PARADE PLANNING UNDERWAY; ENTRIES CLOSING OCT. 31

With Homecoming activities only four weeks away, plans are being made for the annual parade which starts at 1 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 1.

“Mudder Goose Comes to Poly,” the title of this year’s Homecoming parade theme, will be depicted by the entry float of the Poly Alumni Association. It will be shown that the Poly family cares for its parents. The parade theme is an extension of the parade theme of last year, “Grand Parents Weekend.”

Jerry Cleaver, parade chairman, said parade entries will officially close Oct. 31 at 5 p.m. Entry blanks may be obtained at the ABB office, in the Police Station, or from any member of the Rally Committee.

An entry form must be completed for each parade entry and each organization sending an entry must send the names of all the participants. The party that the entry will follow must also be indicated.

The parade is divided into two sections, the Downtown and the Farmer’s Section. The first section is composed of the downtown organizations and the second section will consist of the Farmer’s section.

The parade will be judged by a panel of judges who will attempt to judge the entries on their entertainment value, scholarship and appearance. There will be no theme competitive entries in the Farmer’s Section.

Entries are due at the ABB office, at the corner of Johnson and Marsh streets, by 5 p.m. on Oct. 31.

Parade judging will begin promptly at 1 p.m. in the Safeway parking lot, corner of Marsh and Johnson. Entry blanks will be required of all participants.

Entries are due at the ABB office, at the corner of Johnson and Marsh streets, by 5 p.m. on Oct. 31.

TODAY’S STUDENTS MUST BETTER YESTERDAY’S—President McPhee

“Today’s college students must be better than those of yesterday,” President Julian A. McPhee told the largest convocation audience at Poly in a half-century Friday.

McPhee stressed the need of modern society that he said requires effective and efficient higher education for more and more of its people.

“We are engineering a world where you can’t wait, where you can’t miss, where you can’t lollygag because the competition is too sharp,” he quoted an editorial commentator.

“Be group of us must be more es­sential than doctors and dentists, but the nation has no need for 64 million of them. It does have need for many kinds of skilled men and women: engineers, scientists, teachers, attorneys, who, in short, are the leaders of tomorrow,” he said.

Poly’s concept of “learn by doing” and “learn while working” were also stressed. A concept that

Shortage Of Books Caused By Truck Strike Says Hill

Who has worked our book best this time this quarter?

This quarter is to be the question of the Poly Book Store manager, Robert Hill. This week, Hill noted that some books shipped over a month ago from New York have not arrived. There are shipping students and faculty to order books for the next quarter as soon as possible to help alleviate the problem.

Winter quarter will be on us before very long and we are still going to face a very serious problem in getting the books from the publishers as promptly as in the past.

Hill says, "I have been able to help us by getting your book and supply requests to your professors and that much of an advantage to all of us."

With their backs to the wall the Poly defense displayed its ability to come through when the chips are down. When the chips are down, the Poly mentor will have to build the utmost amount of confidence in his boys and in himself.

Returning from early sign-ups, he expects about 45 hopefuls to tryout for the team which opens the season here against the San Diego Mustangs December 6.

The Poly mentor intended that from the start of training camp, he would put the season's first formidables of the year, the Poly defensive line, Impregnable. The Poly defense will be the first formidable foe of the year, the Poly defensive line.

The Poly defensive line will put in its first test of the year when they take on the San Jose Spartan offense to the air Saturday night. Against their first test, Poly's defensive line will show its first formidability against the San Jose Spartan offense to the air Saturday night.

The Poly defensive line is being spearheaded by Lineman Ben Butterfield to cement its first test of the year when they take on the San Jose Spartan offense to the air Saturday night.

John Allen, John Madden and Bob Thetford are the Poly mentor's key men on the line against the San Jose Spartan offense to the air Saturday night.

For real, down-to-earth smoking enjoyment, there's nothing else like Camel. No other cigarette brings you the rich flavor and satisfying mildness of Camel's costly blend. More people smoke Camels than any other cigarette of any kind. Today as always, the best tobacco makes the best smoke.

But above all... Have a real cigarette—have a CAMEL.
Freshman Rec Center Opens

"Freshmen make students will find TV and quiet games at the new comfortable snack stand in the field house," reports Don Mayr, president of the student council.

The room is open every night, except Saturday, from 10:00 to 3:00 a.m. and for special televised events, such as pro football, world series, or game of the week.

Managing the center are five Los Angeles men, who helped organise the snack bar last year for the Los Angeles school. They will be available to
