MILLER ON ECOLOGY BANDWAGON

Donald G. Miller, candidate for the Fifth Supervisorial District, has endorsed his opinions on the campus issues for CFC's "Prospect."

Bill Pearce, moderator; Cynthia Kero, ASSIST news staff, and Malcolm Stone, Mustang Daily staff writer.

Miller said the issues in his campaign were "basically the need for human values over technology. They should be high local government as well as the national level."

He said his primary concern the environment. When asked what had done anything detrimental to the environment he said they had done a "good job" although they disregard with on land use plans.

Miller said the county superintendant's salary was "very nice." He said if elected he would be the first time a political office payed a large remuneration.

Miller has been campaigning hard to do and said many of his potential constituents are students who are concerned with environmental issues, students feel a high priority should go to human values," he said.

He described the controversy over the proposed freeway through the area of "important student interest." He said most of the people there living, working, or studying in the area were concerned and needed.

His position on county land use leaves him opposed to new freeways or urban developments on ranch lands.

Miller maintains a countywide public transportation system. He should be explored before any more freeways are built. He is in favor of the incorporated areas of the county joining with the supervisors to investigate and support public transportation.

He said in July a new city roads tax would go into effect. He said that "important to spend money on public transportation."

Miller is against new urban areas being developed on former ranch lands, because he thinks the developers only paid part of the costs and the taxpayers are stuck with the rest. He said new developments in rural areas require new roads, more police and fire services as well as new water facilities.

He said he is not opposed to developments in existing areas when they are planned and new sewer facilities already exist.

Miller also thinks taxpayers will benefit from consolidation of existing agencies and facilities. He said he has been in favor of the City and County of San Luis Obispo Consolidating tax assessment and collection agencies. The city and county had already happened, and it will Miller on ecology bandwagon.

Ken Manning, an architecture major here, was named an alternate delegate on Gov. Ronald Reagan's delegation to the Republican National Convention in San Diego, pledged to Pres. Richard Nixon.

Manning was elected Southern Vice President of the California Young Republicans at their convention in San Francisco this month.

The delegation is 14 percent youth.

Recently the California College Republicans sponsored a debate between Emmons Blake and Keith Garyes.

Blake made a very good point when he questioned student voting on bond issues which won't be paid off for 30 years. I plan on leaving San Luis Obispo next year. I don't own property and I agree with Blake. I should not be San Luis Obispo to some idealistic bond issue I won't be around to pay off.

We've heard a lot of talk about the youth bloc vote. My observation is that if we vote as some kind of bloc it will be an emotional and uninformed vote on the issues facing the city, county, state and nation.

Students at Congressman Burt Talcott's first visit to the campus this fall were concerned about why he didn't visit the campus more often for rep sessions with students. When he returned last month a small group of about fifteen students took time to speak with him. We have representatives who want to listen, but unless they do something they cannot hear us.

Dave meet Walter. ... Besides the restrictions that would be imposed by this assumption of power over broadcast news by Congress, our freedoms also are curtailed or endangered by intimidation and harassment. There are the pressures exerted by high government officials who suggest that if we don't put our houses in order (that is, report the news the way they would like it reported) then... perhaps it's time that the networks were made more responsive to the views of the public and more responsive to the people they serve...—Walter Cronkite, CBS news commentator, before the Senate Subcommittees on Constitutional Rights, Sept. 30, 1971.

"As for intimidation by our critics, there is none that I know of. Anyone who can't stand criticism should not go into journalism...I think of the way they would Ika It reported...who can't stand criticism should not go into politics...So, In... intimidation by critics is not a serious problem."—David Winiksky, NBC newscaster, before the Senate Subcommittees on Constitutional Rights, Oct. 19, 1973.

Poster contest for La Fiesta promotion

If you have artistic and creative abilities and would like to put them to good use, this may be your chance. La Fiesta is coming up sooner than you think, and the planning committee for the event is sponsoring a poster contest.

Anyone may design a poster. The winning poster used to advertise and promote La Fiesta must represent the theme, "Two Centuries Toward Tomorrow," and include the words, "La Fiesta 72" and "San Luis Obispo 1772-1972."

Contestants may enter one of three categories: young people up to and including age 13, persons age 13 through high school, and anyone out of high school.

Entries are limited to three colors, including the background color, and must be on poster board 14 inches by 22 inches. Entries must be delivered to the Chamber of Commerce Office at 1019 Cherlo by 5 p.m. on March 17. The name of the contestant should be on the reverse side of the entry, making sure that tape or opaque paper covers the lettering.

Posters will be judged by a committee selected by the La Fiesta Board of Directors and savings bonds of $25 each will be awarded to winners in each of the three categories.

The person who designs the poster to become the official poster of La Fiesta will receive a $100 savings bond. Runners-up in all categories will also receive prizes.

An electrifying lecture slated

Linear and digital integrated circuits— if you don’t know what they are, the Institute of Electronic and Electric Engineers is giving you a chance to find out.

Three separate seminars will cover the history, manufacturing and application of integrated circuits Thursday in Chumash Hall. Robert Rieka, manager of technical assistance for Fairchild Semiconductor Products, Inc. will conduct the lectures.

The history and manufacturing processes of integrated circuits will be discussed at 1:10 p.m. At 2:10 p.m. the discussion will center around the application of digital integrated circuits. Linear integrated circuits will be focused on at 3:10 p.m.

Cagers topple Toreros

John Parker hit four points in the last three seconds to give the Mustangs a narrow 84-82 win over the University of San Diego.

Parker’s first two points broke the tie, giving the locals one of their few leads of the evening. San Diego’s inbound pass hit the ceiling, giving the ball back to the Mustangs. Parker was then fouled on the inbound offense, giving the ball back to the University of San Diego.

Lowndes and Randy Genung sank his two charity shots, to assure victory.

Parker’s first two points broke while Lowndes added 12 and top scoring honors with 23 a piece sparked a second stanza battle to wipe out USD’s lead.

Jackson and Jennings shared top scoring honors with 31 a piece while Lowndes added 11 and Genung, 10.
