Drop-Out Legislative Bills

Questioned by Dean Smith

A group of the California Conservation Foundation, which is an umbrella group for environmental organizations, is trying to put a measure on the ballot this fall that would require local school districts to conduct surveys of all students who drop out of school.

The bills, one before each house, call for the local districts to conduct surveys of all students who drop out of school. The surveys would be conducted to determine the reasons for dropping out and to develop programs to help those students who need assistance.

Insulted Surfers

Editorial

We feel it is only fair and proper that the students who have been insulted by the recent actions of the surfers should have a chance to express their feelings. We urge all students who have been affected by this situation to write to the newspaper and let us know your thoughts.

Students Active In Exposition

Jeff Anderson, vice President of the Student Senate, has been working on developing a new project for the upcoming exposition. The project is called "Green Campus," and it aims to promote sustainability and environmental awareness on campus.

Dear Sirs,

I am writing to express my support for "Green Campus." As a student, I believe that it is important for us to take responsibility for our impact on the environment and to work towards creating a more sustainable future.

Sincerely,
