Bargaining unit proposals

The Higher Education Employer-Employee Relations Act (HEERA) and The California State University Board of Trustees policy provide that bargaining proposals of the exclusive employee representative and the employer be made available to the public and that the public shall have the opportunity to respond to these proposals.

On Feb. 23, 3:30 pm, at The California State University Office of the Chancellor, the following exclusive representatives will present their bargaining proposals:

- Unit 1, Physicians - Union of American Physicians and Dentists (UAPD)
- Unit 2, Health Care Support - California State Employees' Association (CSEA)
- Unit 5, Operations Support - CSEA
- Unit 6, Skilled Crafts - State Employees Trades Council
- Unit 7, Clerical/Administrative Support - CSEA
- Unit 9, Technical Support - CSEA

Bargaining proposals of the Statewide University Police Association (SUPA) for Unit 8 will be presented March 2, 10 am, at California State University, Fresno.

The meeting for public reaction to the unions' bargaining proposals for Units 1, 2, 5, 7, 9, and 6 has been set for March 2, 10 am at CSU, Fresno. The meeting for public reaction to SUPA's bargaining proposals for Unit 8 is set for March 28, 10 am, at the Office of the Chancellor.

The California State University will present its initial bargaining proposals for Units 1, 2, 5, 6, 7, and 9 on March 28, 10 am, at the Office of the Chancellor, and for Unit 8 on April 5, 10 am, at CSU, Fresno.

The meeting for public reaction to management's bargaining proposals for Units 1, 2, 5, 6, 7, and 9 is set for April 5, 10 am, CSU Fresno. Public reaction to management's bargaining proposals for Unit 8 is scheduled for April 12, 10 am, at the Office of the Chancellor.

Interested public parties are invited to express their views at the open meetings or to send their written reactions to the Board of Trustees, c/o The California State University, 400 Golden Shore, Long Beach, California 90802. Adoption of the CSU proposals by the Trustees shall take place after consideration of the public comments.

Rape prevention/awareness seminar

The Public Safety Department is sponsoring a rape prevention/awareness seminar from 11 a.m. to 12:30 pm Thursday, Feb. 24, in the Cal Poly Theatre. The seminar will include new audiovisual techniques for presenting the material which should make it interesting and beneficial to new participants and also to those who have attended previous seminars.

Faculty, staff, and students are encouraged to attend this seminar. Admission is free.

Langworthy resigns; to be VP in Colorado

William C. Langworthy, dean of the School of Science and Mathematics since 1976, has announced his resignation effective June 30. He has accepted the position of vice president for academic affairs at Ft. Lewis College in Durango, Colo.

Tomlinson Fort Jr., Cal Poly's academic vice president, said, "I am pleased for Dean Langworthy that his accomplishments have been recognized by Ft. Lewis College, and I think he will be a fine vice president. At the same time, his departure will be a great loss to all of us here. He has been a most effective leader of Science and Mathematics at Cal Poly."

President Baker said, "Dr. Langworthy will be missed at Cal Poly. The School of Science and Mathematics has benefited greatly from his leadership, and I have valued his advice and good counsel over the past three years."

A native of Watertown, N.Y., Langworthy earned an undergraduate degree in chemistry from Tufts (Mass.) University and a doctorate from UC Berkeley. He did postdoctoral work at both UC Berkeley and MIT. His industrial experience includes research at DuPont and American Cyanamid Corporation.

Langworthy has taught chemistry at Alaska Methodist University and Cal State Fullerton. At the latter school he served as associate dean of the School of Letters, Arts and Sciences from 1970-73.

He came to Cal Poly ten years ago as head of the chemistry department. Three years later he became dean of the School of Science and Mathematics. His research and scholarly interest has been in physical organic chemistry.
CSU Administrative Fellows Program

Faculty and staff members interested in a possible career in university administration or management may apply now for the California State University Administrative Fellows Program.

March 18 is the deadline to apply for 1983-84 academic year fellowships. Applications and confidential evaluation forms must be submitted to the President’s Office.

Application is open to academic and administrative personnel in a tenured, permanent or probationary position. The purpose of the Administrative Fellows Program is to provide an opportunity for upward mobility. It is especially intended to ensure that women and people from ethnic-minority backgrounds have equal opportunity for placement and advancement in administrative, managerial and executive positions in the CSU.

Assignments normally are made to another campus in the CSU system. However, assignments at the home campus are possible when relocation would impose a personal hardship on a fellow or when the fellowship experience would be enhanced by staying at the home campus. In such a case the new duties must be clearly separate from the fellow’s regular position responsibilities.

Fellows receive their regular salary, vacation and retirement benefits. The state does not reimburse relocation expenses incurred for the program.

Fellows are to be selected in late May. Appointment will be contingent on funding in the final state budget to be signed about June 30.

For more information and an application, call or visit Smiley E. Wilkins, affirmative action coordinator, Adm. 110, ext. 2062.

OH publication must wait

Due to the wind damage done to the greenhouses at the OH Unit earlier this month, the editor of Country Garden Gram will be unable to publish an issue this quarter. Hopefully, funds will be available for the printing and distribution of the Spring Quarter issue.

Drum major competition

A drum major competition for high school and junior high school hopefuls will be held at Cal Poly from 9 am to 3 pm on Saturday, Feb. 26. The public is invited and there is no charge for this event. It is sponsored by the Cal Poly Music Department. There will be food concessions available.

The event will be held in the areas in front and behind the Main Gym. In the event of rain, the location will be moved to Chumash Auditorium.

Reminder on speakers information

This is a reminder to those interested in participating in the new Cal Poly Speakers program and have not yet completed the Speaker’s Roster Information forms that were distributed through department offices late last month.

Donald L. McCaleb, coordinator of the program for the Public Affairs Office, said there is still time to include those who either did not receive the forms or have not returned them.

When completed, the forms will provide necessary background on members of the faculty and professional staff of the university who are willing to be speakers for community groups that request speakers and programs from the Public Affairs Office.

Questions about the Cal Poly Speakers program and requests for additional copies of the information form can be directed to McCaleb, Adm. 210, ext. 2576.
Oboist Franck Avril to perform on Feb. 26

Oboist Franck Avril will join the Cal Poly Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of Clifton Swanson, for the orchestra's "Annual Baroque Concert" at 8 pm on Saturday, Feb. 26, in the Cal Poly Theatre.

Avril is the first oboist to ever win the Young Concert Artists International Auditions and, as a result, was featured in the 1979-80 Young Concert Artist Series in New York.

The Feb. 26 concert will also feature solos by Cal Poly music faculty members Ronald V. Ratcliffe, organ, and Craig H. Russell, baroque guitar.

Tickets for the event are $7 for the public and $5 for students. They can be purchased at the University Union Ticket Office. Information can be obtained by calling ext. 1421.

The "Annual Baroque Concert" is part of the Music Department's Quintessence Concert Series.

Dairy Club Week

Feb. 21-26

Cal Poly's student dairy club, Los Lecheros, will sponsor the annual milk carton boat race, a milking contest and a school visitation program during its weeklong observance of Dairy Week Feb. 21-26. The boat race is scheduled for 11 am on Saturday, Feb. 26, at Laguna Lake. The event is free and open to the public.

At 11 am on Thursday, Feb. 24, the hand milking contest will be held in the plaza area of the University Union on campus. Entered in the competition so far are the deans of Cal Poly's academic schools; Russ Brown, dean of students; and Sandra Clary, president of the ASI.

On Friday, Feb. 25, members of Los Lecheros will visit several elementary schools in San Luis Obispo, accompanied by at least one calf from the Cal Poly Dairy Unit.

Position Vacancies

Candidates for positions on the faculty of the University are presently being sought, according to Donald L. Shelton (Director of Personnel Relations). Those interested in learning more about the positions are invited to contact the appropriate dean or department head. This University is subject to all laws governing Affirmative Action and equal employment opportunity including but not limited to Executive Order 11246 and Title IX of the Education Amendments Act and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. All interested persons are encouraged to apply.

Robert Coe, dean of the School of Business, has announced his intention to return to full-time teaching in the Management Department. Dean Coe has provided leadership for the School of Business since June 1978 during which time he was instrumental in the School becoming accredited by the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business. President Baker said that, although Dean Coe’s resignation was effective with the beginning of the Winter Quarter, he has agreed to serve as Acting Dean through the remainder of the academic year.

The University is currently recruiting for a new Dean for the School of Business. The Dean is responsible for providing academic leadership and administration of the instructional programs of the School through the currently organized departments of Accounting, Business Administration, Economics, and Management. There are 1,400 students and 52 full-time faculty.

A doctorate or equivalent in one of the specialty areas of the School is required. A strong background in business, a thorough knowledge of the principles and practices of higher education and management, and experience in university and college level instruction and administration are also required. Interested persons can apply by April 15 (or until filled) to: Tomlinson Fort Jr., Vice President for Academic Affairs.
