SAE Limits Campaigning In Cafeteria;
Discusses Athletic Scholarships

The publicity wines in the right does not mean that its members need to come to the cafeteria in the morning and afternoon, but to:

"The cafeteria is our laboratory for experimenting with the possibilities of how to improve our cafeteria service.

The purpose of the publicity wines is to advertise creative activities of the cafeteria staff and to keep the students in mind of the importance of the cafeteria to the total school

experience."

This statement was made by the members of the publicity wines at a meeting held recently at the cafeteria.

The purpose of the publicity wines is to advertise creative

activities of the cafeteria staff and to keep the students in mind of the importance of the cafeteria to the total school

experience."

The members of the publicity wines are looking forward to the autumn season, which is traditionally a busy time for the publicity wines, as they plan to promote various activities and events to engage the students and faculty.

The publicity wines are planning to organize several activities such as talent shows, sporting events, and social gatherings

to enhance the overall school experience and to bring the students and faculty closer together.

The members of the publicity wines are also encouraging other students and faculty members to get involved in their activities and to contribute their ideas and suggestions to make their activities even more successful.

The publicity wines are committed to making the cafeteria

a vibrant and lively place where students and faculty can connect and enjoy their time together.

The publicity wines are looking forward to the new school year and are ready to implement their plans to create a memorable experience for everyone.

Yes On Proposition 2

The passage of Proposition 2 on the November ballot is vital to the students of Cal Poly and to all communities of higher education throughout the state. Tremendous expansion in California has created building needs which are too great to be met with available funds in the next two years.

In the first two years, negotiations which are to be completed with the proposed bond money will have to be made for construction for which there will have been added to the list over 27,000 students already enrolled in state colleges. By an overwhelming vote the State Legislature, with consent of the Governor, have placed on the November ballot a $1,500 million State Construction Bond Issue (Proposition 2) to provide the necessary funds.

Public endorsement of this bill has already been made by our Student Affairs Council, a group representative of all the students on campus. We feel it is important to remind you that we endorse Proposition 2 and urge a yes vote on Nov. 3rd.

MILD-MANNERED REPORTER EXPOSES TRIALS OF BUS RIDE, SLO TO SF

By MICK HIBER

There's a lot to be seen at a bus stop. This is the conclusion of a mild-mannered reporter who rode the city trolley from SLO to SF.

There were people on the trolley in every seat, and the reporter could not stop watching the city appear and disappear out of his window. He was too busy doing this to notice that the trolley was moving.

He was just too busy gazing at the passing scene, so he missed the stop.

The door closed just as the trolley began moving, and the reporter was left behind.

He was now going to have to take the trolley back to SLO, which he did.

The reporter is now sitting in the trolley, staring out the window, and wondering how he missed the stop.

The story was then printed in the local newspaper.

"For Those Who Love""
The Long Beach State offense has been rejuvenated,据Harden said, "with the recent return of LeRoy Storiaris, a key player for a long time. They have a lot of experience now and will be a tough opponent for us." Storiaris, who missed most of last season due to injury, has been a key player for the 49ers in recent games.

Cal Western," Harden said, "but well in last week's game. Against Cal Poly, our defense played well, hold them to 21 points. Our offense was a little bit off, but we'll be ready for them again this week." The game against Cal Western was a close one, with the 49ers winning by a score of 49 to 21.

In CCA A Meet Tomorrow
