Six Religious Leaders Speak Here Next Week

Six men noted in the field of religion will conduct daily seminars during Cal Poly's third annual Religion in Life Week, January 18-22 on campus. Coming from various parts of California, the men are scheduled to speak at the morning meetings of on-and-off-campus clubs.

V.A. Man Explains Payment Delay On GI Checks

The majority of all training allowances checks due veterans at Cal Poly for the first week of January have not been sent. These checks come as a result of a money shortage in the fiscal year 1958. According to M. J. Prince, assistant registrar, some problems have prevented the mailing of these checks.

All veterans who have been in Basic training are being paid for their December training time, beginning January 9, 1959. The beginning and ending dates of training are shown on the checks. Any time the veteran is on Active Duty, he is not eligible for training allowance. All military reports, including a statement of the reasons for this delay, are available at the VA Man's office on the Poly campus. The VA Man's office may be found in room 110 of the Union, if needed.

EDITORIAL: Viva La IBM Registration

It's time for sophomore English major from Berkeley, Ed Nelson, to start thinking about registering for the Spring quarter. It's the same old tale, but somehow Ed always manages to make it interesting.

"I'm a little concerned," Nelson said. "I'm not sure if I'll be able to get the courses I want.

"I think IBM Registration could use a little help," he added. "Maybe we could have a marathon registration day or something.

"Or maybe we could have a registration advisory committee," he continued. "That way, we could make sure everyone's courses are available and that there are enough seats in each class."
Poly Hoopsters Smashed
In First Two CCAA Games

Blaming "inexperience and jitters," Cal Poly dribblers got off to a bad start by dropping their first two CCAA games. Long Beach State smashed Poly 88-43 and San Diego State rang up a 78-64 victory.

"With as many sophomores are bound to make mistakes," exclaimed Coach Harden. "Against Long Beach we just tied up and against San Diego we were outplayed.

Jergensen rates San Diego as one of the finest small college teams in the nation. They are real fast and good shooters," Jergen-son says. "They hit 14 of 28 Free-throws against us and the eight before when they last beat us last year at Long Beach. Poly hit 9 of 15.

The long home game was Poly's worst this season, according to Harden. The Mustangs shot 54 per cent of their field goal attempts and with one for ward going scoreless and 5 guards hit several of the game's 18 three-point shots. (They hit 13 of 48 to be exactly Poly's percentage.)

The first 10 minutes of the sectioned had been a "yard sale" for the Poly offense. "We had no shot for about nine minutes while the Pioneers hit 10 of 12 Free throws and had a lead. Poly lead at half time 38-37.

The Poly defense did come through in both the Long Beach and San Diego scoring lines. "They backed their players 150 per cent and were run-ing out all through the game," he said.

Another Mal McCormick was high pointer for the Mustangs against Long Beach with 17 points. Jorgensen's efforts were
With San Diego, guard Vic Di-

Hughes Reveals Poly's Offense To Coaches

Roy Hughes, who coached the Cal 100 yards in one of the nine and one in the nine yards that has been at the college for five years, said that he will coach ball coaches last night at the amdian National College Coal-

The team lead the west coast small college and was joined by Clarence Blazek of Lenoir-Rhyne College of Hickory, North Carolina, who represented the eastern universities, it marks the first time that small college coaches have been asked to address the association.

Hughes talked on the Cal Poly offense—an attack that has failed to come through in nine years. The Silver Bullet's protensive has moved nearly twice as many points as the efforts of those nine years—2004 to 1127.

Tulare Wrestlers
Take Home Trophy

California Poly, holding opponents to 34 points a game, listed nineteenth in the nation by the National collegiate Athlete Bureau. The station, told through Jan., shows the Mustangs giving up 66 points in the last game.

Poly won three duals in college in defense with an average of 253 points per game.

Poly Royal Queen Contest Opens Today; Ends Jan. 28

Now is the hour for all Poly Royal queen hopefuls to come to the aid of their clubs. The 27th Annual Poly Royal queen contest was officially launched today with the announcement by Don McCullum, Chairman of the Queen's Committee, of the contest's petitioning date.

Petitioning begins today, according to McCullum, and will end Jan. 28 at 12 noon. To participate in the contest, queen hopefuls must be sponsored by a campus club or organization. McCullum said, "This policy has been adopted because it is felt that a girl has a better chance if she is given strong, unified support by her own campaign.

All clubs are strongly urged by McCullum to sponsor a girl for queen. Petitions may be obtained in the student body office no later than 12 noon, Jan. 24.

Rules adopted for this year's contest are as follows: All contests will be conducted under the average. A club or group of clubs must sponsor one contestant. No girl who has been queen of any previous event at Cal Poly may enter the contest. Girls who were princesses of other contests may enter; however, Engaged girls are ineligible. Girls entering for the two contests will be competing currently with the Poly Royal contest contest.

After the closing of the petitioning period, Jan. 28, all contestants will be interviewed by a selection committee, at a closed meeting Monday evening, Feb. 3. At this time, five finalists will be selected from among the contestants.

The free finalists will be given a week to prepare a campaign for student votes. On Feb. 1, a general student body assembly will convene to hear the campaigns. Voting for queen will be held Feb. 18 and 19. The name of the queen will be announced Feb. 26.

Crops Club...

A discussion of events will take place at the next meeting of the Poly Crops Club. Cliff. Hahn, club commodore, urges all interested persons to contact him through box 1178.

M.E. Society...

The M.E. Society will hold its next meeting on Jan. 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the M.I. lab. All members are urged to attend.

For general admission and 870 tickets.
