High GPA Traditional
2.5 At Crops House

Twelve young men with a clear idea of what they want out of life and the capability to reach the point where they can begin acquiring the things they want to go.

These students have several things in common. They are all members of the Crops Department, they are all serious about their experiences, and they all live in the same dormitory house.

Their common dwelling is the Crops House, a campus-owned house. Their living situation might be comparable to any small college dormitory, but in addition they have a large instructional staff on hand to assist them at all times.

The 12 students earned a combined grade point average which was the highest of any single living group on the campus for the Fall quarter, but this is nothing new. The Crops House residents have been working hard to maintain their high level of excellence since the group was established in 1961.

Not only do our young agribusiness professionals pride their efforts, they also display the characteristics of leadership and responsibility by assuming that responsibility.

Council Sponsoring Interfaith Talks

Larry Thomas, head of the Crops House, and other members of the program will be presenting a series of talks on the subjects of interfaith cooperation.

Beards—Study Of Contrast, Curiosity

There were always some hoards and no doubt, there will always will lie.

There is a noticeable change on the face of many men; beards (also known as the "wrinkles") have become a new fashion trend. Many growths consist of a little tuft of fuzz on the face, but there are many other reasons for having a beard. Some reasons include religious and cultural reasons.
