Protest Hearing Finds Malcolm Kemp Not Guilty; Hubbell Also Absolved

By JIM MCLAUGHLIN
The campus police announced that Malcolm Kemp, junior, had been found not guilty on charges of theft against Kemp with the electronic hearing of the operating system. Kemp, who had been arrested in connection with the theft, was found not guilty by a jury of students and faculty.

The case against Kemp involved the theft of several items from the campus store, including a television set and a stereo system. The trial lasted for three days, during which time evidence was presented by both the prosecution and the defense.

The prosecution argued that Kemp had stolen the items, while Kemp's attorney presented evidence that cast doubt on the prosecution's case. The jury ultimately found Kemp not guilty on all charges.

Kemp had faced a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a fine of $2,000 if found guilty. With the not guilty verdict, Kemp was released from custody.

Kemp, a junior majoring in business, said he was relieved by the verdict and planned to return to school.

The case has drawn widespread attention and has been a topic of discussion among students and faculty across the country.

College Flower Judging Team Named Intercollegiate National Champions

The Cal Poly Flower Judging Team was named the Intercollegiate National Champions after winning a competition held recently. The team competed against several other colleges and universities and ultimately emerged as the victor.

The competition involved judging various categories of flowers, including cut flowers, potted plants, and indoor plants. The team members had to evaluate the quality, size, and presentation of the flowers.

The team members are: ABC and DEF, who were the first place winners; and GHI and JKL, who were the second place winners. The team members were acknowledged for their hard work and dedication to the team.

The victory was a testament to the team's hard work and dedication. The team members had been practicing for months, and their efforts paid off in the end.

Royal Ideals; Return Please!

A unique project of the Republican Student Congress has been initiated to provide a glimpse into the ideals and values that form the backbone of the country.

The project will involve creating a series of idealistic posters that will be distributed to various groups and organizations across the country. The posters will be designed to inspire and motivate people to work towards the greater good.

The posters will be distributed through local schools, libraries, and community centers. The project is expected to run for several weeks, and the idealistic messages will be spread throughout the country.

Civil Rights Group Wants Students For Summer Work

A call has gone out from the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) for 1,000 work opportunities to go to students this summer in order to work towards civil rights.

The project will involve working with local civil rights groups to provide training and support for the students. The students will be expected to work on various projects, such as voter registration, community organizing, and legal assistance.

The project is designed to provide students with an opportunity to gain practical experience in the field of civil rights while also contributing to the fight for justice.

Carpenters Stolen; Return Please!

A park bench was stolen from the campus last night, and the police are seeking the public's help in locating the missing item.

The bench was located in the center of campus and was intended to provide a place for students to sit and relax. The bench was made of wood and was painted brown.

The police are asking anyone who may have seen the bench or who knows of its whereabouts to contact the campus police immediately.

SAC Accepts Responsibility; Liability for Poly Rodeo

SAC President Hubbell Burnes presented the SAC Accepts Responsibility; Liability for Poly Rodeo at a recent meeting. The presentation was made in response to a recent event in which a student was injured during the rodeo.

The SAC accepted responsibility for the event and expressed its concern for the injured student. The SAC also acknowledged the importance of safety in all campus activities.

The presentation was met with positive feedback from the audience, who recognized the SAC's commitment to responsibility and safety.

SAC President Hubbell Burnes said, "We are committed to making sure that all student events are conducted with the safety of our students in mind. We appreciate the feedback we have received and will continue to work towards improving safety measures."
