Cal Poly will confer degrees and certificates on 2,866 candidates when it holds its 68th annual Commencement starting at 3:30 pm on Saturday (June 15) in Mustang Stadium.

That figure includes 181 candidates for master's degrees, 2,626 candidates for bachelor's degrees, and 33 candidates for certificates. Also included in the total are 26 candidates who will receive degrees with double majors.

By specific degrees, candidates to be honored on June 15 include 105 for the Master of Arts Degree, 8 for the Master of Engineering Degree, 52 for the Master of Science Degree, and 16 for the Master of Business Administration Degree. Also included are 2,200 for the Bachelor of Science Degree, 221 for the Bachelor of Arts Degree, 205 for the Bachelor of Architecture Degree, and 33 for the Two-Year Technical Certificate.

When divided among Cal Poly's seven academic schools, the bachelor's degree candidates for 1974 include 475 from Agriculture and Natural Resources, 345 from Architecture and Environmental Design, 358 from Business and Social Sciences, 238 from Communicative Arts and Humanities, 542 from Engineering and Technology, 334 from Human Development and Education, and 335 from Science and Mathematics.

President Robert E. Kennedy, who will confer the degrees, will also introduce California Governor Ronald Reagan, who will deliver the Commencement address. Music for the Commencement program will be provided by the Cal Poly's Men's Glee Club under the direction of Stanley A. Malinowski (Music) and the Symphonic Band directed by William V. Johnson (Music). Other commencement day activities planned on Saturday include the Senior Brunch, an initiation ceremony for new members of Phi Kappa Phi national honorary society, an ROTC commissioning ceremony, and the Senior Ball.

RETURN OF UNNEEDED COMMENCEMENT TICKETS URGED

Students, faculty, and staff who received Commencement tickets but have since found that they will not need all they were given are being urged to return them so they can be made available to others who may need them. B. R. Timone (Assistant to Dean of Students) said many seniors will be seeking additional tickets on Thursday (June 13) and other people who reside in this area, but are not members of the campus community, are hoping to get tickets when they become available to the public on Friday and Saturday (June 14 and 15).
PRESIDENT REPORTS ACTIONS ON ACADEMIC SENATE PROPOSALS

As is customary, President Robert E. Kennedy met last Friday with incoming and outgoing officers of the Academic Senate to discuss accomplishments of the Senate during the 1973-74 academic year. Among recommendations made by the Academic Senate and approved or endorsed by the president were:

1. Authorized half-time secretary for senate chairman during September through June.

2. Authorized 0.2 "assigned time" for chairmen of Personnel Review Committee and Curriculum Committee (latter not requested).

3. Established procedure for faculty evaluation of academic deans.

4. Established procedure for faculty evaluation of department heads.

5. Established consultative committee representing all segments of the university to review and recommend on proposed organizational changes.

6. Established consultative review committee to screen candidates (on and off campus) for Vice President for Academic Affairs, and submit a recommendation to President.

7. Appointed Acting Vice President for Academic Affairs until screening committee makes recommendation.

8. Broadened qualification requirements for Vice President for Academic Affairs.

9. Revised sabbatical leave provisions in CAM closely paralleling the Senate's recommendation.

10. Revised policy concerning the awarding of honors at graduation.

11. Forwarded resolution on California State University and Colleges system library cooperation to the Chancellor.

12. Directed that academic ranks be listed in the directory of faculty in the university catalog for 1975-77

13. Discontinued awarding diplomas at graduation in favor of issuing "certificates of participation."

President Kennedy also reviewed with the Senate officers six other recommendations which he had not endorsed at that time. He noted that three were not approved, two have been referred for additional consultation and recommendation and one is pending further information.

PHI KAPPA PHI WILL MEET

Corwin M. Johnson (Head, Crop Science) has announced that the graduating ceremony for members of the Phi Kappa Phi honors society will be held on Saturday (June 15) at 1 pm, in the Cal Poly Theatre.
HEALTH SERVICE WILL HOST TWO SEMINARS

The operation of health services for colleges, community colleges, and universities will be the subject of two summer seminars to be held in July at Cal Poly. The first, scheduled from Monday through Saturday (July 8-13) will investigate the broad field of health services for community colleges. The second, from Sunday through Saturday (July 14-20) will cover the management of university and college health services.

Dr. Billy W. Mounts (Director of Health Services) said the community college seminar is expected to assist nurses who direct community college health programs in acquiring skills in the development and operation of campus health programs. The seminar will cover such subjects as administration, campus health service relationships, human and personal relations, communications, college business practices, medical insurance, and clinical practices.

The seminar on college and university health services is intended to help campus health services directors to confront such problems as manpower shortages and the growing costs of providing health services for students.

Joining Dr. Mounts as speakers and resource persons for the seminars will be Dr. Lewis Barbato and Dr. E. Dean Lovett. Dr. Lovett is also serving as director of both workshops. Dr. Barbato has written a number of articles on student health services for professional journals. He is director of university health services and dean of student services at University of Denver. Dr. Lovett, who preceded Dr. Mounts by serving as director of student health services at Cal Poly from 1951-1962, served in a similar capacity at the University of Hawaii before retiring in 1964. He is also the author of many articles on student health services.

The seminars are sponsored by Cal Poly's Student Health Service with the cooperation of the American College Health Association and the Pacific Coast College Health Association.

POLY POMONA WILL ADMIT FRESHMEN WITHOUT MAJOR

For the first time in its 35-year history, California State Polytechnic University, Pomona will provide the opportunity for first-time-freshman students to enroll at the university without declaring a specific major area of study. Under the undeclared major program, persons entering Cal Poly, Pomona as freshmen may elect to postpone their choice of major until the end of their third quarter of classes. Transfer students from other colleges and universities, however, will still be required to select a major course of study at the time they apply for admission.

The change in the Cal Poly, Pomona declaration of major policy was adopted by the university following its faculty senate's evaluation of student needs. The results of the study convinced the senate that a program allowing freshman greater flexibility concerning their choice of major would benefit many students. Both students enrolled at Cal Poly and those who chose not to enroll because they were not ready to declare a major were considered by the university before the undeclared major status was approved.

ENGINEERS GO EAST TO ASEE CONFERENCE

Four present and former members of the engineering faculty of Cal Poly, are listed on the program for the 52nd annual conference of the American Society for Engineering Education, which will be held June 17-20 in Troy, NY. John B. Rapp (Electronic and Electrical Engineering) will address a session on the planning and implementation of teaching and learning innovations, and Archie Higdon (Retired Dean, School of Engineering and Technology) will be moderator for a session on the teaching of engineering mechanics.

Also scheduled to represent Cal Poly during the conference are Robert G. Valpey (Dean, School of Engineering and Technology) and James L. Meriam (Mechanical Engineering). Dr. Valpey will take part in deliberations of ASEE's Engineering Colleges Council and other committees, and Dr. Meriam will serve as program chairman for Mechanics Division activities.
WHO . . . WHAT . . . WHEN . . . WHERE ? ? ?

Frank J. Hendel (Aeronautical Engineering) was elected to the Council of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, Vandenberg Section, for the year 1974-75. He was installed as the AIAA officer on June 7.

Daniel E. Krieger (History) recently participated in a symposium on employment opportunities for history majors entitled, "So You Can't Teach History." The symposium, which dealt with alternative careers to teaching history in a job-tight market, was held at San Jose State University on May 11. It was sponsored by the San Jose chapter of Phi Alpha Theta (History Honor Society) and made possible by a grant from the Danforth Foundation. Dr. Krieger hopes that the Cal Poly History Club may offer a similar program with the assistance of the Danforth Foundation in the near future.
