Sexual harassment workshop set for today

An open workshop on how to conduct sexual harassment investigations will be led by Professor Jan Duffy, an employment lawyer and expert witness, today in UU 220 from 11 am to 4 pm. The workshop will focus on the skills and legal guidelines for handling such inquiries. All Cal Poly sexual harassment investigators and academic department heads should attend. To register, please call the Affirmative Action Office, ext. 2062, or e-mail du552@oasis.

Gish and Hill to read recent poetry and fiction

Cal Poly authors Bob Gish and Adam Hill will read from their work on Friday, Jan. 19, as part of the Poly Voices and WriterSpeak series. The program will begin at 7 pm in San Luis Lounge in the University Union.

Gish, director of ethnic studies, will read a selection of new poems as well as a story from a forthcoming book, "Bad Boys and Black Sheep: Stories of Mischief and Misadventure." Hill, a lecturer in English, will read from a novel in progress, "Lake Hope."

Three lectures to delve into physics of music

A physicist from Northern Illinois University will give three lectures on Thursday and Friday, Jan. 18-19, on the physics of music. Thomas D. Rossing, author of more than 190 publications and former president of the American Association of Physics Teachers, will speak on "The Physics of Drums" at 11 am Jan. 18 in Room E45 of the Science Building as part of the Physics Colloquium series. The talk will cover the vibrations produced by different types of drums and how they radiate sound.

At 2 pm on Jan. 18, Rossing will discuss "The Physics of Guitars" in Room D2 of the Science Building. "Perception of Sound and Music," will be Rossing's topic at 8 am Jan. 19 in a seminar in Room 218 of the Music Building. The program is sponsored by the Physics and Music departments. This seminar will address the link between sound's physical characteristics and its subjective perception.

Women’s health care to be focus of Jan. 22 seminar

Everyone is invited to attend the first Women's Studies lunch-time seminar of winter quarter on Monday, Jan. 22, in the Staff Dining Room from 12:10 to 1 pm.

Kelly Young, a 1995 biological sciences graduate, will present "Fashion and Falling of the Womb: Dangerous Influences of Social Trends on 19th Century Gynecological Treatment of Prolapsed Uterus."

For more information, call the Women's Studies Program at ext. 1525.

Chemistry Department is now Chem & Biochem

The Chemistry Department name has been changed to the Chemistry and Biochemistry Department, as recommended by the Academic Senate and Academic Deans' Council and approved by President Baker.

Retirement dinner set for analyst Kalicicki

Joyce Kalicicki, a credential analyst in the University Center for Teacher Education, is retiring after 35 years of service, and a dinner in her honor is planned for 6 pm Sunday, Jan. 21, at Vista Grande Restaurant. Kalicicki began working at Cal Poly in the Records Office in 1960. She later worked in the Evaluations office, then transferred to her present position in 1970.

Tickets are $15 a person and can be reserved by calling ext. 7195. Reservations must be made by Tuesday, Jan. 16.
Ballroom Dance Club sets winter classes
Cal Poly’s Ballroom Dance Club has scheduled weekly meetings and lessons every Sunday through March 3 at the Odd Fellows Hall, 520 Dana Street, San Luis Obispo. Classes for beginners will be from 5:45 pm and intermediate lessons will begin at 6:45. Short club meetings will be held between the two classes.

The next two classes (Jan. 14 and 21) will be devoted to teaching the tango.

The tango will be taught at the following three lessons, and the cha cha will be the focus of the last three classes.

For cost and other information, call 783-2571 or send e-mail to kgreer@oboce.

Grc to dedicate new lab, $400K publishing system
The Graphic Communication Department will dedicate its new Digital Graphics Imaging Lab and a major new piece of donated equipment as part of its celebration of International Printing Week Jan. 16-19.

The department’s latest donation is a DocuTech digital printing and publishing system that prints, binds and finishes documents. The donation from Xerox Corp. is valued at more than $400,000.

A dedication ceremony and demonstration will begin at 11 am Thursday, Jan. 18, in Graphic Arts 218. For a full schedule of Printing Week lectures and other events, contact the Graphic Communication Department at ext. 1108.

Library offers classes on finding info on ‘Net’
The Kennedy Library has begun a series of workshops on “Navigating the Net for Information Resources.” Scheduled throughout winter quarter, the series covers Getting Started and Getting On; the MUSTANG go­pher; Polyclef, MELVYL and World­CAT for book information; FirstSearch/ CARL for journal literature; Dow Jones for business data and articles; Lexis/Nexis for current events; and the World Wide Web.

For a full schedule of classes, taught in Library 202, check your department bulletin board for the yellow­and­green poster or contact the Reference Department at ext. 2649.
