Grand National Attracts Poly

Livestock Entries

Lookout Priests! Poly’s royalty is about to be crowned in the Cow Palace, Friday night. The big cab-over loaded with steers and a smaller truck carrying sheep and swine will roll into San Francisco to take part in the Grand National livestock show.

Accompanying the livestock to San Francisco will be some of the top 4-H. A majority of those who have posed their money, bought the steers, fed them out and are now jointly hoping to make a profit at the stickle, are also betting on winning the Judging of the animals.

Most of the steers are Herefords but there are Shorthorns and Angus in the group.

Fulwider, Class of ’25 Alumnus, Tells of Frosch Prank on Sophs

A twinkle-eyed middle-aged man from Los Angeles has supplied information on what is probably the most care­ fully nourished, longest delayed revenge in Cal Poly State Poly­ technic college history. He is D. A. Fulwider, 448 North Parmenon Ave, Temple City, who on his first visit to the Cal Poly State Polytechnic college since his graduation in 1925, related the story of a campus prank which required some four years from start to com­ pletion.

It all began when we were freshmen,” recalled Fulwider, now a test technician for Southern California Edison. “The sophomore class, some 500 strong, were using our space to store their folders. It looked like paradise. We had our time and we didn’t know it. We were out there fooling around.

When these sophomores fired the idea, they were mighty proud of themselves. Among other things, they voted to buy the college an impossibly expensive trophy. So they went to the annual intramural track meet, which, in those days, was one of the college’s top events. Actually, since they had about 75 percent of the school’s track team, they were hoping the cup for themselves. And when they won, we knew our time had come at last.

The cup was still in its original case when we received it. The whole college could find it. Not a single student, not a single member of the college could find it. Not a single article, even a pencil, was obtained until our juniper assembly. Then our president mounted the platform in the assembly hall.

El Rosco Club Contracts 50 Percent Complete

With 80 clubs having signed contracts for their pages in El Rosco, Poly’s clubs are already over 50 percent in, says club editor Ed Dillin.

With contracts expected from almost all of the remaining clubs, the 1954 yearbook, “Campus Daze Around the Clock,” should prove to be one of the best in Poly’s history, Bill Dillin said.

Contracts for the contributing department, College of Agriculture, have been turned in by the Agriculture Department chairman, Larry Lord.

El Rosco Club Contract extends its deadline for signatures until November 20, giving students still more time to consider signing.

WYFB BUYS NEAR END

“Buying of books, tools and supplies for veterans under laws 84, 174 and 174-A, ‘the GI Bill of Rights’ is almost at an end,” said a representative of the administration of the Poly. “With the 1954 fall term starting, there is almost no extension of military service for veterans to expect for the 1953-1954 school year.”

The representatives of the administration of the Poly said that the “GI Bill” is almost at an end, and that the Poly will not accept any cards for veterans as of this date.

The Downbeat

It was a spectacular affair in Cox Stadium last Friday evening when San Francisco's Presidio gave its final battle in the annual and historic Presidio-Infantry game. The result: a battle to the death, all the way, and Presidio won.

From a legal standpoint, the Infantry was the winner, because it was the last game of the Presidio season. From a sporting standpoint, Presidio was the winner, because it was the best game of the season. From an entertainment standpoint, both were winners, because both teams played to the best of their ability.

The Presidio fans were unanimous in their praise of the game, and the Infantry fans were equally satisfied with the Presidio performance. The game was a victory for both teams, and a victory for all.

The Majors and Minors, Bar- shop singing group of the Presidio, have been working hard to fill out their repertoire. They included songs from such favorites as "Peace, Peace," "From Now On," "Blue Danube," and "My Heart's in the Highlands." As a result, they will be ready for the 1958 class.

The limited study clearly indicates that the starting salary for engineers going into Federal civilian service positions is significantly higher than the average young engineer. Contrary to this, young engineers going to work for the state of California start at $857 per month. This is significantly lower than the average for other states.

The Glass Club sounds great! The Quartet: Bob Chess, Gehr, Bow, Murray and Tomlin. There are three groups, one for each class. The Majors and Minors, Bar- shop singing group of the Presidio, have been working hard to fill out their repertoire. They included songs from such favorites as "Peace, Peace," "From Now On," "Blue Danube," and "My Heart's in the Highlands." As a result, they will be ready for the 1958 class.

Dear Editor;

I don't know if I am suffering from some sort of paranoia or am merely being overly critical, but I feel that something is amiss in the writing of some of our columnists.

I have noticed that there is a frequent tendency to use slang terms and abbreviations in place of full words and phrases. This is not only confusing, but it also detracts from the overall quality of the writing. I believe that it is important to use clear and concise language in order to effectively communicate ideas and information.

I hope that you can take this into consideration when evaluating future submissions. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Waves Next For Mustang Grids

Cal Poly's hard of temperament football Mustangs beat Long Angeles tomorrow morning to do battle with the Waves of Pepperance college, as much as most Musca fans expect, a sure win in the brakes, then tomorrow night's classic night be a walker on the ground and gold. The Pepperance crew represents CCA's game number four for the year of Coach Hughson, as the local crew continues their bid for a conference championship. The Mustangs have scored 11 points in four games for a 2.75-points-per-game average. (And before Benny Mckinley and the Poly football team continue their winning streak, they will be in town to play in a classic in panels.

Inspect the rear of the Cal Poly line as tough as any on the Coast are giants Vic Bouma and Joe Bosnlch, They've both seen plenty of action tomorrow night when they'll square off against the Pepperance Waves in El Camino stadium.

"Fearless Pallerno"

Buurma is a 168-pound junior from San Gabriel, and came to Cal Poly via Mark Hopkins High School and the University of California—juniors to Hollywood, California, and the first great man on the line, and he uses his 375-pound bulk to do great advantage when he pulls out of the line to lead the back field. Hall in a triangle, he's been tipped for a trip to the goal line. An athletic player in high school, he's been the most outstanding player of the Little All-West college team when only a year. The "fearless pallerno" is really a tackle, a finesse, sometimes he's the glue of the line. He's been a tackle. His linemen engineering. Vic still has another year of football left after this one, so he's a junior, and he's majoring in mechanical engineering.
