Peace Corps Is 'Shaping Up'

By Dana Nielson
Cal Poly Peace Corps is literally shaping up! With approximately six weeks of a five-month orientation period behind them, the Peace Corps Peace Corps Physical Education Program trainees are preparing for four months of field training and teaching in Morocco. Three of the trainees, Bob A. White, Sonny Hormann, and Hal White, are housed together in the same dormitory, and all three are enrolled in the School of Agriculture, majoring in physical education. The program was started by the Peace Corps and is funded by the government of the United States of America.

The Peace Corps Peace Corps trainees are scheduled to begin their field training in the middle of January. They will be teaching English as well as physical education in a school in Morocco.

The Peace Corps Peace Corps trainees have been in Orientation for the past several weeks. During this time, they have been learning about the culture of the country they will be teaching in, as well as the language and customs of the people. They have also been learning about the Peace Corps and their role in the community.

The Peace Corps Peace Corps trainees will be teaching in a school that is located in a rural area. The school is located near the town of Fes, which is about 40 miles from the capital city of Rabat. The school has a population of about 5,000 students and is one of the largest in the country.

The Peace Corps Peace Corps trainees will be teaching English and physical education to the students. They will also be helping to develop a new physical education program for the school.

The Peace Corps Peace Corps trainees are looking forward to their field training and are excited to be able to help improve the quality of education in Morocco.

Extend The Coed Carfew

Cal Poly coeds are irresponsible. The Administration and Housing officers have of them warned that a "definite" ruling for carfew on campus was effected which had as its purpose, the restriction of coed carfew on the campus.

The ruling states that any coed found outside of the dormitory at 12:00 midnight Monday through Friday and at 1:30 a.m. on weekends shall have her car impounded. The students under the rules also abide by the rules that were set forth to them.

For those who think that coed carfew on campus is not a necessary thing, they must remember that just because it is not the case today does not make it a reasonable thing for the future. There are many reasons that have to do with the safety of the students involved in the coed carfew on campus.

The ruling was made by the Administration and Housing officers for the betterment of the students and their safety. It is a necessary thing that must be enforced in order to maintain the safety of the campus.

For the sake of the students, please abide by the ruling and stay in the dormitory during the carfew hours.

Mailbag

Mailbag is in, and so is the new term. The students are all busy with their classes, and many are thinking about the upcoming holidays.

Social Manners Only

Editor

It is a myth that only social productions of some social significance deserve the attention of "Social Manners Only." The idea that only those events that are socially significant are worthy of attention is rather silly. The idea that only events that are socially significant are worthy of attention is rather silly. There are many other events that are just as interesting and important as those that are socially significant.

"Girl Crazy" Show Sets Campus Debut

By RAM PARKE

San Diego State College's first musical extravaganza, "Girl Crazy," is scheduled to hit the stage of the Student Union on Tuesday. The "sea change" for the student body is the culmination of months of planning and preparation. The show, directed by Dr. R. C. Teuton, is a production of the Student Union and is a joint effort of the entire college community.

The show will be presented by the Cal Poly Opera and Drama departments, with the cooperation of the Department of Music. The cast is under the guidance of Dr. R. C. Teuton, with musical direction by Mr. Huffman. The show will be accompanied by the Cal Poly Band and the Cal Poly Choir.
