Koberg endows scholarship fund

To provide a continuing contribution to Cal Poly, retired architecture faculty member Don Koberg and his wife have established the Don and Caryl Koberg Architecture History Scholarship Endowment.

Koberg dedicated a portion of a quarter's salary to establish the named endowment, which will total $10,000 when mature.

For more information on endowments, call Ron Nordeen, director of gift planning, at ext. 1601.

CPNN to include more information

Information Systems has established a campuswide information system to provide students, faculty and staff members access to a variety of information from any terminal or PC connected to the campus computer network.

Cal Poly News Network (CPNN) has expanded to include computer lab hours, library hours, and a calendar of on- and off-campus events.

One of the most popular files is the list of open classes, developed in cooperation with the Student Information System User (SISU) group. The class list is updated hourly to show the number of seats available in open classes.

To use CPNN, students may go to any Academic Computing Services (ACS) lab and obtain access. Fliers posted in the lab provide instructions. Consultants are available to provide assistance in the Air Conditioning Lab (Bldg. 12, Room 102) or the open lab in the new Business Building (Room 300).

Although students don't need a computer account to use CPNN, ACS recommends every student have an account on AIX, which enables students to send electronic mail anywhere in the world to anyone with an electronic mail account, and provides access to libraries and information at hundreds of other universities worldwide. For more information on CPNN or AIX, contact ACS in Computer Science 114.

Parking permits go on sale Dec. 7

To eliminate the long lines that occur during the first week of the quarter, faculty and staff parking permits for winter will be available at the University Cashier's office, Adm. 131-E, from Monday, Dec. 7 through quarter break.

In addition, permits will be sold in Chumash Auditorium on the first day of classes, Monday, Jan. 4. Lines are usually shorter there.

Annual permits for the remaining academic year will also be available.

Parking permits may also be bought through payroll deduction. For more information on the payroll deduction program, call the Accounts Receivable office, Adm. 125, ext. 1711.

Fill up state cars at campus pump

Employees returning state vehicles should not fill up the gas tank off campus before returning it to Transportation Services.

The university contracts with the state for gasoline, and gas pumped at the Transportation Services yard costs well below retail prices. Employees returning from a trip are asked to try to buy just enough gas to get back to campus.

Deadline moved up for Jan. 7 Report

Please make a special note: Because of the Christmas and New Year's holidays, the deadline to submit copy for the Jan. 7 edition of the Cal Poly Report has been moved up to before Christmas.

Copy is due in Communications and Special Events, Heron Hall 208 (fax 6533), by noon on Monday, Dec. 21.

CSU Women's Council sets April conference

The California State University Women's Council will hold its 7th annual statewide conference April 15-17 at Cal State Chico.

Among the speakers will be 'Backlash' author Susan Faludi, CSU Chancellor Barry Munitz, and CSU Senior Vice Chancellor Molly Brand.

This year's theme, "Women's Ways of Knowing: Strategies for Structural Change in the CSU," will be explored through lectures and plenary sessions on Climate for Change and Leadership for Change.

Founded in 1986 to expand opportunities for women in the CSU, the council's goals include building coalitions for change, celebrating and increasing diversity, providing a network for women's issues, and promoting employment and educational equity.

For registration information and further details, call Willi Coleman, director of the Center for Women and Ethnic Issues, ext. 2600.

Puppet theater to perform Dec. 5

The Cal Poly Arts Family Arts Series will open the 1992-93 season with Napa Valley's Magical Moonshine Puppet Theatre.

Using large-scale puppets, masks and live music, the award-winning company will present "Animal Folktales of the Americas" at 11 am on Saturday, Dec. 5, in the Theatre.

Among the tales will be a story from the Andes about a fox and a condor who brought food to the earth, a tale from the Bering Strait about a fox and a caribou who exchange legs, a Native American story about Coyote, Mountain Ram, and Grizzly Bear. And for fans of Joel Chandler Harris' Uncle Remus series, there are tales of Br'er Rabbit and his companions.

Two stories will be performed in Spanish and English: a collection of coyote stories woven together into a dramatic yarn of clever tricks and bumbling mistakes and an upbeat musical about water and drought, a greedy rain forest queen, and a clever rabbit.

Tickets for the performance are $9 and $7 for the general public and $7 and $5 for children, students and senior citizens. All seats are reserved. For reservations call the Anytime ArtsLine at ext. 1421. Tickets may be bought at the Theatre Ticket Office between 10 am and 4 pm Monday through Friday.

In addition to the banjo, mandolin, bass, guitar, cello and viola, all youngsters play the violin and have garnered awards as fiddlers and symphony soloists.

Tickets for "A Country Christmas" are $9 and $7 for the general public and $7 and $5 for children, students and senior citizens. All seats are reserved. For reservations call the Anytime ArtsLine at ext. 1421. Tickets may be bought at the Theatre Ticket Office between 10 am and 4 pm Monday through Friday.

Christmas trees for sale on campus

The Natural Resources Management Department and Cal Poly's Logging Sports Team have begun their annual Christmas tree sale.

Monterey pines, at a cost of $15 to $25, are available now. Red firs, at $4 per foot, will go on sale Dec. 7. The tree farm is located on Stenner Creek Road just off Highway 1 and will be open from 3 to 5 pm weekdays and from 9 am to 5 pm on weekends.

For more information, call the Natural Resources Management Department at ext. 2702.
Current information needed on employees

To ensure all mail, including checks and W-2 forms, is received without delay, employees should report changes in personal information of record to Payroll Services or Human Resources. Changes to report include:

- A change in address or phone number should be reported in person to Payroll Services, Adm. 107. Dec. 11 is the last day to report an address change for the 1992 W-2 form. Employees should also notify insurance carriers, tax-sheltered annuity companies, etc.

A list of carrier addresses is available in Human Resources, Adm. 110.

To keep health and dental insurance records accurate, a change in family-member status should be reported in person to Human Resources within 60 days. This includes the birth or marriage of a child, death of a family member, or marriage or divorce of the employee. Late notification could result in ineligibility for coverage or delays in processing enrollment requests.

Employees are encouraged to have a current beneficiary designation on file with the appropriate retirement system. If a named beneficiary is not on file, death-benefit payments could be delayed. Also, if the retirement system is unable to locate a named beneficiary because of an invalid address, benefits remain unpaid. Beneficiary designation forms are available from Payroll Services or Human Resources.

The Designee Form, available from Payroll Services, should be current. This form designates the beneficiary for any unpaid salary or lump-sum leave payments still owed by Cal Poly to a deceased employee. All employees, including FERP participants and retirees, should update this form as soon as a change in beneficiary is desired, because a major change in family status, such as divorce, will not void the designation on file.

Student Affairs sets holiday wassail

The Student Affairs office cordially invites members of the campus community to join in a traditional holiday wassail at an open house Thursday, Dec. 10, from 2 to 4 pm in Adm. 209.

Foundation board meeting scheduled

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the Foundation board of directors will be Friday, Dec. 4, at 9:30 am in the Foundation Administration Building, Conference Room 124. This is a public meeting. For further information about this meeting or to obtain a copy of the meeting agenda, contact Al Amaral (executive director, Cal Poly Foundation) at ext. 1131.

A copy of the agenda packet is available for public review at the Kennedy Library Reserve Desk (Room 114) and at the Academic Senate Office in FOB 25H.

Cal Poly seeking dive safety officer
Cal Poly is looking for a scuba diving safety officer to ensure that campus diving activities conform to CSU scuba diving program rules. The CSU requires all campuses that have scuba activities to appoint a dive safety officer to certify faculty members or students who dive as part of a course or sponsored research.
To qualify, an individual must be a full-time Cal Poly employee with a current instructor's certificate issued by a nationally recognized agency such as the National Association of Underwater Instructors, Professional Association of Diving Instructors, or National Association of Skin Diving Schools. Some release time may be available.
Those interested should contact Charlie Crabbe, interim associate vice president for academic resources, at ext. 2186.
