AROUND CAMPUS

Cal Poly’s campus and the surrounding Central Coast community provide students with an empowering environment to pursue their studies and have a unique California university experience.

Biology students count clusters of Monarch butterflies in Oceano as part of Cal Poly’s Monarch Alert project.

Photo by Aaron Lambert

Game time on the 50-yard line at Spanos Stadium.

Photo by Elliot Johnson

the newly renovated ASI Rec Center at Cal Poly.

Photo by Brittany App

Students strum away their downtime on Dexter Lawn.

Photo by Brittany App

Dusk falls on Poly Canyon Village.

Photo by Aaron Lambert

Students, professors and local disabled residents kayak in Morro Bay as part of Cal Poly’s Adaptive Paddling program.

Photo by Aaron Lambert

The Morros through San Luis Obispo County.

Photo by Brittany App

Cal Poly’s vineyard.

Photo by Chris Leschinsky

Cal Poly’s campus and the surrounding Central Coast community provide students with an empowering environment to pursue their studies and have a unique California university experience.