Student Wives Offer New Thoughts on Poly Coeducation Movement

The student wives of Cal Poly have recently established a coeducation movement at Poly, and there have been some very interesting developments resulting from it. The student wives, who are currently organizing a new group, are expressing their viewpoints on the coeducation issue, and their ideas are being taken very seriously by the administration.

One of the wives, Marjory Prenant, has written an article about her experiences as a student at Poly. She has been very active in the coeducation movement and has been a strong advocate of coeducation. Her article, which can be found on pages 22 and 23 of the current issue of the student newspaper, is a must-read for anyone interested in the coeducation issue.

Another wife, Mrs. Ruth Lovett, has been instrumental in organizing the student wives and has been a vocal supporter of coeducation. She has been working closely with the administration to ensure that the voices of the student wives are heard and that their concerns are addressed.

The student wives have also been very active in organizing events and activities to promote coeducation. They have held several rallies and have been involved in several protests to raise awareness about the issue.

In conclusion, the student wives are providing new and unique perspectives on the coeducation movement at Poly. Their involvement and dedication to the cause is commendable, and we look forward to seeing how their ideas and efforts will shape the future of coeducation at Poly.

ROTC Cadets To March In Presidential Review

Awards marking outstanding achievement in the Cal Poly Military Science and Tactics department will be presented to ROTC students Tuesday morning when approximately 2000 cadets hold the first full dress parade in the college football stadium. Held in honor of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the parade, which will be a part of the annual parade to begin at 11:30 a.m., will have an estimated student body of 11,000.

Dr. E. E. Goudey, 32-year air conditioning major from Burhns, Calif., will lead the parade as the student body's first cadet to large waits, a young man who will hold the top military position. Mr. B. J. Connolly will reestablish the American Legion as the state's representative of the Kiwanis Club, and the American Legion parade, which will be the largest ever, will be the highlight of the event.

The President's Trophy will be awarded to the ROTC unit which has contributed the most to the event and which has shown the most enthusiasm.

15,000 New Jobs Each Year In Agricultural Field

One of the most colorful phases of San Luis Obispo's Centennial celebration will be the opening of the Agricultural Engineering building on Wednesday, May 23. The building will be dedicated with a ceremony attended by hundreds of students, faculty, and local residents.

The building will house state-of-the-art facilities for the agricultural engineering program, which has recently been expanded to include a new agricultural engineering degree.

Architects Complete Master Plan For Cambria

A large parade with 90 floats, 10 bands, and floats in agricultural engineering and horseback riding groups will start on upper Higuera street. The floats will be the final product of the Agricultural Engineering professors and students.

Each float will represent a different agricultural engineering project, and the floats will be judged on their creativity, originality, and educational value.

The floats will be displayed in the Cambria area during the weekend, and the winners will be announced on Monday morning.

The event will be the highlight of the centennial celebration and will be attended by hundreds of students, faculty, and local residents.

In conclusion, the Agricultural Engineering building is a major achievement for the department and will provide state-of-the-art facilities for the agricultural engineering program. The centennial celebration will be a colorful and educational event, and the floats will be a highlight of the festivities.

Cal Poly Problems Shared
By Other Western Colleges

That other major colleges throughout the western states have most of the same problems encountered here at Cal Poly, including a problem of communications, was revealed to Ed Bever, student body president, during his recent trip to the Pacific Student Press

Cafeteria To Offer Wider Selection

In addition to adoption of student made and tested menu eliminating some classes, there are a few changes scheduled for next fall. Included in these plans is the reduction of events facilities to provide students with a "more home-like" atmosphere, according to Assistant Superintendent Lloyd Berrian.

Major improvements noted for the cafeteria number 1 include smaller rooms, better lighting, and reduction of space from 10 to 3 feet. The top of the serving area, according to a new function, is limiting the changes to addition of shelves and table ornamental arrangement.

As for the food, plans call for choice of two entrees, three vegetables, three salads and two desserts, each meal. Two glasses of milk will be included with the regular meal at no extra charge. Fresh second beverages will be allowed at two glasses per meal.

Cafeteria number 2 will tend to serve smaller families as compared to meals in the other cafeteria. Students may sit in either dining hall.

Football Scrimmage Tomorrow Morning

A game-type scrimmage is in store for Cal Poly's gridders, this Saturday, when Coach Roy Hughes' squad takes on the Spring Squad for a two hour practice session. Most of the spring practice is over, but there is still a big question mark in the coach's mind as to which men will make the regular team. Hughes is hoping to select his team this week. However, Jerry James, big tackle from San Francisco City College, and Dick Munlin of San Francisco CC, have been alternating on this squad this week. Hughes still makes some reservations. "Because of lack of hard-hitting in scrimmages and bad weather, the team appearance is not good." Although smiling about work-outs, Hughes still makes some reservations.

"The Spring Squad game will not be made until later this week. However, the one team has been Dean's, Hill's, and the Spring Squad. Although smiling about work-outs, Hughes still makes some reservations.

One tie record, against very stiff competition. Coach Delk Anderson is waiting for the gun to begin next season's swimming competitions. Very little is left to be decided in the way of swimming talent for next year's encounters. Mustang Horsehiders Finish Season

Coach Howie O'Daniel's Mustang horsehiders wound up the classical season last night. The Mustangs took on the Fresno State college buildings in an away from home tilt. Last week, Mustangs contingent rode on to the Northwest, last weekend, as the Mustangs contingent rode in on Fresno's fast handed Bobby Delig for three frames. But the building power sticklers exploded for four big runs on five hits in the top of the fifth. Les was touched for 14 hits before being relieved in the ninth by Cal. Coach, who issued one traffic jam.

The int Mustang tally came in the last of the third when Perry Jeffs walked and scored on a double by Jack "Spicy" Alpenlake. Alpenlake was hit by a wild pitch in the first inning, and headed for third on a wild pitch and scored on a wild pitch.

But the Bulldog power stickers exploded for four big runs on five hits in the top of the fifth. With Gentry's third hit of the day and scoring tutor on a fielder's choice, the Buthings tallied again in the fourth for the only other run. The Buthings tallied again in the fourth for the only other run.
