February 7th and 8th
Enter for the annual Poly Royal Queen Pageant scheduled for Feb. 18 and you might be able to make headlines. A winner is selected among unmarried students of senior standing. A committee consisting of seven judges will pick the queen from the top 25. The Pageant Committee will try to make it a success.

The committee is now accepting applications. All unmarried students of senior standing are eligible and their names should be submitted to the Poly Royal Board by midnight Saturday. The Pageant will be held in Reis Colonial Chapel, January 26. The winner will be interviewed in the West Building, beginning at 8 p.m. today and Thursday, Jan. 26.

W. B. Plum will talk on "Religion and Architecture," Thursday afternoon, January 19. He will be in San Luis Oltones of all in area as a visiting lecturer for the American Institute of Architects. During the Thursday gathering, Winslow is expected to give particular attention to the religious aspect of building and the role of the architect. Winslow is a member of the American Institute of Architects, the Society of Architectural Historians, and the Guild for Religious Architecture. He is also head of his own architectural firm in Los Angeles.

Adopted by a panel of seven judges, three from the San Luis Obispo County Bar Association and four from the college. The winner will be introduced to the public.
