Cavatina Duo to give master class, recital
The acclaimed Cavatina Duo – guitarist Denis Azabagic and flutist Eugenia Moliner – will give a master class and recital April 24. The master class will be at 5:15 p.m. The recital will be at 7 p.m. Both activities are scheduled in Room 218 in the Davidson Music Center.

The husband-and-wife team are said to have captured audiences with their powerful and versatile performances at European chamber music festivals in France, the Netherlands, Germany and Spain. They’ve been described as combining the flexibility of Latin Spanish music with the sensibility of the Balkans to create a unique concert experience.

“The energy levels behind these brilliant musicians are breathtaking and face-tinging,” wrote a critic for British Flute Society Magazine. “The Spanish flutist Eugenia Moliner is an artist of the highest caliber, and her husband, Denis Azabagic, is one of the best guitarists I have heard.”

Azabagic, considered to be among the world’s great guitarists, has won 10 international contests. Moliner performs as a soloist and with the Neos Quartet Trio.

The events are sponsored by the Music Department and College of Liberal Arts. For more information, call ext. 6-2406.

Dateline

Continued from page 1

Wednesday, April 17

Cal Poly Authors’ Reception: Kennedy Library, 5 p.m.

Performance: “The Vagina Monologues,” Theatre, 8 p.m. (April 16-21) ($)

Thursday, April 18

Music: David Toussaint (California Institute of the Arts), “Classical Ragas — A Program of North Indian Classical Music,” Davidson Music Center 218, 11 a.m.

Performance: “The Vagina Monologues,” Theatre, 8 p.m. (April 16-21) ($)

Friday, April 19

Open House: “Passport to Poly.”

Performance: “The Vagina Monologues,” Theatre, 8 p.m. (April 16-21) ($)

Continued on page 4

Statistical consulting

Continued from page 3

should complete the online form before contacting him. His office is Faculty Offices East 104. He can be reached at ext. 6-2001, via e-mail at rsmtid@calpoly.edu or by fax at ext. 6-2787.

Walk-in Consulting Hours: Monday ... 3-10 p.m. Wednesday ... 4-10 p.m. Thursdays ... 9-10 a.m. ·

Office Hours for Students

Monday ... 8-4:10-9 a.m. and 10-4:15 p.m.

Tuesday ... 8-4:10-9 a.m. and 10-4:15 p.m.

Wednesday ... 8-4:10-9 a.m. and 10-4:15 p.m.

Friday ... 8-4:10-9 a.m. and 10-4:15 p.m.

Junior-level students are also welcome to stop by his office at ext. 6-2001. In addition, copies are mailed to each department office for posting and to employees who do not have regular access to computers.

Articles are due to Public Affairs by 10 a.m. Wednesday for the following week’s edition. Items can be e-mailed to polymer@calpoly.edu (add .calpoly.edu after e-mail addresses), faxed to ext. 6-6533, or mailed to Public Affairs, Heron Hall.

For more information, call ext. 6-1511.

Extended Studies launches program at Mississippi base

Two Extended Studies certificate programs were launched at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi, Miss. — the first permanent Cal Poly Extended Studies programs established in another state. The noncredit programs in information technology and Oracle database administration will be administered by Extended Studies.

Students will receive instruction both online and in a new computer lab at the base. High-speed Internet access will link the two campuses.

Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College and the University of Southern Mississippi are also partners in developing the programs.

New service available for e-mail, address changes

A new Web tool was installed recently for the Cal Poly Web portal that allows students and faculty and staff members to easily update their preferred e-mail delivery address.

Called Personal Information, the tool also allows faculty and staff members to change their mailing addresses and phone numbers.

Faculty and staff members listed in the Student Information System database will be able to use the tool to update their e-mail addresses and phone numbers but not their Payroll and Human Resources addresses. Those changes must be reported in person to Human Resources.

To use the new tool, use the Personal Information channel on the Cal Poly portal at http://my.calpoly.edu. Instructions for logging into the portal are located on the my.calpoly.edu Web page. Anyone using the portal for the first time must log in and click on the Personal Information tab. Those who have previously customized their my.calpoly.edu portal profile need to subscribe to the Personal Information channel before making any changes.
Leaves solicitation

Alcohol screening day set for Thursday in UU
Cal Poly employees, students and their families will be given an opportunity to participate in National Alcohol Screening Day, the nation's large-scale education program on alcohol problems, on Thurs­day (April 11) in the library. The program is free. Representatives from Health and Counseling Services will be in the library from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. distributing materials and adminis­tering a confidential written screening self-test for alcohol abuse and dependence. Individuals will be able to discuss the results of their test with a mental health professional.

Videos will be shown, and attendees will learn about the causes, symptoms and treat­ment of alcohol abuse and dependence. National Alcohol Awareness Day is intended to help reduce high-risk drink­ing. For more information, call Counseling Services at ext. 6-2511.

Nussbaum reception set
A reception for Judy Nussbaum, asso­ciate professor in English, and her endowments, will be 3-5 p.m. Thursday (April 11) in the Smith Alumni and Con­ference Center.

Nussbaum has accepted a position as director of development for the Evans­ville Christian Life Center in Evans­ville, Ind. She has been at Cal Poly since 1998. During that time she served in Alumni Relations, Student Affairs, and work at Cal Poly will be Friday (April 12).

English Prof Kevin Clark to read from new book
English Professor Kevin Clark will read poems from his new book, "In the Evening of No Warning," at 7 p.m. Friday (April 12) in Phillips Hall in the Christopher Cohen Center.

Clark will also give a talk about creating and publishing the book at 11 a.m. Thurs­day (April 11) in Fisher Science 287.

Preeminent critic and poet Sandy Gil­bert said, "Kevin Clark's haunted and haunting 'In the Evening of No Warning' is by turns terrified by the sham­egua of the very Things that he Eli­gates. Clark is a deeply thoughtful poet whose narrative gift is always enhanced by a searching and restless consciousness; his melodies are limber; his language scrupulous and urgent.

Poet William Olen wrote, "somewhere this ecstatic poetry stops short of oblivion, accepts its margins, and seeks out the lovely surrealist threshold of marriage and family. I love this book for the flash and patience of its intelligences. The reading is part of the College of Liberal Arts WriterSpeak series. For more information, call English Professor Adam Hall at ext. 2-2096.

Housing Corp., to meet
The Board of Directors of the Cal Poly Housing Corp. will hold a regular public meeting at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Founda­tion Building, Room 124. For more information or to obtain a copy of the meeting agenda, call Bob Andrus, executive director, Cal Poly Housing Corp., at ext. 6-1131. A copy of the agenda packet will be available for public review at the Kennedy Library Reserve Desk (Room 144).

‘One-drop rule’ to be focus of talk Thursday
Phillip Mabry, a faculty member in Ethnic Studies, will present "Rethinking the One-Drop Rule: The Race-Gender­Nexus Naxos and the Asian-American Experience" 11 a.m.-noon Thursday (April 11).

The talk is presented by the Women's Studies Program as part of its Faculty Lecture Series 2002. Mabry will speak in Erhart Agriculture 200.

The talk is historically meant that anyone with "one drop" of non-white blood should be classified as non-white.

Mabry's talk proposes a reformulation of the one-drop rule and expands its applic­ation to war babies in Asia.

"This broadened scope suggests that the 'one-drop rule' is not merely a classi­fication device, but a revealing manifesta­tion of broader structures of dominance, including race, sexuality and nationalism," Mabry said.

He teaches Asian-American studies and has conducted research on the American history of race and citizenship.

For more information on the talk, call Women's Studies at ext. 6-1525, e-mail womanst@calpoly.edu, or visit the Web at calpoly.edu/womanst.

Annual juried student show to open Friday in gallery
Cal Poly students' best artwork will be featured in "Quick & Easy," the 2002 annual juried student exhibit, from Friday (April 12) through Thursday (April 18) at the Cal Poly Univer­sity Art Gallery in the Diller-Brown and more from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Madonna Inn.

The "one-drop rule" has historically meant that anyone with "one drop" of non-white blood should be classified as non-white.

Mabry's talk proposes a reformulation of the one-drop rule and expands its appl­ication to war babies in Asia.

"This broadened scope suggests that the 'one-drop rule' is not merely a classi­fication device, but a revealing manifesta­tion of broader structures of dominance, including race, sexuality and nationalism," Mabry said.

He teaches Asian-American studies and has conducted research on the American history of race and citizenship.

For more information on the talk, call Women's Studies at ext. 6-1525, e-mail womanst@calpoly.edu, or visit the Web at calpoly.edu/womanst.

Annual juried student show to open Friday in gallery
Cal Poly students' best artwork will be featured in "Quick & Easy," the 2002 annual juried student exhibit, from Friday (April 12) through Thursday (April 18) at the Cal Poly Univer­sity Art Gallery in the Diller-Brown and more from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Madonna Inn.

The "one-drop rule" has historically meant that anyone with "one drop" of non-white blood should be classified as non-white.

Mabry's talk proposes a reformulation of the one-drop rule and expands its appl­ication to war babies in Asia.

"This broadened scope suggests that the 'one-drop rule' is not merely a classi­fication device, but a revealing manifesta­tion of broader structures of dominance, including race, sexuality and nationalism," Mabry said.

He teaches Asian-American studies and has conducted research on the American history of race and citizenship.

For more information on the talk, call Women's Studies at ext. 6-1525, e-mail womanst@calpoly.edu, or visit the Web at calpoly.edu/womanst.

Kathryn Rummell selected ‘outstanding advisor’
Kathryn Rummell, assistant professor in the English Department, was selected as the first Outstanding Faculty Advisor Award recipient. At the request of Provost Paul Zingg, the award was developed by the Advising Council to recognize outstanding achieve­ment by a faculty member in the area of student advising. Nominations were solicited from the faculty and staff and students.

Kathryn Rummell has been recognized during Fall Conference and will receive a $500 honorarium. Her name will be displayed on a perpetual plaque.

Jazz Band to perform big-band classics Sunday
The University Jazz Band #1 will pro­vide the music for a free big-band dance concert featuring the sounds of authentic swing-era tunes on Sunday (April 14). The jazz band will play the classics as recorded by Benny Goodman, Count Basie, Glenn Miller, Stan Kenton, Les Brown and more from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Madonna Inn.

Those interested in donating leave may remain in full-pay status during an ex­ tended absence. Those interested in donating leave may request a Catastrophic Leave Donation form from solicitation coordinator Lisa Astles, Art and Design, ext. 6-1149 or by e-mail.

CSEA employees in units 2, 5, 7 and 9, Unit 4 (academic professionals), E99 (exempt), C99 (confidential), M80 (management personnel) and M98 (exempt) are eligible for leave donation. Total. All other state employees may do­nate up to 16 hours sick leave and/or vacation credits per fiscal year in incre­mental one-hour units.

CSEA employees in units 2, 5, 7 and 9, Unit 4 (academic professionals), E99 (exempt), C99 (confidential), M80 (management personnel) and M98 (exempt) are eligible for leave donation. Total. All other state employees may do­nate up to 16 hours sick leave and/or vacation credits per fiscal year in incre­mental one-hour units.

CSEA employees in units 2, 5, 7 and 9, Unit 4 (academic professionals), E99 (exempt), C99 (confidential), M80 (management personnel) and M98 (exempt) are eligible for leave donation. Total. All other state employees may do­nate up to 16 hours sick leave and/or vacation credits per fiscal year in incre­mental one-hour units.
Lehman, dean of library services, and Frank Mumford, executive director of the Foundation, will give welcoming remarks.

Provost Paul Smart will speak about scholarship as Cal Poly, and Deborah Schwartz, chair of the Academic Senate Committee, will emcee the year’s honorees.

Copies of the books will be on sale, and the authors will be on hand to sign the books.

Mussbaun receipt set for Thursday in UU

A reception for Judy Mussbaun, asso ciate director for research and development, will be 3-5 p.m. Thursday (April 11) in the Smith Alumni and Con ference Center.

Mussbaun has accepted a position as director of development for the Evansville Christian Life Center in Evansville, Ind. Her last day of work at Cal Poly has been at Cal Poly since 1987. During that time she has served in Alumni Relations and in Student Affairs. Her resignation historically meant that anyone with one drop’ of non-white blood should be classified as non-white.

Mabry’s talk proposes a reformulation of the one-drop rule and expands its application to people in biracial and triracial background categories.

“This broadened scope suggests that the ‘one-drop rule’ is not merely a classifi cation device, but a revealing manifesta tion of broader structures of dominance, including race, sexuality and nationality,” Mabry said.

He teaches Asian American studies and has conducted research on the Asian American experience.

For more information on the talk, call Women’s Studies at 6-1525, e-mail workshops@polymail.calpoly.edu or visit the Web atecalpu@ womm.com.

Annual juried student show to open in Friday gallery

Cal Poly students’ best artwork will be featured in “Quick & Easy,” the 2002 juried student show at the University Art Gallery in the Drexler Building. Graphic design, photography and two- and three-dimensional work will be featured in the show.

Artists’ reception will be 7-9 p.m.

The exhibit will be on view through April 20.

For more information, call 559-278-7050.

‘One-drop rule’ to be focus of talk Thursday

Philip Mabry, a faculty member in Ethnic Studies, will present “Rethinking the One-Drop Rule: The Race-Gender-Nation Nexus and the Asian-American Experience” 11 a.m.-noon Thursday (April 11).

The talk is presented by the Women’s Studies Program as part of its Faculty Lecture Series 2002. Mabry will speak in Estey Auditorium 200.

His talk will also be a part of the Spring Conference and will receive a $500 honorarium. Her name will be displayed on a perpetual plaque.

Jazz Band to perform big-band classics Sunday

The University Jazz Band #1 will provide the music for a free big-band dance concert featuring the sounds of authentic swing-era tunes on Sunday (April 14).

The jazz band will play the classics as recorded by Benny Goodman, Count Basie, Glenn Miller, Stan Kenton, Lena and Brown and more from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Madonna Inn.

The event is open to the general public. For more information, call ext. 6203 or register online at www.extendedstudies.calpoly.edu.

Kathryn Rummell selected “outstanding advisor”

Kathryn Rummell, assistant professor in the English Department, was selected as the first Outstanding Faculty Advisor Award recipient.

Rummell was the recipient of Provost Paul Zingg, the award was developed by the Advising Council to recognize outstanding achievement for a faculty member in the area of student advising. Nominations were solicited from the faculty and staff.

This year’s Outstanding Student Advisor, recognized during Fall Conference and will receive a $500 honorarium. Her name will be displayed on a perpetual plaque.

Cal Poly to offer three Smart viticulture seminars

Richard Smart, a visiting professor in the College of Agriculture and Environmental Resources, will offer three industry seminars outlining the latest practical and scientific knowledge available for wine grape growers.

Smart, from Australia, will hold the seminars in Paso Robles and Geyserville. Scheduled seminars include:

• Canopy Management and Partial Root Zone Drought, April 19, Paso Robles, and April 21 in Geyserville. The $195 seminar fee includes lunch, materi als and tours of Central Coast vineyards using PRD and progressive canopy-management techniques.

• Intensive Viticulture Techniques, May 3-5, J. Lohr Wine Education Center, Paso Robles. The three-day seminar will focus on all aspects of viticulture, from site selection to vineyard management techniques to harvest. Topics include how to prune grapevines, rootstock, vineyard design, planting, trellises systems, irrigation, nutrition, machinery, costs and returns. The $700 seminar fee includes lunch, materials and vineyard tours. A guest- acquired mixer will be held May 2.

• An introduction to Commercial Wine, St estendedStudies. For more information, call ext.6203 or register online at www.extendedstudies.calpoly.edu.

Statistical consulting offered spring quarter

The Department of Statistics offers statistical consulting service can help with research design and data analysis in a variety of projects. The service is intended to support projects and research, including senior project and graduate research.

Robert Smith, the main consultant, provides assistance with study design, data collection, experimental design, and analysis of research projects. He is also available to work with students who are interested in consulting on undergraduate projects or topics and advise on computer packages available at Cal Poly. If a special area of expertise is identified, he can provide an introduction to your department or group, Smidt can lecture on the subject.

For more information, including what to bring to a consultation, visit the depart ment’s Web page at www.calpoly.edu/stat. For details on the rodeo or the Rodeo Team, contact coach Brett Clark at ext. 63570.

Hagiya Photography and Design in San

The reading is part of the College of Liberal Arts’ WritersSpeak series. For more information, call English Professor Adam Hall at ext. 22096.

Annual juried student show to open in Friday gallery

Cal Poly students’ best artwork will be featured in "Quick & Easy," the 2002 annual juried student exhibit, from Friday (April 12) through Monday (April 15) in the University Art Gallery in the Drexler Building.

Free admission is available to the general public.

Statistical consulting offered spring quarter

Mustang Stamped Rodeo to be part of Open House

The annual Cal Poly Mustang Rodeo will be held in conjunction with Open House festivities April 19-21.

Tickets will be 7 at p.m.

For more information, call ext. 6203 or register online at www.extendedstudies.calpoly.edu.

Continued on page 4
Cavatina Duo to give master class, recital

The acclaimed Cavatina Duo — guitarist Denis Azabagic and flautist Eugenia Moliner — will give a master class and recital April 24.

The master class will be at 5:15 p.m. The recital will be at 7 p.m. Both events are scheduled in Room 218 in the Davidson Music Center.

The husband-and-wife team are said to have captivated audiences with their powerful and versatile performances at European chamber music festivals in France, the Netherlands, Germany and Spain. They've been described as combining the Spanish spirit with the sensibility of the Balkans to create a unique concert experience.

The energy levels behind these brilliant musicians are breathtaking and fascinating,” wrote a critic for British Flute Society Magazine. “The Spanish flutist Eugenia Moliner is an artist of the highest caliber, and her husband, Denis Azabagic, is one of the best guitarists I have heard.”

Azabagic, considered to be among the world’s elite guitarists, has won 10 international competitions.

Moliner performs as a soloist and with the New Odes Trio.

The events are sponsored by the Music Department and College of Liberal Arts.

For more information, call ext. 6-2406.

CPR schedule

The Cal Poly Report is posted online at www.calpoly.edu/announcements every Wednesday during the academic year. It can also be accessed from the “A-Z” index on the Cal Poly Home Page. Click on “C.”

In addition, copies are mailed to each department office for posting and to employees who do not have regular access to computers.

Articles are due to Public Affairs by 10 a.m. Wednesday for the following week’s edition. Items can be e-mailed to newsletter@calpoly.edu or faxed to ext. 6-2406.

Walk-in Consulting Hours:
Monday - 3:10-4 p.m. and 4:10-5 p.m.
Thursday - 9:10-11 a.m.
Office Hours for Students
Monday - 8:40-9:20 a.m. and 4:10-5 p.m.
Wednesday - 8:40-9:20 a.m. and 3:10-4:30 p.m.
Friday - 8:40-9:20 a.m.
Appointments can be made by calling during walk-in consulting hours or during student office hours.

Position Vacancies

STATE: The official listing of staff and management vacancies is posted at least two weeks prior to closing dates on Cal Poly’s Web site at www.calpoly.edu. Select “Employment” from the Cal Poly links drop-down box. As a courtesy to our on-campus employees, job vacancies also are published in the Cal Poly Report. Positions marked with an asterisk indicate that qualified on-campus applicants in bargaining units 2, 5, and 7 will be given first consideration. Job applications must be received in Human Resources, Admin. 110, by 5 p.m. on the closing date.

Dateline

Wednesday, April 10

Speaker: Dolores Huerta (United Farm Workers), “My Role in the History of the UFW,” Chemshun, 7 p.m.

Thursday, April 11

Alcohol Screening Day: Self-tests, video, handouts, UU Plaza, 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

Speaker: Kevin Clark (English), creating and publishing his book “In the Evening of No Warning,” Fisher Science 287, 11 a.m.

Women’s Studies Faculty Lecture Series: Philip Mabry (Ethnic Studies), “Rethinking the One-Drop Rule: The Race-Gender-Nation Nexus and the American Experience,” Erhart Agriculture 200, 11 a.m.

Friday, April 12

Writers’ Speak: Kevin Clark (English), poems from “In the Evening of No Warning,” Christopher Cohan Center’s Phillips Hall, 7 p.m.

Muse: Buban Opal and the Islamabad Oriental Ensemble, Theatre, 8 p.m. (S) Muster Cal Poly Choral Theatre Ensemble, First Baptist Church, 2725 Johnson, San Luis Obispo, 8 p.m. (B)

Saturday, April 13

Muse: Cantus Classical Drum Ensemble, outside Christopher Cohans Center’s entrance, noon.

Swing Dance Concert: University Jazz Band #1, Madonna Inn, 7 p.m.

Tuesday, April 16

Muse: Tim Jackson, Backstage Pizza, 11 a.m.

“The Vagina Monologues,” Theatre, 8 p.m. (A)

New service available for e-mail, address changes

A new Web tool was installed recently for the Cal Poly Web portal that allows students and faculty and staff members to easily update their preferred e-mail delivery address.

Called Personal Information, the tool also allows students and faculty and staff members to easily update their mailing addresses and phone numbers.

Faculty and staff members listed in the Student Information System database will be able to use the tool to update their SIS addresses and phone numbers but not their Payroll and Human Resources addresses. Those changes must be reported in person to Human Resources.

To use the new tool, use the Personal Information channel on the Cal Poly portal at http://my.calpoly.edu/ Instructions for logging into the portal are located on the my.calpoly.edu Web page. Anyone using the portal for the first time must log in and click on the Personal Information tab. Those who have previously customized their my.calpoly.edu portal profile need to subscribe to the Personal Information channel before making any changes.

Extended Studies launches program at Mississippi base

Two Extended Studies certificate programs were recently launched at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi, Miss. — the first permanent Cal Poly Extended Studies programs established in another state.

The noncredit programs in information technology and Oracle database administration will be administered by Extended Studies.

Students will receive instruction both online and in a new computer lab at the base. High-speed Internet access will link the two campuses.

Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College and the University of Southern Mississippi are also partners in developing the programs.

New service available for e-mail, address changes

A new Web tool was installed recently for the Cal Poly Web portal that allows students and faculty and staff members to easily update their preferred e-mail delivery address.

Called Personal Information, the tool also allows students and faculty and staff members to easily update their mailing addresses and phone numbers.

Faculty and staff members listed in the Student Information System database will be able to use the tool to update their SIS addresses and phone numbers but not their Payroll and Human Resources addresses. Those changes must be reported in person to Human Resources.

To use the new tool, use the Personal Information channel on the Cal Poly portal at http://my.calpoly.edu/ Instructions for logging into the portal are located on the my.calpoly.edu Web page. Anyone using the portal for the first time must log in and click on the Personal Information tab. Those who have previously customized their my.calpoly.edu portal profile need to subscribe to the Personal Information channel before making any changes.

California Polytechnic State University
San Luis Obispo, CA 93407
Vol. 56, No. 27 • April 10, 2002
Published by Public Affairs • www.calpoly.edu/~communications

PAGE 4