Fairness Board
Bradley Kyker, Advising (9 years at Cal Poly)
My main motivation for serving is to contribute to important proceedings for the campus community. My expertise is in student development, and I believe the efforts of the Fairness Board should be developmental for students first and foremost.
I take a very holistic approach to my work in counseling students, equipping and informing them of their rights, responsibilities, and available resources. My hope is to always challenge and advocate, but never to enable their helplessness or abdication of their responsibilities.
I value the work of the Fairness Board, as it is the mechanism for due process of academically related concerns for students and instructors. It is a vital piece of ensuring a healthy and equitable learning environment for our students. I frequently refer students to utilize the Board as a means of resolving their concerns of unfair grading practices of their instructors. In my capacity as an academic counselor, I am often privy to student misconduct and work with other campus resources to create a developmental response that promotes better academic integrity of our students. I believe that sensibility and experience will bode well for me as I contribute to Fairness Board matters.

Nominations to Serve on the Search Committee for a Director of the International Center

Don Choi, Architecture, CAED
I would like to be considered for the consultative search committee for the Director of the International Center.

My department (Architecture), sends over 100 students off campus each year, many to international destinations including Florence, Copenhagen, Switzerland, Rome, Paris, India, Germany, and Australia. Needless to say, all of us in the department are very committed to study abroad. As a member of the architecture faculty since 2003, I have participated in international education in several ways. In addition to serving on the Off Campus Programs committee in the department, I have served as coordinator for the Rome Program.

More significantly, I created, administered, and led a quarter-long program in Japan, which began in 2009 and was planned for alternate years. In part because the staff at IEP was in transition, I handled all aspects from recruitment to administration to teaching, giving me a good look at the complexities and potential problems of international programs. For twelve weeks in Kyoto, Tokyo, and other sites, the students and I explored the architecture, urbanism, and culture of Japan.

For 2011, architecture department off-campus programs were moved to Continuing Education, but I continued to handle all planning other than student registration and fees. (Unfortunately, the tsunami led to the cancellation of the 2011 program.)

I also have taught for Cal Poly's London Program; the course on London architecture I taught in summer 2012 was one of the most rewarding experiences of my Cal Poly career.

As a graduate student I spent several years conducting research in Japan under fellowships from the Japanese Ministry of Education and the Japan Foundation. I believe strongly in the value of international education, especially for students in our idyllic but isolated town of SLO.

Finally, my research as an architectural historian focuses on the architecture of modern Japan and I am currently an Overseas Research Fellow at the Institute of Industrial Science at Tokyo University.

Cyrus Ramezani, Finance, OCOB
I would like to serve on this committee. I have experience working at Universities that had a large contingent of international students, researchers, and faculty. I believe that it is very important for Cal Poly to seriously develop its international programs at this juncture and selecting the right candidate for this role is of paramount importance.

RESOLUTION ON MODIFICATION TO FAIRNESS BOARD DESCRIPTION AND PROCEDURES

Procedural modifications to the FAIRNESS BOARD DESCRIPTION AND PROCEDURES:

PROCEDURES
A. The first and most often successful opportunity for resolving a grade dispute occurs at the department level. Before initiating a grievance with the Board, the student should first make an informal request for redress to the course instructor. If a resolution cannot be reached, such request can then be made to the instructor’s department chair/head. If resolution cannot be made at these levels, then later involvement by the Dean of Students may be helpful.

Another resource available to students is the Student Ombuds Services. This office offers safe, confidential assistance in resolving university related issues, concerns, conflicts, or complaints. Student Ombuds Services may be able to assist the student in achieving a resolution through an informal process at any stage of the issue. The Student Ombuds Services is entirely voluntary and confidential. Because Student Ombuds Services are confidential, no information will be shared with the Fairness Board. The Student Ombuds Services personnel cannot serve as a witness in the Fairness Board process. The Student Ombuds Services generally would be used by the student prior to seeking redress from the Fairness Board, though it also may be used at any other time as well.

Any student who still feels aggrieved after requesting relief from both the instructor and instructor’s department chair/head, or is not able to resolve the dispute through alternative informal means, may initiate an appeal for redress by writing to the chair of the Board. The Board chair may counsel a student as to the relative merit of the case but must accept all written complaints which are ultimately submitted. The written request shall be in letter form. A copy of Fairness Board Description and Procedures can be obtained from the Academic Senate website at http://academicsenate.calpoly.edu or the student may request a copy from the Board chair.

A.10. Within two weeks after receiving the Board’s recommendation, the Provost will inform the Board and each principal party what action, if any, has been taken. The Provost shall have final authority regarding any change of grade with the provision, however, that no grade change will be made unless it is recommended by the Board. If the recommendation of the Board is not accepted, the Provost shall indicate the reason(s) why in writing to the Board. Once the Provost has rendered a decision, the process is considered complete and the outcome cannot be appealed.
