Foundation elects 1986-87 officers

Officers of the Cal Poly Foundation for 1986-87 were elected during the May meeting of the organization’s board of directors.

Elected to a new one-year term as chairman of the board was Howard West, associate executive vice president of the university, and a member of the board since 1980.

Named to serve with him were Dr. Lark P. Carter, dean of the School of Agriculture, and Lezlie A. Labhard, a member of the home economics faculty. Carter was elected vice chairman and Labhard, secretary-treasurer.

In other action during the May 23 meeting, Carter and Labhard were re-elected to new three-year terms on the board and Harold R. Miller, an accounting professor at the university, and a member of the board since 1982, submitted his resignation.

Dr. Rolf E. Rogers of the management faculty was elected to a two-year term as Miller’s replacement, and George H. Soares, an attorney with offices in Hanford and Sacramento, was re-appointed to a one-year term as the public member of the board.

Ag students appointed to Foundation Board

Frank Crum, an ag management major, has been appointed to the Cal Poly Foundation’s board of directors by President Baker.

Crum, who is completing his sophomore year at Cal Poly, was chosen for a one-year term beginning July 1. He succeeds Linda Eberl, who served two years on the board.

The other student position on the board has been held by John H. Gilliland, a junior dairy science major, who has just been reappointed for a one-year term.

Ground breaking set for ag building

Start of construction activity for the new agricultural science building will be formally recognized during a ground-breaking ceremony being planned for 11:30 am on Monday, June 9.

The brief ceremony will take place at the rear of the building site between University Dr. and Via Carta in the parking area in front of the Campus Store.

Dr. Lark P. Carter, dean of the School of Agriculture, said participants in the ceremony will include President Baker and Dennis Allan, president of the San Luis Obispo Production Credit Association and representative of the School of Agriculture’s Advisory Council.

Site preparation for the new structure began on May 19. When completed, in about 18 months, it will provide more than 29,000 square feet of laboratory, classroom, and office space for the school.

Bernard Brothers Inc. of San Fernando is the contractor for the $5.52 million project. Design and plans for the building were prepared as a joint venture by Ross Levin MacIntyre Architects, San Luis Obispo, and Maul-Stewart Associates Inc., Morro Bay.

National award won by student

A senior project has turned into a national award for a Cal Poly metallurgical engineering graduate.

William R. LaFontaine Jr. was honored for the outstanding student paper in the Undergraduate Physical/Mechanical Metallurgical Division of the annual contest conducted by The Metallurgical Society Inc., headquartered in Penn.

The contest is open to all undergraduates in metallurgical, materials engineering, and materials science programs in the U.S.

LaFontaine received a certificate and $500 at The Metallurgical Society’s recent annual awards presentation, held during the annual meeting of the American Institute of Metallurgical Engineers in New Orleans.

University Club elects officers

Harriet Clendenen, Disabled Student Services, has been elected president of the University Club for 1986-87. Other new officers include: Dan Krieger, History, vice president; Carole Abbey, Art, secretary; and Jerri Hobberlin, Payroll, treasurer.

Five people were elected to two-year terms on the board of directors. They are Rosemary Cameron, Library; Sharon Fujitani, Library; Barbara McCaleb, Education; Terry Smith, Soil Science; and Tom Zuur, ESS/Student Data Systems.

Continuing board members are Doug Gerard, Facilities Administration; Martha J. Steward, School of Architecture and Environmental Design; Sondra Tuttle, Industrial Technology; Homer Hoyt, Education; Mark Shelton, Crop Science; and June Powell, University Relations.
Workshop planned by psychotherapist

Dr. C. H. Patterson, author of the widely used textbook, "Theories of Counseling and Psychotherapy," will present a 1½-day workshop at Cal Poly on Thursday and Friday, June 5-6.

The program, in Chumash Auditorium, will be sponsored by the Counseling Center, and the Psychology and Human Development and Education Departments.

Patterson, professor emeritus at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, and distinguished adjunct professor at the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, is an acknowledged leader in counselor/psychotherapist education.

Topics to be discussed include: A Model for Facilitative Interpersonal Relations, Foundations for an Elective Psychotherapy, and Reflections on the History of Psychotherapy.

For additional information, contact Dr. David J. Cain, workshop coordinator, at ext. 2511.

Business students win competition

A study by a team of three Cal Poly business students has won recognition by the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA).

The Cal Poly report won the SBA Fresno District competition, and was co-winner of the "SBI Case of the Year" for the Western Region in 1985-86. The award enables the Cal Poly entry to battle for national recognition next February.

Student consulting teams from the Small Business Institute of the university's School of Business perform a variety of studies for clients including cash management, market research, and financial analysis.

In existence since 1974, the SBI allows faculty and students of the School of Business to interact with small business people in the community. This year's case was primarily a market analysis for a San Luis Obispo apparel manufacturer.

Cal Poly teams win concrete canoe races

Cal Poly teams took first in both the men's and women's concrete canoe races at the 1986 regional student conference of the American Society of Civil Engineers held at the University of California, Irvine.

A second men's team was in second place until the two Cal Poly canoes collided, sending the second team off course and into third place. A second women's team finished fourth.

The canoe race results, combined with the results of a leveling contest, a Popsicle stick bridge-building contest, design competitions, and paper presentations, gave Cal Poly's civil engineering contingent second place in the overall conference standings.

Trustees adopt policy on faculty offices

The board of trustees of The California State University took the following actions at its May 21 meeting:

- Adopted policy on faculty offices which states board policy to support single-station faculty offices for full-time faculty in both new construction projects and during the renovation, when cost effective and structurally feasible, of existing facilities.
- Reappointed Claudia Hampton as representative and Lynne Wasserman as alternate to the California Postsecondary Education Commission for 1986-87.
- Requested the board chairman appoint a Trustee Task Force to develop and recommend a policy that defines the board process of exercising joint responsibility within the meaning of the Higher Education Employer-Employee Relations Act.
- Approved a new schedule for parking fee refunds beginning in fall 1986 for students & employees.
- Amended CSU internal regulations governing travel expenses and allowances to add a zip code for Burlingame to the list of "designated high-cost areas" which qualify employees for a higher lodging allowance.
- Resolved that the standards and criteria for the evaluation of academic employees removed from the Unit 3 Memorandum of Understanding collective bargaining process remain in effect as CSU policy until modified in accordance with the Higher Education Employer-Employee Relations Act.
- Appointed Grant Pedersen Phillips as 1986-87 consulting architects for Cal Poly.
- Approved project architects on a conditional basis, with contingency to be eradicated when project is successfully funded via the 1986 State Budget Act, as follows: Dairy Science I — Instructional Center; Grant Pedersen Phillips, Architects.

Foundation board to meet June 13

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the Foundation board of directors will be Friday, June 13, at 9 am in Admin. 409. This is a public meeting. New Poly Reps named

Nine additional Cal Poly undergraduates will be promoting the university in 1986-87 to prospective students, alumni, and friends of the institution.

The students will join 17 continuing members of POLY REPS, the Cal Poly Student Alumni Council. The group’s activities include leading campus tours as well as visiting high schools and community colleges as student representatives of Cal Poly.

In addition, the students work to develop alumni ties, help with university constituent groups, and assist efforts to encourage support from potential donor to the university.

The organization is sponsored by the Relations With Schools and Alumni Relations Offices.

The rigorous review process included an extensive application (with essay), screening for academic qualifications, and two interviews by staff of the sponsoring offices and current POLY REPS.

North San Diego County site sought

California State University trustees have declared that there is an immediate need to acquire a site for a permanent off-campus center in north San Diego County.

Beyond this immediate need, the board stated there is “a likely, ultimate need for a full-service campus” on the site to serve the fast-growing area.

The board resolved to begin site negotiations “in the not too distant future.” Four potential locations, two each in Carlsbad and San Marcos, are presently under detailed study.

Proper Acronym

In the Academic Senate Summary of Activity -5, distributed to all faculty the week of May 19, the following error was made: The proper definition for the acronym AIMS is Administrative Information Management System not Academic Information Management System.

Who, What, Where, When

Virginia R. Walter, Ornamental Horticulture, was elected national president of Pi Alpha Xi at the annual convention held in Raleigh, N.C. Pi Alpha Xi is the Ornamental Horticulture honor society and has 30 chapters throughout the United States at universities offering B.S. degrees in floriculture/landscape ornamental horticulture. Walter is the first Californian and the first woman to hold this office.

Douglas W. Williams, Ag Engineering, presented a paper, "On-Farm Ethanol and Feed Production from Grain," at the Agricultural Ethanol and Co-Products Conference at Fresno State University. This conference was organized by the Agricultural Resources branch of the California Department of Food and Agriculture.

Sonja Glassmeyer, Physical Education and Recreation Administration, presented a paper, "Physical Activity and The Older Adult," at the Southwestern District Convention of the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance, in Phoenix.

Paul Neel, Architecture, has been elected president of the State Board of Architectural Examiners. Neel’s election to head the 10-member licensing panel follows his appointment to the board by Gov. Deukmejian. Neel was appointed as an architect member to a term that will expire June 1, 1986.

Patricia Brenner will be a poetry judge, Gerald Sullivan, essay judge, and Al Landwehr will be the introductory speaker at the awards reception for San Luis Obispo High School’s Creative Writing Contest. All are members of the English Department faculty.

Douglas Smith, English, had an article accepted for publication during 1986-87 in College English titled " Authorities for English in a Technical Age."

Judy D. Saltzman, Philosophy, organized and chaired the Society for Values in Higher Education meeting for the California Fellows at the UCLA Conference Center at Lake Arrowhead.

Stan J. Dundon, Philosophy, presented a paper, "The Ethical Dilemma of Strategic Defense Designers," at a joint session of The American Philosophical Association and the International Philosophers for the Prevention of Nuclear Omnicide in St. Louis.

Alfred M. Bachman, Mathematics, spoke at the 1986 Spring Conference of Computer Using Educators (CUE) at Cal State Los Angeles. The title of his talk was "Motivate Your Students in Mathematics with a Microcomputer in your Classroom."

Rudy Dressendorfer, Physical Education and Recreation Administration, presented "Unimpaired Left Ventricular Function in Runners After 15 Days of Exhaustive Training," and "Diets of Male Runners During a 20-Day Road Race" at the American College of Sports Medicine annual meeting in Indianapolis.

Charlie Crabb, Crop Science, co-authored a paper, "Bird Damage to Pistachios," which was recently published in the University of California publication California Agriculture.

William T. Little, Foreign Languages, presented an illustrated talk, "Inside Brazil," to the San Luis Obispo County Archaeological Society. The presentation was based on his literary and historical research in Brazil last year.

Jack Robison, Accounting, co-authored an article, "Bankruptcy and the Oil Industry — Basis and Beyond," in the Spring issue of the Journal of Petroleum Accounting.

William Boynton, Accounting, co-authored the third edition of the text, Modern Auditing, published in January by John Wiley & Sons, Inc.

Mary Beth Armstrong, Accounting, was an invited participant at a May conference on "Ethics in the Accounting Profession," co-sponsored by the University of Southern California’s School of Accounting and the California Society of CPAs.

Harold M. Cota, Civil and Environmental Engineering, has been elected chairman of the West Coast section of the Air Pollution Control Association. He will serve as chairman for two years.
