The newly proposed form of the student government will be placed before the students at a special election May 7 and, according to Student Affairs Council action taken Wednesday.

In what was the second meeting in a row of past midnight sessions, Council members voted to offer the dish cooked up by the Student Government Committee and let the students determine whether or not to accept the present constitution and by-laws, and in many basic respects, replace the present form.

Based on student government precedents, the following proposals were made as the basis for the new form:

1. The five boards, classes, Inter-Club Council and Student Council Committees would no longer have voting representation on SAC.

2. ICC Elects Three To Student Council

Three members of Inter-Club Council have been elected to Student Council last Monday night. Two of the five members attending the meeting . . .
