POLY ROYAL QUEEN CONTEST CLOSES TODAY AT NOON

Wilson Announces Extension
For Poly Royal Queen Petitions

Poly Royal Queen Committee Chairman Bruce Wilson announced the deadline for entering the queen contest has been extended until noon today. This is the last chance to nominate your favorite to be queen of Cal Poly’s 26th annual Poly Royal.

Petitions, consisting of a required number of student signatures and the candidate’s photograph, must be in the student body office by noon. Petitions may be obtained in the student body office or in any of the dormitories.

Any regularly married, unmarried (Cal Poly) with a 3.0 point or higher grade average eligibility to enter the contest. The queen and four princesses will be crowned during the Poly Royal Ball on April 28-29. They are also asked to make several public appearances on television, and will receive gifts and other honors.

A reception to choose the five finalists will be held January 31. All eligible candidates will be notified. Student body elections are scheduled for February 5-6, to vote for a queen. The remaining four candidates will serve as the royal court.

Students Warned
For Poor Conduct

Chandler verbally reprimanded two students this week for their uncomplimentary display of vulgar language and discourteous conduct during a Jan. 15 basketball game in Crandall Gym.

They had hoped to harass the coach and in turn his players. According to Ferber, funds from student activity cards are applied to dorm managers and dorm facilities and any funds that are left.

Applicants for dorm managers are to be received by the office of the Dean of Students, Counseling Center, or Housing Department. Dorm managers were there to clean and maintain, but there is more to the job than that. They help to ensure a comfortable setting for the residents. They are responsible for the dorm’s safety and security, and they are responsible for the dorm’s cleanliness and order.

A Proclamation

The week of February 23-28 is hereby proclaimed "Happiness in Life Week" for the San Luis Obispo campus of the California State Polytechnic College. "Learning by Doing" has long been the trademark of Cal Poly's philosophy of education and it should be just as meaningful in religious experience as in vocational and avocational pursuits. The observance of a non-sectarian "Happiness in Life Week" at Cal Poly especially appropriate on this residence campus which for ten months of the year is a college home for students of many races and faiths.

Bongio Gets Merit Award; Saves State $30,000 Yearly

A welding instructor here has been given a State Merit Award for a suggestion reported to save the State of California $30,000 annually.

Enrico P. Bongio has been honored for节约 a suggestion made by Cal Poly. The state purchases its own cylinders, and other groups to eliminate charges on vendor-owned cylinders. Demandez charges on cylinders are saved per year and the State saves a total of $30,000 by using regular gas in the steam plant and by taking advantage of spin-off cylinders.

Bongio made his suggestion March 15, 1960, and it was successfully tried by state inspectors at Valley City before the award was finally made.

This is not Bongio's first award. In 1962 he was given a state merit award at Hunter's Point Naval Shipyard last summer for a suggestion concerning the ventilation system in the printing section of the military facility.

Surgery Performed On Poly Printer

Printing Instructor Ed Howe underwent surgery at Franklin hospital in San Francisco Thursday. Howe became ill and was sent to the hospital last week after suffering from a blood clot and skin tissue from the left leg.

It was necessary to insert a new blood clot in the leg. The clot occurred under the left knee and for some time had been bothering him. By the time he was reported to be doing well and resting easily after the operation, it is expected he will be back to work by the end of the week.

The plot is believed to have been caused by an old injury incurred while in the air force.

Howe has had considerable experience in the printing and newspaper field, came to Cal Poly in 1956 and was the editor and publisher of a Wisconsin paper prior to that.

HILL STREAMLINES
Receipt System

El Corral Manager, Duke Hill, has put into operation a National Register cash control machine which takes the place of an old cash register and cuts the time needed to take out receipts in half. The machine involves the use of credit cards which are punched and inserted into a machine. The machine then records the amount of money paid in or to clubs and organizations. When money is taken out of the machine it is charged to the club's account. They also pay all bills and at the end of each month the club receives a statement showing all the money earned, the date and the name of the people who paid it in.
