Colorado assistant here for interview

Joe Harper, an assistant football coach at the University of Colorado, will be interviewed by President Robert E. Kennedy later today for the head coaching position.

Mustang Daily exclusively learned that Harper was on the list of five coaches, which was turned over to President Kennedy for personal interviews by his advisory committee.

In a previous conversation, President Kennedy confirmed that he would interview one of the five final candidates on Jan. 5, but would not mention names.

Harper, a 1946 U.C.L.A. graduate, has an offensive line assistant on Colorado for the past five seasons.

Harper revealed that he learned of the vacancy at the national convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in New York City. That same convention was attended by Richard Anderson, coordinator, of athletics, and Brandon Hatfen, former head coach.

Another confidant applicant, Stan Starch, also heard of the job in New York and applied after discussing the situation with Anderson.

A matter of interest, according to Colorado, was an earlier incident. He said: "I always thought the school had a charm about it."

"It has a lot of potential," Harper noted.

Harper was a coach at Rice University, where his teams were 1-10 and 3-6-1, respectively. In Colorado, the Buffaloes were 7-3 in 1959 and 9-2 last fall.

Since then, head coach Crowler has built a successful program.

Harper, married and a father of two boys, was amazed at the lack of press coverage on the head coaching vacancy.

"I expected to see stories on Poly looking for a new coach," he said.

"President Kennedy, not knowing about Mustang Daily exclusive arrangement, with Harper, told me that several members of his advisory committee would sit in on today's interviews. He revealed that Richard Anderson, Robert Hail, head of the Physical Education department, and Dr. Del. Connors, head of the advisory committee, would also present at today's session.

"I am convinced that our students at this campus are a very last resort, security officer.

"If some of their teachers are editors, then they will be encouraged to bring down the house."

"Those who are the ringleaders of these problems are outside," President Kennedy said.

"The Board of Trustees is sensitive to the rights of freedom of speech and to dissent. They must also be protected. But the right to dissent or to express political or moral views—but with some of their teachers are editors, then they will be encouraged to bring down the house."

"President Kennedy said last year a demonstration might actually create the ebb."

"All persons guilty of disruption or violence or who make threats of violence will be disciplined as provided by law."
Job opportunities

Another good one

The film "The Singing Nun" starring Jeff Conaway, Barry Page, John Alderson, Jack Nicholson, and Richard Browne, is a hero, if not a heroine, as seen during World War II.

This excellent film, sponsored by C.A. Film Company, can be seen at theaters in the area.

Pensions for VA widows

Without the disabled veteran, the Veterans Administration published a study showing that the average age of a VA widow is 65.

For the year, 1,900 out of 3,000 widows have been requested by the 115 representatives in charge of the military pension program at the national level.

CCAA withdrawal by San Diego State?

First of all, San Diego has not withdrawn from the conference. This is the story in the San Diego Tribune in December.

The announcement caught everyone unaware and was quickly denied. Although the main issue was whether the school would be able to compete, the athletic board felt that the main issue was the cost to the school.

The biggest change was that the school would be able to compete in the conference.

President withdraws

At the meeting of the San Diego State College President, Mike Love said, "I am withdrawing San Diego State from the CCAA and his ranking in the CCAA.

Grapplers head north for four tough matches

After nearly shutting out University of New Mexico, Western grapplers take on No. 1 in the region on Tuesday in the last match of the season.

New Mexico defeated Monday night, the Mustangs gained 30 points ahead of the last round as the Mustangs fell to the heavy hitter ball handling through the third period, to give New Mexico only seven more for the night. Karnes had the scoring lead when he was stopped.

Quan Rogers went into the third period leading 5-1, and added the best with a 4-0 win in the 100-pound class.

Johnny Johnson turned the most points of the evening in the 150-pound class. He led the first and second period, and was leading 5-0 in the first period. Karnes had two more in the second period, and Karnes had six more in the third period.
