LEXICOLOGY DOXOLOGY

Think of all the words (in English, now)
we have for "bringing death" —
like Eskimos for snow.

The Cides family: Matri and Patri,
Infanti and Froltra,
Homo and Geno and Sui.

Assassination for the one; massacre, the many.
There's slaughter, manslaughter,
execution (divine retribution)
and murder (in degrees).
There's putting down (to euthanize) and taking out (refers to spies — theirs), kill and destroy.

Much to our astonishment
there's still capital punishment.

And, clean words for modern times:
Harvest (for meaning, ask the doe, ask the seal)
Sacrifice (ask any bullock or kid, ram or calf;
ask any hog, rat, dog, cat, monkey or soldier) Management (ask the wolf or the bison;
ask the Sioux, the Cherokee, the Apache et. al.)
Process (ask the chicken, ask the Lamb, ask the wind in the grass at Auschwitz)

Think of all the words (in English, now)
we have for "love" —
like Eskimos for palm tree.

Did you know that philosophers have also made a contribution to the growth of the animal liberation movement? —
Think of Regan, Singer, Clark, Magel, Rollin and Sapontzis.

Between the Species “is the only publication which allows such extensive examination of the philosophical basis for animal rights.”— Brad Miller, Humane Farming Association
