Twenty-two Floats Entered In Parade

Highlighting the Homecoming parade this year are 22 floats supported by several hands and Cal Poly's ROTC and Penguins. Reflecting a Polytechnic Holiday theme, the parade will stock up a pot with floats in the following appearance.

Blue Key national honor society, the 'Homcoming Queen's float', depicts an island in the sea of blue, complete with palm trees, the queen and her court. A float showing Habitat celebration on a background of an ocean, beach ball, mechanical waves and fish will be presented by the Agricultural Engineers. Air Conditioning Club's entry will show a volcano, temple, and a girl surrounding a Polytechnic oven.

"Poly's Holiday", featured by the Mechanical Engineers, will have a large erupting San Diego dummy, decorated with leaves and a girl dancing on top. The Institute of Aerospace Relations will ride the breakers high on a surf board in "Edge High You Mustang" float with a luscious lily with palm trees. "Julian's Lasso" will rotate at the center of attention in a month long setting, and lampooning a San Diego donkey.

A torch of home will be presented in "Poly's Float." The Industrial Engineering Club will show a South Sea settler with a pipe and belly dancer. The Polytechnic girl charms the surfboard-riding San Diego Martian in his destruction by the giant "Poly Wave." In the experimental Horticulture Club's float, "Australiana The Great will be the center of attention in the float of Alpha Phi Omega. A raised ramp and platform will be presented by the Farmers Club.

A short post-nap roll will be held this Saturday on the steps of the Court House on Monterey Street immediately following the Homecoming Parade, which begins at 8 P.M. A hand, cheer-leaders, and song girls will be present to lend songs and poetry for those participating in the parade. Let's show some school spirit and support the team this Saturday.

The Inland Institute of Hawaii and three girls in Hawaiian dresses will be the center of attention.

Hawaiian House will show an original version of Paradise Lost. In three single-masted, a man on an island paradise, captured by natives.

It's party time in the Polytechnic Movement. President Hall has a beach party going full swing next to a Polytechnic float.

Pineapple Princess, by Matt gritti will feature a gigantic pineapple. "Take Me Back To My Little Grams Shack," the Los Lombras.

The Faculty Club will show a wave carrying a surfboard rider back to his grave hit at the base of Hawaii's Diamondhead. The Polytechnic girl will be its element as a baby chick escaping out of its shell formed by two girls in "Birds In Paradise."

A pedestrian will be adapted in the "Polytechnic Bar" by the Polytechnic Club. A running boat pulling two islands will show ailing woman on one island and shipwrecked sailors on the other. The sailors are attempting to save one of their numero on the other island.

The mighty Poly Mustang, emptying out of a Baja inferno, sends the San Diego Martian toward the center. The American football "Man- tanga of O'Connell" is coming in a Hawaiian surf board with a woman on a boat. A girl in school dress is having a Hawaiian theme with her hair down. A registration booth for alumni under the direction of Alumnae has been set up in the lobby of the Administration building and will be open from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Saturday. Alumni who have not purchased tickets for the Homecoming activities can go to registration. Game tickets are available at a reduced rate of $2.

Traveling guests attending tonight's alumni dinner at 4 p.m. at the Madonna Inn will be given a special ticket for the Homecoming activities. Game tickets are available at a reduced rate of $2.

Student and faculty will have a chance to relax in the College Union lounge. Throughout today and tomorrow, College Union is sponsoring an Art Exhibit at the temporary College Union building across from the Architectural Engineering department. Water colors, oil paintings, ceramics, portraits and some sculpture are available for $1.50 or $2.00.

A diagram showing the Homecoming parade route is on page 5. The parade is scheduled to begin 6:30 p.m. from the Safeway parking lot.

Alumnus of Year
Alfred P. Miossi, a 1907 graduate of Cal Poly, has been selected by the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association as alumnus of the year. He and Mrs. Miossi will be honored guests at the 1961 Homecoming festivities this weekend.

Miossi entered Cal Poly in the fall of 1906, his second year of operation, and has since watched its growth for 57 years. While in school, Miossi specialized in baseball and was an excellent high jumper. After graduation, he stayed at Poly as a repair and construction engineer. After that he started a combined ranching and carpentry career, and at one time operated three ranches with his father and two brothers.

Dean Of College Explains
College Union Movie Mixup

By Jim McLean, Staff Writer

In an effort to inform students of the situation that has arisen in regards to College Union movies, Dean of StudentsEverett Chandler told the Students Affairs Council Tuesday night that there is a disagreement between the college and a downtown theater. The group met in room 114 of the Library.

"The situation presents a real problem to the college administrator in the types of films we can see," Chandler explained.

Chandler pointed out that whenever a college started its movie program in 1964 as an agreement was made with the downtown theaters that only "educational" films would be shown on campus.

"The films we had scheduled this year (as outlined in the College Union Student Schedule) could hardly be called educational," Chandler added.

He said that there had been no complaint by theater managers until last year when they apparently felt that the campus movie program was cutting into their business. "Recreational" movies were first shown on campus, he said, until last year when they apparently felt that the campus movie program was cutting into their business.

"I don't know if their attitude is one of a business or one of a profit motive," Chandler said. "In my opinion, the theater managers are only 'educational' films that are made for showing on campus. I don't know if their attitude is one of a business or one of a profit motive," Chandler said. "In my opinion, the theater managers are only interested in their profit motives. Cathy DeGasperis, lovely 1961 Homecoming queen, extends her greetings to returning alumni for the annual Homecoming:

"I sincerely hope you enjoy your visit to your campus, and recognize the same old qualities of the college you always loved.

Cathy, Home Economics major from Ontario, is especially looking forward to the Coronation ball. "It will be a lot in a lifetime experience for a queen. I believe it will be fabulous for everyone attending." she says.

"Naturally I hope we win the football game, but what matters most is the spirit to initiate, and review our association's finances. Campus administration opted.

Business manager, and Dr. Dougins alumni, No admission will be open tonight to returning alumni. The Alumni mixer at the Madonna Inn wine room (alumni parking lot), Ballroom, and sandwhiches will be served to alumni.

Students Art Work Displayed At TCU

The first student art show at Cal Poly, currently on exhibit in the gallery, has been very successful, according to Robert McPhilmore, assistant coordinator of the exhibit. Attendance at the show numbered more than 400 by Tuesday.

"I feel Homecoming is important because, for so many alumni, it is the only time they come back to see the school and the many changes on campus. "I hope they will be proud of their alma mater," Cathy added.

Patl Walker Anderson, 1960-61 Queen will return to crown Cathy at the Coronation ball. Tape: The tape of Homecoming queen is obtained from the Church Bells at Ysleta National Park. She was formerly an art instructor at the park and her husband was on the ski patrol. Patl is a Home Economics major while attending Cal Poly.

Princesses for the gala event are Sue Peterson, Elaine Noon, Linda Palma and Gayle Schleder.

Good luck.

Blaine Monson, senior Elementary Education major from San Luis Obispo, says she is looking forward to the football game during the weekend. "I feel Homecoming is promoting school spirit and bringing everyone together. "Naturally I hope we win the football game, and not who wins or loses," the pretty brunette said.

Mustangs Face Leathernecks In Grid Clash Tomorrow Night

Cal Poly's Mustangs will be out to improve their season mark tomorrow when they interrupt CCAA action to take on the San Diego Marines in the annual Homecoming contest in Mustang Stadium.

The Mustangs have been focused recently by defeating champions Fresno State 48-18 and will try to get back on the winning track against the once-beaten Marines.

Coach Larry Hughes man will have lots of hard work to do tomorrow as they face the Marines who average 461 pounds per man on the line.

Hughes will stress heavily on his defensive offense with three quarterback starting to null the plays. The Tulliner will be backed by a Mustang defense along with Bob McElhen, Jack Jenas and Bob Simek. Tulliner has done the majority of signal calling this season and leads the club with 20 passes completed in 29 attempts. He also leads in total yardage with 561 yards gained.

Barking Tulliner in the Mustang offense are Jim Fahey and Roger Kelley at halfback positions and Wayne Maples at fullback. Bob Parker, Fred Begnaia, Paul Lewis and Bob Simek are available to the Mustangs for added backfield strength.

The Mustang line averages 284 pounds per man. Guard John Albee, transfer from Colorado State, and center Dave Edmunds, Mustang veterans, bolster the front line. Chad in the Mustang line include Bob Johnson, guard, with two years experience, Rey Salbanian, guard, named player of the week for his performance against Fresno State. John Wren, 225 lb. tackle, and Bill Dauphin, 250 lb. tackle. At the end stand Bob Jr. Fred Whittemingham and 186 lb. Fred Brown, principle targets for the throwing of Tulliner.

As a team, the Mustangs have scored two victories this season over San Fernando Valley State and Long Beach State. The Mustangs seem on the season opener vs San Diego State 6-6 and to Fresno. The San Diego game was lost in the final 20 seconds on a punt return for a touchdown.

Poly's foes tomorrow night bring just as impressive record with them as any team on the Mustang schedule. The Marines have racked up an average of 475 yards per game with 800 yards picked up via the aenal route. As a team, the Mustangs have notched two victories this season, every fan forecast defense which has allowed 691 yards in seven games. The "Mustang" offense, led by quarterback Jim Fahey and.prototype, will be a real challenge to the Leathernecks defense.

The Mustangs are coached by Maj. Allen "Buck" Carver, G. Harris, head coach, Maj. Ed Stiles, assistant, and Maj. Mike Wiggins, assistants. Following tomorrow night's contest with the Marines, the Mustangs travel south to meet Los Angeles State in a CCAA tilt. The District meet Little all-American Joe Wembaul, the leading rusher in the CCAA for two years.

The Cal Poly squad will return to wet up its season against Adams State, (Col.), and Santa Barbara.

Head Grid Mentor Enters Homecoming With 69-36 Record

Back in 1949, a gentleman named LeRoy Barry "Silver Fox" Hughes came to Cal Poly to begin his first of 12 seasons as head grid mentor of the Mustangs. A quick glance at his record of 69-36 since 1950 is the key to the Cal Poly "shotgun" attack which will try to "shoot down the high-flying Marine "aerobatic" offense tomorrow night.

Tollner (14) of the Mustangs led the CCAA in total offense last year. He averaged 4.6 yards per carry with 696 yards. Hughes guided his team to an 8-1-1 record last year.

Hughes guided the Mustangs to a 6-1 loss to Fresno State in 1959. His team compiled 67-36-1 record during his tenure. Hughes' teams were known for their strong defense and ability to shut down opponents.

Returners from the Mustang staff, including football player Donald "Bump" Edmundson, center, Bob Johnson, guard, and John Brunnk, tackle, were key contributors to the team's success. The Mustangs will face the Bulldogs in a closely contested game.

Mustang Gridders Out For Eighth Homecoming Win

Cal Poly's Mustangs will be out to score their eighth victory in eleven homecoming grid tilts under direction of Head Mentor LeRoy Hughes tomorrow in the local stadium when they oppose the San Diego Marine Recruit Depot Devil-dogs at 8 p.m. Hughes, reigning as head coach for 12 seasons, will make his final Homecoming appearance as coach this year.

Assistant coach Ken Hinten will assume the coaching reins next season. Under Hughes, the Mustangs have compiled seven wins and three losses in the last 10 years. The following year the Mustangs compiled a 6-6-1 record. However, to carry on in the tradition, the "Silver Fox" leaves head coach position at Cal Poly through the 1967 season.

Tomorrow's game will be the first meeting of the Mustangs and the Marines since 1957. Tomorrow's game will be feature of outstanding passing attack by both clubs. Mustang Coach Hughes will be banking on his strong running game and defense.

The content will feature two outstanding quarterbacks in the Mustangs Ted Tollner and the Marine's Tom Mandel. Tollner has led the Mustangs attack with a highly-touted, unbeaten "shotgun" offense to upset the visiting Bulldogs. Mandel has compiled 668 yards and 14 touchdowns on the season.

Hughes' success in the homecoming contests began in his first season at Poly when Chico State came to town Oct. 26 in 1950. The Mustangs led the nation in rushing the nation. Two more CCAA championships were brought home in 1955 and 1956.

The final chapter of Coach Hughes' career as head coach will be written by the 1967 squad. Hughes led the Mustangs to victory over Long Beach State 35-12, N halt Jose State 14-7, and undefeated in nine games and also won the top scoring team in the nation. Two more CCAA championships were brought home in 1955 and 1956.

Tomorrow's game should feature an outstanding passing attack by both clubs. Mustang Coach Hughes will be banking on his strong running game and defense. Marines Bring 4-Win-1 Loss Season Into Mustang Tilt

The Marines have landed! They landed hard on four opponents so far this season and are now ready for the Mustangs.

The once-beaten Marine Corps Recruit Depot Devil Dogs oppose the Mustangs here tomorrow night in the Homecoming grid contest. The Leathernecks romped to easy victories over the University of New Mexico 41-18, UCLA 54-3, Valley High 42-0 and the University of San Diego 87-0. The Marines suffered their only loss to date to University of Pacific last week.

The strong Marine attack has averaged 42 points in these four contests, due mainly to the fine passing of former UBC quarterback Tom Maudlin. Named the "All-Sea (Navy and Marine Corps) Most Valuable Player" while competing for Quantico last year, he completed 16 of 18 pass attempts 286 yards and three touchdowns against a strong University of San Diego team. Maudlin has passed for 756 yards this season.

Maudlin's favorite targets have been former University of Utah star Marshall Hollingshead, who has grabbed 24 passes for 304 yards and two touchdowns, and Kailon Winston, who has snagged seven aerials for 128 yards and three touchdowns against the San Diego team.

Winston added 88 rushing yards to the passing yardage of the Marine offensive and is tops in these two areas. He is flanked by halfback Billy Charles, who has gained 188 yards in 81 carries.

At the fullback slot is hard-hitting Perry Rodrigue, 197-pounder with a 4.8 yard average. In the line, the Marines feature Yohn, 218-lb. center and Bruno, 218-ft. guard, Anthony, 200, at tackles, and John Frattese, 200 at guards, and John Senior, 200 at tackles, and John Frattese, 200 at ends. Their total 1870 pounds and average 814 from end to end.

Highest Scores 1982

Enrollment in the college's ROTC program this quarter reached its highest level since 1975 with 874 students, announced by Lt. Col. A. F. Mariconda, head of the Military Science and Tactics dept.
