the Roseville land-use and environmental planning firm of Quaas Knopf.

continue on page 4

DATELINE

(3) Admission charged

Exhibits

University Art Gallery (Dexter Building) "Pent 21st Century: Every Circle," juried student exhibit. through Sunday (April 30). Ruth Weisberg and Patti Wickham "elixor of large figurative works," May 5-June 4, Sllc Cafe, 4:30 p.m. May 15-16, Ronotsu (5), Reception follows luncheon. University Art Gallery Exhibits: Monday-Friday (11 a.m.-4 p.m.) and Wednesday 7-9 p.m.

Wednesday, April 26

Music: Richard Green, Backstage Pizza, noon.

Speaker: Pianist Justin Kolb (artist-in-residence). "Eco lo gy oflnsect Pests in Commercial Citrus." Davidson Music Center, 11:45 a.m.

Music: Pianist Justin Kolb (artist-in-residence). Davidson Music Center 7:30, 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, April 27

Friday, April 28

Story/Source: Cha Pint. (Ohio State and Berkeley) "Pianist," traditional Korean story/song. Philips Hall, 7:14 p.m.

Baseball: UC Riverside. SLO

Stadium, 7 p.m. ($)

Saturday, April 29

Baseball: UC Riverside, SLO

Stadium, 7 p.m. ($)

All keyed up

Award-winning composer and concert pianist Marvin Hamlisch is poised to tickle the ivories in a Sunday concert at the PAC. For tickets, call ext. 6-2787.

Students receive top national planning awards

A general plan for Atascadero drafted by a city and regional planning class has been named last year's best student planning project in the nation.

"Atascadero Colony in the 21st Century: 2020 Draft General Plan" received the Student Project Award from the American Institute of Certified Planners (AICP) in New York City last week. The award, given for "best applying the planning process," was presented as part of the National Planning Conference sponsored by the AICP and the American Planning Association.

Led by faculty advisor Zeljka Howard, 35 third-year students worked with Atascadero officials, community members and other organizations for a year to develop a complete plan for the city's future.

They analyzed existing conditions, developed alternative proposals, and, through a series of meetings, helped the town select a final plan.

In drafting the segment of the plan dealing with community design, the students emphasized preserving and regenerating the historic town center, whose park and rotunda-style buildings grew from a turn-of-the-century "city beautiful" movement. The city is now wary that material in its general plan update.

Other city and regional planning faculty advisors on the project were Michael Borelli, Lori Hoffman, Amer Mountas and Department Head William Siembieda.

March grad wins award

A recently graduated Cal Poly student is the first recipient of a top national award for leadership in community planning.

Alison Pearnell, who completed the requirements in March for her bachelor's degree in city and regional planning, received the American Planning Association (APA) Distinguished Leadership Award for a Student Planner. The presentation...
Friday receptions set for retiring staff members

Sue Dietrick

A retirement reception for Sue Dietrick, administrative analyst/specialist in Enrollment Support Services, will be held from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday (April 28) at the University Center. Those wishing to say goodbye are also invited to stop by her office in Adm. 206-F.

Jacquie (Rossi) Paulsen

Jacquie (Rossi) Paulsen, coordinator of the commuter and academic services in University Police’s Commuter Services Office, invites the campus community to a dessert reception (without a San Francisco, per her request) from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday (April 28) at University Police.

Paulsen’s 24 years of service included positions in the State Receivables Warehouse, State Purchasing and Health Center. She founded the Commuter Services office seven years ago, and in 1989-90 she received an Outstanding Staff Award.

Yelland named director for management project

George Yelland has been named Cal Poly’s campus director for the CSU’s Common Management Systems (CMS) project, an effort to improve administrative processes by implementing a “common baseline of PeopleSoft software modules” throughout the CSU.

He will manage the implementation of Integrated PeopleSoft software for human resources, financials, and student administration.

Last July, Yelland was appointed interim CMS project director. Since then he has organized the CMS project office, developed initial CMS project organization for the campus, served as co-chair of the CSU Ad Hoc Technical Architecture Committee and co-author of the CSU CMS Technical Architecture document representing the campus on the CSU CMS Project Director Team, and served as Project Director Team liaison with the CSU CMS Technical Infrastructure Group.

Korean ‘story-song’ to be sung Friday

ATHIS-PROFESSOR Collette Franey will present “Critical Elements for a Successful Work Team” from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. May 2 in the final program in the First-Love Supervisors’ Network series.

Franey will discuss the need to establish a work team in support of purposes and fosters effective team-building.

The First-Love Supervisors’ Network series, sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program and Human Resources and Employment Equity, is intended as a forum to discuss and form strategies to address a variety of supervisory problems.

Attendees may bring a lunch or buy one. For more information, call Joan Lund, ext. 6-6563, or Jean DeCosta, ext. 6-5198.

Air Conditioning Building to host gala May 6

Students invited to enter national poetry contest

The Instructional Developmental Study faculty members from all areas of campus to let their students know about a poetry contest sponsored by the Academy of American Poets.

Students from all majors can submit up to five poems of no more than 30 lines each. Each poem should include the author’s name.

Entries, due to the English Department, should be in an envelope marked with the student’s name, address and phone number.

Air Conditioning Building to host gala May 6

Student invited to enter national poetry contest

The Instructional Developmental Study faculty members from all areas of campus to let their students know about a poetry contest sponsored by the Academy of American Poets.

Students from all majors can submit up to five poems of no more than 30 lines each. Each poem should include the author’s name.

Entries, due to the English Department, should be in an envelope marked with the student’s name, address and phone number.

Air Conditioning Building to host gala May 6

Student invited to enter national poetry contest

The Instructional Developmental Study faculty members from all areas of campus to let their students know about a poetry contest sponsored by the Academy of American Poets.

Students from all majors can submit up to five poems of no more than 30 lines each. Each poem should include the author’s name.

Entries, due to the English Department, should be in an envelope marked with the student’s name, address and phone number.
Students invited to enter national poetry contest

The Instructional Developmental Unit seeks faculty members from all areas of campus to let their students know about a poetry contest sponsored by the Academy of American Poets.

Students from all majors can submit up to five poems of no more than 30 lines each. Each poem should include the author’s name.

Entries, due to the English Department before May 20, should be placed in an envelope marked with the student’s name, address and phone number.

Korean ‘story-song’ to be sung Friday

A special ‘story-song’ about the birth, death and reincarnation of a daughter will be performed at the PAC’s Philip Hall at 5 p.m. Friday (April 28).

Ohio State University Professor and UC Berkeley Visiting Professor Chaet E. Parniski, a specialist in support and literature, will perform “P’ansori, the Song of Ch’im Ung. Mistress of the Spiritual Domain.”

P’ansori is a song-staging tradition still performed today. Park will sing the story of Ch’im Chong in Korean and mainstream English between songs.

Yegald named director for management project

George Yellow has been named Cal Poly’s campus director for the CSU’s Common Management Systems (CMS) project, an effort to implement administrative processes by using a “common baseline of PeopleSoft software modules” throughout the CSU.

He will manage the implementation of integrated PeopleSoft software for human resources, financials and student administration.

Last July, Yegald was appointed interim CMS project director. Since then, he has organized the CMS project office, developed initial CMS project organization for the campus, served as co-chair of the CSU Ad Hoc Technical Architecture Committee and co-author of the CSU CMS Technical Architecture document. He currently serves on the campus CMS Project Director Team, and served as Project Director Team liaison with the CSU CMS Technical Infrastructure Group.

Frayne to address first-line supervisors

Sue Dietrich of University Police will discuss how to establish a work environment that supports and fosters effective team-building.

The First-Line Supervisor’s Network, sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program and Human Resources and Employment Equity, is intended as a forum to discuss and form strategies to address a variety of supervisory problems.

Affiliates who bring a lunch or buy one for more information, call Joan Lund at ext. 6-6563. or Jean DeCosta at ext. 6-5198.

Stress expert to speak on ‘problematic faculty’

A Stanford psychologist will speak to the campus community about a dissertation defense scheduled May 11 on “The Challenges of Addressing Problematic Faculty Behavior in Academic Departments.”

David Rasch, director of the Stanford Help Center, a counseling service for that university’s faculty and staff, will speak at a 3:30 p.m. meeting of the Deans’ Instructional Department Chairs’ Heads’ Network to be held in the Smith Alumni and Conference Center.

Rasch’s specialties are assisting teachers with stress, navigating the tenure track, and respectful communication in the workplace. His talk will deal with psychological and personal issues, work/life, burnout, political maneuvering, sexual harassment, threats of violence and other issues.

The program is sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program and Human Resources and Employment Equity.

Application forms will be available in the UUPiazza on May 3.

May 3 training session to aid in finding funding

The Grants Development Office has scheduled an orientation session for faculty and administrative staff members to learn how to locate funding sources and apply for them. (See “Priority and Graduate Equity.”

• May 5: Registration begins for employees of the following departments: Electronic Business, State Purchasing, and during this open enrollment, technical in Information Technology Services.

• May 11: Last day to submit fee-waiver applications to Human Resources and Employment Equity.

• June 5: Last day to submit fee-waiver applications to Human Resources and Employment Equity.

For more information, call Women’s Studies at ext. 6-1525.

Anxiety info, screening available May 3 in plaza

Information and free anxiety screening will be available May 3 in the Performing Arts Center plaza.

Korean ‘story-song’ to be sung Friday

A special ‘story-song’ about the birth, death and reincarnation of a daughter will be performed at the PAC’s Philip Hall at 5 p.m. Friday (April 28).

Ohio State University Professor and UC Berkeley Visiting Professor Chaet E. Parniski, a specialist in support and literature, will perform “P’ansori, the Song of Ch’im Ung. Mistress of the Spiritual Domain.”

P’ansori is a song-staging tradition still performed today. Park will sing the story of Ch’im Chong in Korean and mainstream English between songs.

Yegald named director for management project

George Yellow has been named Cal Poly’s campus director for the CSU’s Common Management Systems (CMS) project, an effort to implement administrative processes by using a "common baseline of PeopleSoft software modules" throughout the CSU.

He will manage the implementation of integrated PeopleSoft software for human resources, financials and student administration.

Last July, Yegald was appointed interim CMS project director. Since then, he has organized the CMS project office, developed initial CMS project organization for the campus, served as co-chair of the CSU Ad Hoc Technical Architecture Committee and co-author of the CSU CMS Technical Architecture document. He currently serves on the campus CMS Project Director Team, and served as Project Director Team liaison with the CSU CMS Technical Infrastructure Group.

Second class rosters to be mailed May 3

A second class roster of students enrolled in classes through Open University (formerly Concurrent Enrollment) will be mailed to instructors May 3.

For more information, call Vivian Steele, Expanded Education, at ext. 6-2033.

Korean ‘story-song’ to be sung Friday

A special ‘story-song’ about the birth, death and reincarnation of a daughter will be performed at the PAC’s Philip Hall at 5 p.m. Friday (April 28).

Ohio State University Professor and UC Berkeley Visiting Professor Chaet E. Parniski, a specialist in support and literature, will perform "P’ansori, the Song of Ch’im Ung. Mistress of the Spiritual Domain.”

P’ansori is a song-staging tradition still performed today. Park will sing the story of Chim Chong in Korean and主流 English between songs.

Yegald named director for management project

George Yellow has been named Cal Poly’s campus director for the CSU’s Common Management Systems (CMS) project, an effort to implement administrative processes by using a "common baseline of PeopleSoft software modules" throughout the CSU.

He will manage the implementation of integrated PeopleSoft software for human resources, financials and student administration.

Last July, Yegald was appointed interim CMS project director. Since then, he has organized the CMS project office, developed initial CMS project organization for the campus, served as co-chair of the CSU Ad Hoc Technical Architecture Committee and co-author of the CSU CMS Technical Architecture document. He currently serves on the campus CMS Project Director Team, and served as Project Director Team liaison with the CSU CMS Technical Infrastructure Group.

Students invited to enter national poetry contest

The Instructional Developmental Unit seeks faculty members from all areas of campus to let their students know about a poetry contest sponsored by the Academy of American Poets.

Students from all majors can submit up to five poems of no more than 30 lines each. Each poem should include the author’s name.

Entries, due to the English Department before May 20, should be placed in an envelope marked with the student’s name, address and phone number.

Korean ‘story-song’ to be sung Friday

A special ‘story-song’ about the birth, death and reincarnation of a daughter will be performed at the PAC’s Philip Hall at 5 p.m. Friday (April 28).

Ohio State University Professor and UC Berkeley Visiting Professor Chaet E. Parniski, a specialist in support and literature, will perform "P’ansori, the Song of Ch’im Ung. Mistress of the Spiritual Domain.”

P’ansori is a song-staging tradition still performed today. Park will sing the story of Ch’im Chong in Korean and mainstream English between songs.

Yegald named director for management project

George Yellow has been named Cal Poly’s campus director for the CSU’s Common Management Systems (CMS) project, an effort to implement administrative processes by using a "common baseline of PeopleSoft software modules" throughout the CSU.

He will manage the implementation of integrated PeopleSoft software for human resources, financials and student administration.

Last July, Yegald was appointed interim CMS project director. Since then, he has organized the CMS project office, developed initial CMS project organization for the campus, served as co-chair of the CSU Ad Hoc Technical Architecture Committee and co-author of the CSU CMS Technical Architecture document. He currently serves on the campus CMS Project Director Team, and served as Project Director Team liaison with the CSU CMS Technical Infrastructure Group.

Second class rosters to be mailed May 3

A second class roster of students enrolled in classes through Open University (formerly Concurrent Enrollment) will be mailed to instructors May 3.

For more information, call Vivian Steele, Expanded Education, at ext. 6-2033.

Korean ‘story-song’ to be sung Friday

A special ‘story-song’ about the birth, death and reincarnation of a daughter will be performed at the PAC’s Philip Hall at 5 p.m. Friday (April 28).

Ohio State University Professor and UC Berkeley Visiting Professor Chaet E. Parniski, a specialist in support and literature, will perform “P’ansori, the Song of Ch’im Ung. Mistress of the Spiritual Domain.”

P’ansori is a song-staging tradition still performed today. Park will sing the story of Ch’im Chong in Korean and mainstream English between songs.

Yegald named director for management project

George Yellow has been named Cal Poly’s campus director for the CSU’s Common Management Systems (CMS) project, an effort to implement administrative processes by using a "common baseline of PeopleSoft software modules" throughout the CSU.

He will manage the implementation of integrated PeopleSoft software for human resources, financials and student administration.

Last July, Yegald was appointed interim CMS project director. Since then, he has organized the CMS project office, developed initial CMS project organization for the campus, served as co-chair of the CSU Ad Hoc Technical Architecture Committee and co-author of the CSU CMS Technical Architecture document. He currently serves on the campus CMS Project Director Team, and served as Project Director Team liaison with the CSU CMS Technical Infrastructure Group.

Second class rosters to be mailed May 3

A second class roster of students enrolled in classes through Open University (formerly Concurrent Enrollment) will be mailed to instructors May 3.

For more information, call Vivian Steele, Expanded Education, at ext. 6-2033.
Position vacancies

Below are all the new, previously unadvertised employment openings at the university. You may see full information about these other, previously advertised positions at www.calpoly.edu (scroll down and select "employment opportunities").

STATE: For a complete listing of employment opportunities, contact the staff and management positions you can:

- Check the Human Resources and Employment Equity Web site at www.calpoly.edu under Employment Opportunities;
- Come to the HREE office, Admin 110, and view the posted positions;
- Call the HREE Job Line at ext. 4-1533.

For a listing of new openings, check the Tribune's Sunday edition.

If you have questions, please call HREE at ext. 4-2237.

FACULTY Candidates are asked to contact the appropriate department office at the phone number listed for more information or to request an application. Additional information and qualifications for each position may also be obtained on-line at http://www.academic-personnel.calpoly.edu. Please submit all application materials to the department head/chair unless otherwise specified in the ad. Rank and salary are commensurate with qualifications and experience (see time base where applicable), unless otherwise stated.

#0357: Part-time Lecturer Pool, Environmental and Horticultural Science, ext. 6-2279 (Closing date: May 12)
#03106: Part-time Lecturer Pool, City and Regional Planning, ext. 6-1315 (Closing date: May 30)
#04110: Full-time Lecturer, City and Regional Planning, ext. 6-1315 (Closing date: May 30)

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS INC. is accepting applications for the following positions:

Complete position descriptions and applications are available at the Associated Students Business Office, University Union, Room 212, M-F, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., ext. 6-5800. All applications must be received by 5 p.m. of the listed closing date. AA/EEO.

Full-time Assistant Teacher, $10.47-13.20/hr. Closing date: Friday (April 28); anticipated starting date: May 15.

Credit Report deadline is May 1

E-mail copy to Polynews@calpoly.edu. Send photos to Public Affairs.

DATINGE

April 26, 2000

Graduate wins award

Continued from page 1

was last week in New York City during the 2000 National Planning Awards luncheon sponsored by the APA and the American Institute of Certified Planners (AICP) as part of their National Planning Conference.

In accepting the award, Pernell was in the company of New Jersey Gov. Christine Todd Whitman, receiving the APA's Distinguished Leadership Award for an Elected Official, and long-time planning guru and author Peter Bair, winner of this year's Distinguished Leadership Award for a Professional Planner.

"The list of planning-related projects that Pernell completed as a student reads more like the credits of someone who has been a practicing planner for several years," according to the APA. "For that record and her academic achievements, the organization chose her from a field of 121 nominees to be the first recipient of the new student leadership award.

Pernell has been especially interested in environmental "sustainable development" and in advocating student involvement in local environmental efforts. For her senior project, she drew up a detailed plan for future development at Cal Poly's Student Experimental Farm and led the construction of a small straw-bale structure at the site.

Among her class work, she helped write a draft general plan for the city of Atascadero and facilitated two community design workshops there. That class project, eventually with the AICP's up national Student Project Award for "best applying the planning process" (see article on page 1), which was also presented at the New York Planning Conference.

Pernell also developed designs for redeveloping Old Town Lompoc, presenting her ideas to the mayor, city staff and community.

During an internship at the Solar Living Center in Hopland, she conducted a study of public agencies and their acceptance of technologies that contribute to sustainable development.

A native California native, Pernell now works at the Roseville land-use and environmental planning firm of Quimby Quinl.

Graduate wins award

Continued from page 1

DATINGE

April 26, 2000

Students receive top national planning awards

A general plan for Atascadero drafted by a city and regional planning class has been named last year's best student planning project in the nation.

"Atascadero Colony in the 21st Century: 2020 Draft General Plan" was presented by the student planning team at the American Institute of Certified Planners (AICP) in New York City last week. The award, given "for best applying the planning process," was presented as part of the National Planning Conference sponsored by the AICP and the American Planning Association.

Led by faculty member Zeljka Howard, 33 student volunteers worked with Atascadero officials, community members and other organizations for a year to develop a complete plan for the city's future. They analyzed existing conditions, developed alternative proposals, and, through a series of meetings, helped the town select a final plan.

In drafting the segment of the plan dealing with community design, the students emphasized preserving and regenerating the historic town center, whose public rotunda-style buildings grew from a turn-of-the-century "city beautiful" movement. The city is now wary that material in its general plan update.

Other city and regional planning faculty advisors on the project were Michael Borelli, Lori Hoffman, Amer Mountain and Department Head William Siembieda.

March grad wins award

A recently graduated Cal Poly student is the first recipient of a top national award for leadership in community planning. Alison Pernell, who completed the requirements in March for her bachelor's degree in city and regional planning, received the American Planning Association (APA) Distinguished Leadership Award for a Student Planner. The presentation

All keyed up

Award-winning composer and concert pianist Marvin Hamlisch is poised to tickle the ivories in a Sunday concert at the PAC. For tickets, call ext. 6-2787.

Students receive top national planning awards

DATINGE

March 27, 2000

Exhibits

University Art Gallery (Dexter Building), "Fort Street to Every Circle," student exhibit, through Saturday (April 30). Ruth Weisberg and Patty Wickman "Embroidery of large figurative works," May 5-6, 4-7 p.m. Reception follows; University Art Gallery Exhibit, Monday-Friday 11 a.m.-4 p.m. and Wednesday 7-9 p.m.

Monday, April 24
Music: Richard Green, Backstage Pizza, noon.

Speakers: Pianist Justin Kolb (artist-in-residence), "Know the Score: Inspiration and Motivation for Surviving in the Business of Music," Davidson Music Center, 11:10 a.m. Pianist Justin Kolb (artist-in-residence), Davidson Music Center 7:18, 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, April 27
Music: Pianist Justin Kolb (artist-in-residence), "Know the Score: Inspiration and Motivation for Surviving in the Business of Music," Davidson Music Center 11:10 a.m. Pianist Justin Kolb (artist-in-residence), Davidson Music Center 7:18, 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, April 27
Music: Pianist Justin Kolb (artist-in-residence), "Know the Score: Inspiration and Motivation for Surviving in the Business of Music," Davidson Music Center 11:10 a.m. Pianist Justin Kolb (artist-in-residence), Davidson Music Center 7:18, 7:30 p.m.

Students receive top national planning awards

A general plan for Atascadero drafted by a city and regional planning class has been named last year's best student planning project in the nation.

"Atascadero Colony in the 21st Century: 2020 Draft General Plan" was presented by the student planning team at the American Institute of Certified Planners (AICP) in New York City last week. The award, given "for best applying the planning process," was presented as part of the National Planning Conference sponsored by the AICP and the American Planning Association.

Led by faculty member Zeljka Howard, 33 student volunteers worked with Atascadero officials, community members and other organizations for a year to develop a complete plan for the city's future. They analyzed existing conditions, developed alternative proposals, and, through a series of meetings, helped the town select a final plan.

In drafting the segment of the plan dealing with community design, the students emphasized preserving and regenerating the historic town center, whose public rotunda-style buildings grew from a turn-of-the-century "city beautiful" movement. The city is now wary that material in its general plan update.

Other city and regional planning faculty advisors on the project were Michael Borelli, Lori Hoffman, Amer Mountain and Department Head William Siembieda.

March grad wins award

A recently graduated Cal Poly student is the first recipient of a top national award for leadership in community planning. Alison Pernell, who completed the requirements in March for her bachelor's degree in city and regional planning, received the American Planning Association (APA) Distinguished Leadership Award for a Student Planner. The presentation

All keyed up

Award-winning composer and concert pianist Marvin Hamlisch is poised to tickle the ivories in a Sunday concert at the PAC. For tickets, call ext. 6-2787.

Students receive top national planning awards

A general plan for Atascadero drafted by a city and regional planning class has been named last year's best student planning project in the nation.

"Atascadero Colony in the 21st Century: 2020 Draft General Plan" was presented by the student planning team at the American Institute of Certified Planners (AICP) in New York City last week. The award, given "for best applying the planning process," was presented as part of the National Planning Conference sponsored by the AICP and the American Planning Association.

Led by faculty member Zeljka Howard, 33 student volunteers worked with Atascadero officials, community members and other organizations for a year to develop a complete plan for the city's future. They analyzed existing conditions, developed alternative proposals, and, through a series of meetings, helped the town select a final plan.

In drafting the segment of the plan dealing with community design, the students emphasized preserving and regenerating the historic town center, whose public rotunda-style buildings grew from a turn-of-the-century "city beautiful" movement. The city is now wary that material in its general plan update.

Other city and regional planning faculty advisors on the project were Michael Borelli, Lori Hoffman, Amer Mountain and Department Head William Siembieda.

March grad wins award

A recently graduated Cal Poly student is the first recipient of a top national award for leadership in community planning. Alison Pernell, who completed the requirements in March for her bachelor's degree in city and regional planning, received the American Planning Association (APA) Distinguished Leadership Award for a Student Planner. The presentation

All keyed up

Award-winning composer and concert pianist Marvin Hamlisch is poised to tickle the ivories in a Sunday concert at the PAC. For tickets, call ext. 6-2787.