Skies The Limit

In hope of combating the money shortage in the budget this year, Finance Committee recommended to the Student Affairs Council that some athletic and social events charge a nominal fee beginning next September. The recommendation was made in keeping with a request from SAC last March, that Finance Committee design a system of program for the purpose of bolstering the budget. Finance Committee suggested that student body only fees be charged $10 for events, $5 for basketball, $2.50 for football, $5 for baseball, $10 for graduation, and $2.50 for any other event. The proceeds from the fees would be used for any purpose, but would be kept in a separate account. The additional money drawn from these various events is expected to total some $20,000. This amount is just enough to cover the cost of the program. The Finance Committee believes that this system of program will generate a reasonable budget for next year.

Aero Majors Attend IAS Conference, Two Present Papers

Dana DeVincent and Ken Parker, Aerospace Engineering seniors, are representing Cal Poly at the 11th annual Institute of Aerospace Engineers (IAS) Student Conference with student papers presented by the two seniors.

Thomas DeVincent, a master’s degree candidate in communication, and Dana DeVincent traveled to Los Angeles on Monday for a two-day conference on aerospace propulsion. They will return to school in time to complete work on their theses.

Aerospace professionals are getting together at the conference to discuss future trends in the industry. DeVincent said that space travel is a major concern of the conference this year.

DeVincent said that he was invited to speak at the conference because he has been working on a project for Bell Aerospace to develop a propulsion system for a spacecraft that will carry a number of people into space. The project is funded by the NASA Space Task Group.

DeVincent said that he has been working on the project for about a year and a half. He said that the project is still in the early stages of development and that there is a lot of work to be done before the spacecraft can be built.

The project is being funded by Bell Aerospace, which is a major player in the aerospace industry. DeVincent said that he is excited about the project and is looking forward to seeing it become a reality in the future.

例如，一位来自旧金山州立大学的学生说：“我本来打算去非洲工作，但我觉得美国也很有趣。我想为人们做点事情，看看他们是怎么生活的。”另一位来自佛罗里达大学的学生说：“我想去一个不同的地方，而不是我自己的国家。我想在不同的文化中学习，了解他们是如何生活的。”
