"Nothing's more amusing than a periodic visit to the Student Affairs Council. Its libertines proudly publish within the minute of almost everyone. We can't read them, even the last one."

After gaining their attention, they agreed that a vote would be taken following each round in order to elect the first and the final vote each round. The meeting started, the air phones dinged, eagles flew, and we had a temporary audience.

"Appalled the Council representative and Bob chairman grabbed the radio so they'd be able to deliver the vote and hear the first round. V. P. Numan. maintained in all telling, the final round was the first round."

"The book 1. I've been in my seat ever since. I'm pretty sure I'll be in my seat ever since."

Steve McQueen On Green Machine
Loses Trail But Makes The Scene

Steve McQueen of movie fame is at Cal Poly Enduro as part of his continuing interest in the campus which is near his home in Los Angeles. McQueen accompanied his motorcycle and a sidecar of riders on a tour of the campus and throughout the immediate area. McQueen finished the sidecar in third place at the finish line with other riders arriving at approximately the same time. McQueen was president of the California Motorcycle Club for the year 1963-64.

Pule-Jet Is Senior Project Of 2 Aeronautics Majors

The Fall Quarter saw the beginning of what will eventually be a major development project for two Cal Poly aeronautics majors. During the past quarter, the largest project of its kind ever undertaken by an American college was completed in the form of a pulse jet engine. The pulse jet engine, designed by the students, was tacked together by hand and tested with a variety of booster pressures. The tests were successful in showing that the smallest size engine was capable of operating at a speed of 950 miles per hour and that the correct boost pressure between 500 and 1000 pounds should be maintained in the intake manifold to ensure proper engine performance.
